BOSKONE GUESTS

GUEST OF HONOR

Vernor Vinge, retired San Diego State University Professor of Mathematics and computer scientist, is a Hugo Award-winning science fiction author. His best known works include A Fire Upon the Deep (1992), A Deepness in the Sky (1999), Rainbows End (2006), "Fast Times at Fairmont High" (2002), "The Cookie Monster" (2004), and "True Names" (1981), as well as his 1993 essay "The Coming Technological Singularity."

OFFICIAL ARTIST

Lisa Snellings wowed Boskone 32's attendees with her merry-go-round sculpture This Wheel Too, Goes Round. A Gaughan Award and Chesley Award winner, Lisa's sometimes disquieting and macabre artworks reflect her background in biology and pathology. Her images and sculptures are the bases for collaborative projects with authors such as Neil Gaiman, Gene Wolfe, and Charles de Lint.

SPECIAL GUEST

John Hertz is a fan's fan. His fanzine Vanamonde has appeared weekly in APA-L for more than 1000 issues. Topics he writes about include art shows, costuming and masquerades, fanzines, and SF authors and their works. His Boskone 50 participation will include teaching Regency Dance, leading discussions of SF novels, and giving out Hall Costume awards. A conversation with John is an experience everyone should have—and can!

FEATURED MUSICIAN

Heather Dale, Canadian recording artist and touring musician, writes songs for “modern dreamers”: witty, fun-loving, imaginative people who aren't afraid to be different. Heather's original songs tap into legends, mythology, history, and fantasy. For more info about her, see <http://heatherdale.com>.

NESFA GUESTS

NESFA PRESS GUEST

Jerry Pournelle, contributor to the NESFA Press book The Mathematics of Magic: The Enchanter Stories of de Camp and Pratt, is a prominent science fiction and tech writer, perhaps best known for his Chaos Manor magazine columns and weblog writings. Jerry is also a long-time science fiction fan, active in the Los Angeles Science Fantasy Society (LASFS).

HAL CLEMENT SCIENCE SPEAKER

Jordin Kare was Boskone 37's Featured Filker. He returns to Boskone 50 as guest in his guise of laser expert and rocket scientist, designer of not only laser space-propulsion systems, but also automatic mosquito-zapping lasers.

ABOUT NESFA & NESFA PRESS

NESFA®, the New England Science Fiction Association, does much more than run Boskones. NESFA owns and operates the NESFA Clubhouse at 504 Medford Street in Somerville, MA, which contains meeting space, the NESFA library, and NESFA Press books for sale. Each month, NESFA holds both formal and informal meetings, and occasional events, at the Clubhouse and off site. Formal meetings occur monthly on Sunday afternoons. Most Wednesday evenings see people socializing at the Clubhouse, or mixing work on NESFA projects with gaming, and reading/borrowing/returning NESFA Library books and DVDs. Our web site at www.nesfa.org contains information about NESFA activities and our upcoming events schedule. Our phone number at the Clubhouse is (617) 625-2311. We welcome visitors and prospective new members.

NESFA's other main project is NESFA Press, which publishes hardbound editions of work by such classic science fiction writers as Poul Anderson, Lois McMaster Bujold, Zenna Henderson, Cordwainer Smith, William Tenn, and Roger Zelazny.

NESFA Press is pleased to announce its latest book in the NESFA Choice Series, Door to Anywhere: Volume 5 of the Collected Short Works of Poul Anderson. This book, and NESFA Press's previous four volumes of Poul Anderson's works, will be available at the NESFA Press table in the Hucksters' Room, along with many other NESFA Press books.

NESFA Press will celebrate the publication of Door to Anywhere with a book launch party during Boskone, at 3 PM on Saturday in front of the Hucksters' Room. There will be a large cake. Please come join us!
