AUTHOR GUEST OF HONOR

JIM C. HINES

MINICON52

BY RICK SNYDER

Jim Hines is THAT Jim Hines. No, not the Olympic medal winner from the late 70's or the Ob/Gyn running for Governor of Michigan (who is trying to unseat incumbent Rick Snyder - who is not me). THAT Jim Hines. The one who went viral with his gender-switched recreations of sci/fantasy book covers. The BEST Jim Hines, as far as we're concerned.

A lifelong Michigander, Jim has been published numerous times: over 50 short stories, 12 novels, and over 500 (by his count) rejections. His first novel, Goblin Quest, was described by Joss Whedon as "Too fing cool for words." Not a bad start!

Within those novels are a trilogy about the aforementioned goblin and his pet fire spider, a four book series about princesses which has been described as "Charlie's Angels as a Grimm's Fairy Tale", and a four book series about a magic-wielding librarian from northern Michigan.

His current series about a group of space janitors and plumbers trying to save the universe from apocalypse(!) begins with Terminal Alliance, due out in November of this year.

His writing has been nominated for and won several awards, including the 2012 Hugo Award for Best Fan Writer. However, Jim is quick to stress that he has often learned more from rejection than success. Not that he doesn't appreciate his achievements, but becoming a better writer involves a considering a lot of criticism and growth, and nothing gets you more self-reflection than a series of refusals.

The Hugo Award was in direct acknowledgement of his work generating attention and discussion around the portrayals of women on the covers of sci/fantasy books. Originally a blog post, it soon snowballed into several other blog posts and eventually a calendar that raised over $15,000 for Aicardi Syndrome Foundation.

With a degree in Psychology and a Masters in English, he has made a life with his wife, 2 children, and 2 cats. His wife and children seem supportive and tolerant of his obsession with writing. The cats, however, are openly disdainful and frequently spend their time trying to dissuade him towards more constructive efforts like petting them

SCIENTIST GUEST OF HONOR

BROTHER GUY CONSOLMAGNO

MINICON⁵²

BY TOM HOGAN

Brother Guy Consolmagno was born in Detroit and received his BA and MA at MIT and then his Doctorate at the University of Arizona.

After spending years as a working researcher and astronomer, a “voice of conscience” made him wonder why he was “wasting my time doing astronomy when people are starving.” He made the decision to join the Peace Corps. While he was serving in Kenya, he not only discovered that he loved teaching, but that “people in Africa are curious about the stars too.”

He joined the Society of Jesus (also known as the Jesuits), took his vows as a brother, and was assigned as an astronomer to the Vatican Observatory and curator of the Vatican Meteorite collection.

In September 2015, he was named by Pope Francis to be the Director of the Vatican Observatory.

His research is centered on meteoroids and asteroids. He travels between the Vatican’s meteorite collection in Gandolfo, Italy and the Vatican’s telescope on Mt. Graham near Tucson, Arizona with scientific adventures to Antarctica and other places. In 2000, the International Astronomical Union named an asteroid (4597 Consolmagno) after him. Its nickname is “Little Guy.” On July 2, 2014, he was awarded the Carl Sagan Medal for “outstanding communication by an active planetary scientist to the general public” by the American Astronomical Society.

He is the author or co-author of eight books. His book on basic astronomy, Turn Left at Orion: Hundreds of Night Sky Objects to See in a Home Telescope - and How to Find Them has sold over 100,000 copies and is one of the most popular astronomy books of all time.

He has also written several books on the relationship of faith and science, such as God’s Canvas, God’s Mechanics, and Would You Baptize an Extraterrestrial?

He has appeared at a wide variety of venues; from science fiction conventions, to scientific symposiums, NPR shows and the Colbert Report, all to have informed and informative discussions about his reverence for science and faith.

As part of the Vatican’s science outreach, Guy has been a guest of many sci-fi conventions over the years and considers himself “pretty much a nerd,” so he should fit right in with us.

Guy will be very busy all weekend with various panels, so there will be lots of opportunities to hear from him.

MARK OSHIRO

BY TANYA BRODY

Have you ever wanted to experience your favorite book, movie or television show for the first time, again?

If you do, Mark Oshiro is your enabler.

Mark Does Stuff. Specifically, Mark Reads your favorite books, and Mark Watches your favorite TV shows. He records these experiences, as YouTube videos or written commentary and shares them with his audience.

This gives you the opportunity to look over Mark’s shoulder and experience your favorite stories, for the first time, through his eyes. You can watch (or read) as he analyzes the text, pours out his soul on his blog or laughs, cries or yells at the camera. Mark mixes humor, critique and a sense of wonder, to give you a new appreciation for your old favorites.

Here’s what he does in his own words from a 2012 interview with The Daily Dot:

“I’ve learned to distill it down to one sentence, which is: I run an online book club where I’m the only person who’s never read the book. Everyone else knows it, and they’re watching someone else discover a fictional world. It’s a celebration of fandom, and I like the idea of saying, ‘Hey, let’s have this space where we can not only enjoy the experience of reading a book, but actually talk about all the different things that it brings up, either intentionally or unintentionally, and lots of subtext.’”

Mark started this wonderful journey in 2009, when he posted reviews of Twilight on Buzznet.

He hated the series. But his wry sense of humor and scathing comments connected with a lot of people and grew an enthusiastic audience for him. From there, he moved on to the Harry Potter series, which he loved.

Since then, he has expanded his reading to cover over 50 books and added television to his repertoire. He didn’t watch television much as a kid, so for him, it really is a whole new experience.

Mark has made “Doing Stuff” into a full-time career. He spends his days reading and watching. He lectures regularly, does readings and appears as a Guest of Honor at science fiction conventions. Topics range from his own work, to work he’s read or watched, to racism, the Queer experience and inclusion and representation, to poverty and homelessness, and more.

Mark has been nominated for a Hugo award in the Fan Writer category in 2013 and 2014. He has written several articles for different magazines and collections, including Uncanny Magazine and Indivisible. He was the non-fiction editor of Queers Destroy Science Fiction and the co-editor of Speculative Fiction 2015.

He has also just sold his first book. His YA novel will be coming out for all of us to experience for the first time, very soon.

CINEMA OBSCURA

MINICON52

We begin with a few items that have graced Cinema Obscura's silver screen before, which not only dovetail nicely with Arcana 47 (shameless plug), but proved popular with Minicon audiences. Cinema Obscura will also host Minicon 40 Guests of Honor, Steve Fastner & Rich Larson, as they return to Minicon with a presentation of some choice film trailers which made them the warped individuals they profess to being. And to round things out, some rarely seen gems from “across the pond” (TBA). Happy viewing!

If you have an announcement or correction to make, or you'd like to contribute a review or personal note to the Bozo Bus, you can just write it up and drop it in the Submissions Box outside the BBT Office, located in the Normandale Room at the far end of the Grand Ballroom Foyer. Submissions can also be mailed to bbt@minicon52.mnstrf.org.

HOW'S YOUR SQUEE?

Minicon is a place to get your squee on. It's a time for strange friends and friendly strangers, marvels and wonders, interesting conversations, fascinating objects, and lots of fun. Few things destroy fun faster than having someone not take "no" for an answer. Here's the thing: you have the right to say "no." No to a conversation, no to an activity, no to a beverage, no to anything that interferes with your own, personal squee. The ability to say yes to fun includes the ability to say no to not-fun. But sometimes...sometimes people don't respect your "no," and sometimes, you feel as if you can't say "no" directly to the person harshing your squee. In those cases, we will try to help.

If you need help with a problem where someone is violating our Code of Conduct (see below), or not taking your "no" for an answer, PLEASE feel free to call us at (612) 408-1060, and we will try to help. This phone is answered all day and most of the night. If we don't answer, leave a voice mail message, or text, and we will respond as soon as we can. We will work with you to find a solution that lets you go back to full-on squee.

MUSIC

Minicon 52 will have its usual exceptional group of musicians playing concerts, as well as less formal, open music circles. Minicon music is special —and often spontaneous, and whether you are new here or a regular, you are in for a treat. Concerts will be in the Music Room (Bloomington), with open music happening afterwards. Look for the concert schedules posted just outside.

MEDALLION HUNT

My fellow Bozos. In times of numerous difficult challenges in our country and in many of our lives, when the political climate is choppy and the numerous battles being waged are tumultuous, we all need something constant to hold onto to let us know things are going to be ok. With the many events of 2016, when George R.R. Martin took so many dear friends from us, we could all use something that brings us together in common cause- admittedly this probably isn't that, rather, one heck of a distraction;) The good news is that the twelfth annual Minicon Medallion Hunt is on! J (Jason Spitzer) your still somewhat newly elected-ish? Game Keeper will return with harder clues and even worse jokes! For official rules of the Medallion Hunt, please see the first issue of the BBT at Minicon. Have a great con, everyone!

Hold The Door. Hold The Door! - J

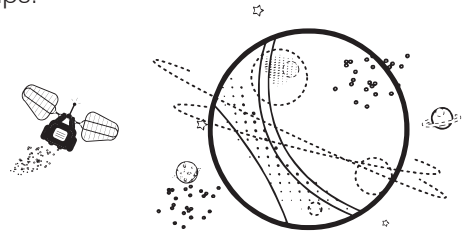

I'm stout, I'm tall. Where I stand, I stand for all.

THE NEXT GENERATION

The Next Generation is a place for teens to play board games, watch movies, and just hang out with other teens at Minicon. We have a lot of different board games, movies, and fun events at night for everyone.

SCIENCE ROOM

Come see how to transform Science FICTION into Science FACT and try your hand at landing the space shuttle. Visit the Minicon Science room Ballroom West and view hard science exhibits from many groups.

RUMPUS ROOM

The Rumpus Room is our place for kids programming, craftiness, toys, games and other fun stuff. There will be ongoing activities all weekend such as:

- Scientific measuring
- Lock-picking
- Cardboard Castles
- Coloring
- Marble Maze
- Puppet Stage
- Rumpus Market

Note: Programming for the Rumpus Room is listed with no end times; they go as long as the presenter and participants wish. Since we will be in the Edina Room, there will be plenty of space for more than one activity to be running at a time.

POLICIES

Minicon occurs in a hotel, which is part of a city, county, state, and country. All rules and laws imposed by these larger entities apply, even though being at Minicon can make you feel out of this world!

Weapons: Prop weapons or costume pieces must be secured and pose no danger to others. We reserve the right to prohibit any such items from our function rooms. And remember: You kill it, you eat it.

Smoking: FYI for out-of-towners, Minnesota is smoke-free in all public places, but there are designated smoking areas outside.

Harassment: If you need help with a problem where someone is violating our Code of Conduct (see below), or not taking “no” for an answer, call us at (612) 408-1060, and we will help find a solution. This phone is answered all day and most of the night. If we don’t answer, leave a voice mail message or text, and we’ll respond as soon as we can.

Emergencies: In case of an emergency threatening life or limb, please call 911!

CODE OF CONDUCT

Minn-stf acknowledges that interpersonal relationships in social settings are complex. Not everyone likes everyone else, and not everyone agrees with everyone else. Disagreements, friction, and vigorous debate are expected. However, interactions that become hostile or coercive do not have any part in a healthy social environment and Minicon commits to addressing problem behaviors.

Harassment is difficult to define, and attempts at an exact definition are subject to rules-lawyering, so we won’t attempt to do that. However, repeated unwelcome behaviors are mostly likely to be construed as harassment. If someone asks you not to touch them, not to talk to them, or not to refer to them in a way that they find objectionable, and you persist in doing so, you may be harassing them. Actions that are sufficiently egregious (assault, truly hateful language, and comparable actions) fall under this policy, even if only one occurrence has been noted. In the end, harassment is judged primarily by the person who feels harassed, and actions are more important than intent.

If you tell someone to stop something you see as harassing behavior and they don’t, you may tell us. If you don’t feel comfortable telling someone to stop harassing behaviour, you may also tell us. We want to make sure everyone is heard so that together we can make Minicon a healthy, fun, enjoyable experience for everyone.

Code of Conduct Responders can be reached at 612-408-1060.

WHAT IS MNSTF?

It's the Minnesota Science Fiction Society, variously abbreviated MnStf, Minn-STF, MN-STF, and other variants. It's the non-profit group that brings you Minicon. Each year, the MNSTF board of directors approves the next Minicon chairperson and looks after the continuing needs of the convention.

Minstf does more than just Minicon. It also runs a small convention each year in the fall, mainly for the purpose of having something like Minicon, but without all that pesky programming and stress. This sort of convention is known in fannish circles as a relaxicon or a fallcon. Ours changes name frequently.

Besides running conventions, Minnstf's major activity is holding two parties (officially known as "meetings") per month, generally at members' homes. It's possible that you find the idea of showing up at a new person's home uninvited a little intimidating, but guess what? ... You're invited!

These meetings involve copious conversation, food, dinner expeditions, games, music, knitting, or all of the above. Meeting locations are published in MnstF's monthly newsletter, Einblatt, available at mnstf.org/einblatt. You can also sign up for our events and discussion mailing lists at mnstf.org.

We usually also have a couple of special meetings: the picnic and the pool party. The pool party is held in the winter, the picnic is in July. Check Einblatt for details.

How do you become a member of MnStf? It's easy! If you attend a meeting, you're a member. If you sign in at seven meetings in a year, you become a voting member for that year and can help choose the Minn-Stf board.

And, as always, remain calm.

VOLUNTEER!

Minicon is entirely volunteer-run. No one is paid for helping; even the convention chairs and all the department heads pay full price for their memberships. This keeps our membership rates down, but also means that we need your help. Think of Minicon like a big party: some of us are hosting the party, but we're all in it together.

How to help out? Well, if you see something that needs doing—a programming room that needs more chairs, the art show staff needs a break, or consuite needs some prep help—jump in! If you're not sure how, ask the nearest person who seems to know what's going on.

If everyone pitches in, the convention will run very smoothly. There will be a sign-up sheet at the registration desk. Here's a chance to use your mad skills!

MNSTF EVENTS

MINICON52

EINBLATT!

Einblatt! is the monthly events calendar of Minn-StF. It attempts to inform people of conventions, meetings, an other fannish events taking place in or related to the Twin Cities fannish community.

THE MNSTF PICNIC

The summer Mnstf picnic will be Saturday, July 15, 2017, at Minnehaha Park, Picnic Area #2, Minneapolis (same place as the last several years). We start around noon, and continue until dark, perhaps 8pm. Snacks and beverages will be provided. There'll be a grill going throughout the day; bring your own grilling items. As is customary at MNstf "meetings", there will be game playing. Besides table and board games, expect to see outdoor games such as croquet, bocce ball and frisbee. We are right next to the horseshoe pit, so if you have a set of horseshoes and like to play, bring them. Dogs are welcome, but the park requires that they be kept on leash. The picnic area is between Nawadaha Blvd and Godfrey Pkwy.

Decongestant 2

October 6-8, 2017

Decongestant is Minnstf's other con in 2017!

We expect it to be a relaxing weekend with about 3/4 of a track of light programming, possibly with a little bit of heavy programming mixed in.

We'll have a teen room, lots of gaming, a well-stocked consuite (and one or two organized meals), music, art, a craft swap, and whatever else you bring to it.

Where is it?

The Hilton Bloomington, 3900 American Blvd West (by France, not the other Hilton Bloomington). We were there last year, and it was great.

Register!

Pre-register at mnstf.org/decongestant2 by Sept 17. Or mail in the form on the website, or you can send the usual info to Minnstf, PO Box 8297, Minneapolis MN 55408. Pre-reg is $50 ($40 if need be), $10 under 21, free under 13. More details on the website.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO?

Minicon is a members-driven non-profit con. Our goal is to bring the community together for an enjoyable and possibly even educational experience, not to make the most money or to get the most people, although we take more people showing up as a good sign. We all chip in our membership fees so that there's enough to run this thing and to support our parent organization, Mnstf. If we end up with a profit after that, it means we overcharged. We make a concerted effort to hold the rates low and run a frugal con. We want you to know where your money goes, and we want to hear whether you think it's being spent well.

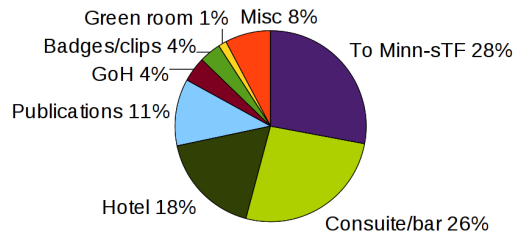

MINICON 51 FINANCES

Minicon 51 returned more money to Mn-StF than projected, primarily because of an unexpectedly low hotel bill and GoH expenses being much lower than the initial projection.
