

PR3

You know, I'm sure this was meant to come out a lot sooner. But hey, it's still 5 sleeps to the convention so it's not really too late.

We have booked hotel rooms for all the people who have requested them of us, written a programme book and nailed down the programme (attached separately so you can open it up in a tablet or phone if desired), liaised with increasingly excited guests and started to collate bags of stuff that we mustn't forget to take to the con.

Getting to the convention

A12 junction 25, follow the signs towards Stanway

Trains from London Liverpool Street to Mark's Tey and then walk – 15 minutes-ish if you take the official footbridge over the A12, 10 minutes-ish if you follow the road and run across the on/off ramps to the A12. If you are travelling by train on the Saturday or Sunday please note that there are engineering works on the line and a bus replacing the train some of the time, making the journey take around an hour longer.

Arriving at the hotel

Check-in for hotel rooms is from 2pm. Tech set up is from around 3.30pm. Registration will open at 5pm in the bar area, moving upstairs to outside the Balkan suite at 7pm.

Opening ceremony

This is at 7.30pm. Please pay careful attention to timings of programme items the rest of the weekend as they are highly eccentric.

The Main Concert

There will be a sign-up sheet for the main concert at the registration desk and then in the Dealer's Room until we break for lunch on Saturday.

Tech support

We would appreciate people willing to provide tech support (both stage management and desk running) to let us know and sign up on the sheet at registration and then the tech desk. There is a workshop on Saturday covering both skillsets.

The Filk Fund Auction

If you have something to contribute to the Filk Fund auction, don't forget to bring it along! Your wallets and an insatiable appetite for chocolate are also useful things to bring into the auction with you.

Freecycle table

We will also have a Freecycle table for you to bring things to that need a new home but are not auction-worthy. Bear in mind that if nobody takes it then we would like you to take it away again at the end of the con.

Dealers' room

The Dealers' Room will be in the lobby outside the main programme room. A fine selection of CDs, songbooks, and other items will be available for sale.

Restaurants

Food options in the area are many and varied and detailed in the programme book. Some are walkable.

Convention policies

We have official policies on recording, photography and conduct. These can be found in the Programme Book on arrival, but the common element is to be considerate of other con attendees.

Conclusion

Soooooo exciting it's almost here OMG what have we forgotten to do.....!!!!

See you at the con!
