From the ConChair

Tom Whitmore

chair@conjose.org

We're different from a lot of other organizations. The people who put on conventions, publish fanzines, hang out on rec.arts.sf.fandom (RASSF) or other fannish mailing lists, make costumes, sing filk or do any of the other things that make us fans are people who tend to make their own fun rather than expecting to be entertained. This shows up in the fact that we sell memberships in our convention, rather than tickets to our events. It's a subtle difference, but an important one. It's because of this that I think of us as a community, working together. That community aspect, and a desire to hold on to our history, is why Kevin Standlee is listed so prominently on our committee list — we wouldn't be holding this convention if not for his long service and hard work as bid committee chair.

Two people that did a lot to build parts of our community died recently.

Most of you know the work of Gordon R. Dickson as an author in our field. He wrote some of the more important books, won awards, and had lots of fans. You may not know that Gordy was one of the mainstays of Midwest fandom, always ready to talk with new people, incredibly approachable and a great builder of community. You could find him at the bar, at a filk, or after a panel and have a wonderful conversation — he was interested and interesting.

Peggy Kennedy was a lot less well known, but every bit as much a community builder. Totally straightforward with what she thought, a master costumer and costume judge, author of the first manual on how to run convention masquerades, winner of the Seniors Tournament on Jeopardy, Peggy was always willing to share advice and experiences with anyone who was willing to meet her on her own level. She cared about fans and fandom, and was working on a fantasy novel when she died.

Both of them brought people into our community, and helped them figure out where they might fit. Their legacy includes the idea that we can play together and learn from each other. That's a legacy I hope we honor at ConJose. We will certainly bring together many groups of people and give them the chance to play!

Hotels

Dave Gallaher & Nancy Cobb

facilities@conjose.org

We currently have signed contracts with three of our primary hotels, and are in negotiations with the remaining two. Our party hotel will be the Fairmont Hotel, where we have negotiated a corkage waiver. Hotel reservation forms will be available early in 2002. Reservations will be through the San Jose Convention and Visitor Bureau's Convention Housing Bureau. Information on suites will be available in PR 3 or 4.

Additional Site and Hotel Info

The San José McEnery Convention Center contains over 425,000 square feet of function space with 143,000 sq ft of column-free exhibit space divisible into three parts, a 22,000 sq ft ballroom, and up to 30 meeting rooms. There are 12 loading bays with drive-on access to the exhibit space, complete A/V, sound and lighting services, cellular, standard, and ISDN telephony services and fiber-optic and copper cabling providing DS-3 high-speed Internet access throughout the building.

The hotels nearest the facility are the San José Hilton (which is attached to the convention center), the San José Holiday Inn, the Hyatt Sainte Claire, the San José Hyatt, the Fairmont, the Hotel de Anza, and the San José Best Western Inn. Approximate distances from the McEnery to the hotels are as follows:

Hilton: 157 yards or via the 'airlock' 6 yards
Holiday Inn: 155 yards
Hyatt Sainte Claire: 179 yards
Hyatt: 222 yards
Fairmont: 525 yards
Hotel de Anza: 821 yards
Best Western Inn: 822 yards

Dealer's Room And Art Show

Michael Siladi

dealers@conjose.org
& artshow@conjose.org

At this point in time, we do not have any information on dealer's room table or art show flat rates. We will announce them closer to the convention. We are still busy working on details of the exhibition space and we don't expect to start selling space for some months yet.

If you intend to reserve space in the dealers' room and have not already let us know about this, please write to me at dealers@conjose.org. I, or one of my staff, will be in touch as soon as we have any information.

If you intend to reserve space in the art show and have not already let us know about this, please write to me at artshow@conjose.org. I, or one of my staff, will be in touch as soon as we have any information.

If you are planning to attend ConJose and have not yet bought your membership I recommend doing so as early as possible. Membership rates will go up as we get nearer to the start of the convention, and will probably be around $200 at the door.

Yet another in the continuing adventures of our illustrious Guest of Honor:

It was Ferdinand Feghoot who, in 3312, first proved that fish were highly intelligent and that men could converse with them. He was accorded the honor of signing the ensuing Treaty of Peace, Amity, Commerce, and Navigation - which was also endorsed by an imposing elderly shark.

"I spent seventeen months eavesdropping on fish conversations and analyzing their language," he told reporters after the ceremony. "Then I slipped overboard with my skin-diving gear, and asked for their leader. They took me to the Generalissimo here, and I'll never forget my first sight of him, completely at ease in the lovely blue water, with that busy little fish hovering right by his head all the time. He received me most courteously in spite of my abominable accent. Why, he was so polite and so tactful that it was almost a week before I realized that he is as deaf as a post."

"But - how could he understand you?" asked the reporters.

"That's simple," said Ferdinand Feghoot. "The little fish is his herring aide."

Reprinted from THE COLLECTED FEGHOOT, by Reginald Bretnor (Pulphouse Publishing, 1992), with permission of Fred Flaxman, owner of the Reginald Bretnor Literary Estate, who can be reached at: fflaxman@us-it.net

Normally in an article for a Worldcon progress report, we'd feature a photograph of our guest of honor... but there's nothing "normal" about Ferdinand Feghoot. With him, we have a dilemma. Due to all of his roaming through time and space, having adventures here, saving galaxies there... we don't have a photograph, or drawing, or anything, of Feghoot. (The photo of him as a Cub Scout that was posted on the Internet doesn't count.)

But a representation of our Imaginary Guest of Honor must appear in our publications somewhere. So, it is our pleasure to announce:

The Ferdinand Feghoot Representation Contest!

All knowledge is contained in fandom... including, presumably, what Feghoot looks like. We want you to send us a drawing, photograph, oil painting, hologram, sculpture, solidio, feelie, somewhere that represents our GoH in all his glory.

Our rules, so far:

1) The artwork must prominently feature Ferdinand Feghoot.

2) The artwork must be capable of being displayed at the convention and reproduced in some manner in our publications.

3) The deadline for entries is April 2, 2002. (Tentatively).

More rules will surely follow.

Prizes and declarations of fame and honor for the winner will be announced later. Address inquiries to:

Feghoot Contest, ConJose, P.O. Box 61363, Sunnyvale, CA, USA, 94088-1363

Or e-mail to feghoot@conjose.org. Watch this space for further developments!

Programming

Linda McAllister programming@conjose.org

ConJosé will have the quality and range of programming you've come to expect from a WorldCon, aimed at encouraging the exchange of information and ideas relating to the general field of science fiction and related speculative fiction among our members. Look for more details on our web site after the 2001 WorldCon.

Aministration

Tony Cratz

admin@conjose.org

One of the joys in planning a convention is looking at all of the different positions that are required to run a convention and trying to decide if they can be combined into what makes sense as a department, and then which division the department belongs in.

When I was asked to be the head of the Admin Division, I looked at what a number of conventions had done with their staff. I saw that there were a number of webmasters, E-mail managers, registration database programmers, programming databases and so on, but they were not combined into one department where those with the best skills in any given area can be used the most effectively.

Most of us that work in the high-tech industries know of the IT department and how they work. I decided to carry that same idea over into ConJosé. So ConJosé has an IT Department which handles all of the needs for computers, web service, E-mail and anything else where we need to provide similar skills to the rest of the convention. With ConJosé being in the heart of the Silicon Valley, finding people with the skills to fill the positions has been easy and a joy.

PR 3 Deadlines and Ad Rates

Bob & Brenda Daverin

pubs@conjose.org

We are planning on putting out PR 3 in November of 2001. If you would like to place an ad, the deadline for reservations will be October 15, and the ad copy deadline is October 31. We are also soliciting artwork for PR 3. If you'd like to submit something, you may contact us at pubs@conjose.org or through the convention's PO Box.

This is the basic ad rate chart for PR 3. Rates are in US dollars, and may be subject to change. If you have any questions about rates not shown here, please let us know. (Note: Semi-Pro is defined in the same way as the Semi-Pro Zine category in the Hugo Awards.)

Size	Fan	Semi-Pro	Pro
1/4 page	$30	60	90
1/2 page	$50	100	150
Full page	$100	175	250
Inside Cover	$200	275	350

And, on an organizational note, we are always looking for people to help us out and would love to hear from you.

Masquerade

Pierre & Sandy Pettinger

costumrs@radiks.net

Hi! We're Pierre and Sandy Pettinger, your ConJose Masquerade Directors. We're still early in the process of planning the Masquerade, but wanted to let you know a few things.

First, enter! If you're nervous, don't be. If you think you can't do this, you can! We felt the same way when we started competing back in 1983, and we're not unknown in this hobby now.

Second, there will be pre-registration. However, we will hold a number of places open for those who decide at the last minute. Keep in mind however that registering in advance will mean you will get any information and allows time for any special requests. If you're not sure, pre-register. You can always tell us later if for some reason you can't make it.

If you would like to contact us you may reach us at the convention address or via email at costumrs@radiks.net.

The Way to San Jose – Planning Your Trip to ConJosé

Kevin Standlee

San José is located in Northern California about fifty miles (eighty kilometers) south of San Francisco. Three major airports serve the area. San Jose also is served by short- and long-distance rail services, and it is located at the junction of several major freeways. The McEnery Convention Center is right in Downtown San José. More detailed travel instructions will appear in a later progress report and on our web site. Here is brief summary of your options.

San José International Airport (SJC, www.sjc.org) is about three miles (5 km) from downtown San Jose. If you intend to travel by air we recommend SJC, even if it means changing planes. SJC is rarely subject to delays, and you will not have to spend ages getting from the airport to your hotel. SJC is served by most major US airlines, but it has fewer direct flights than San Francisco International (SFO) and very few international services.

The other major local airports are San Francisco International (SFO, www.flysfo.com) and Oakland International (OAK, www.flyoakland.com). Both are about 30-40 miles (50-65 km) from San José. There are a variety of ways of getting from either airport to San José. You can rent a car, use a door-to-door shuttle van, or use scheduled bus services. The local rail services are Caltrain (from SFO) or BART (from OAK). Both require some use of connecting buses.

San José's main railroad station is Diridon, located about one mile (about 1.6 km) from the Convention Center. The Caltrain service from San Francisco and the ACE service from Stockton stop there, as do Amtrak's services from Sacramento, Los Angeles and Seattle. Passengers from the East must change trains at Emeryville (near Oakland), leaving the Chicago train for a local service to San Jose. Taxis and a (weekday) shuttle service connect Diridon to the downtown hotels and the Convention Center.

San José is on US 101, one of the main north-south highways on the West Coast. The Convention Center and downtown area are located just off Interstate 280 (which branches from US 101 a few miles from downtown) at the junction with State Highway 87. If driving from the East, you will probably come in on Interstate 80. From the North or South, US 101 leads directly to San Jose, or you can take Interstate 5 and divert to the Bay Area from California's Central Valley. (US-101 is slower, but it is a more pleasant drive than I-5.)

For specific questions about transportation and transit in the Bay Area, please try our web site. If you can't find the answer there, write to us at info@conjose.org or via the convention PO Box and we will do our best to help.

Member types

Member origins

We thought it would be nice to, at least once prior to our convention, to print out a complete list of our members. This is that list, and it is the last time we will do this until the program/souvenir book. The size of this list has almost exceeded the size that we can print in a Progress Report. All subsequent lists will simply be updates to this list.

Lost Members

We've had trouble reaching the following people. Any help you can provide will be appreciated:

Karen Babich	Chicago, IL, USA
William Brown	Hayward, CA, USA
Terence Chua	SINGAPORE
Tom Cool	APO, AA, USA

ConJosé Membership Installment Plan

The costs to attend a Worldcon keep going up and up as we, the convention planners, have to pay more for facilities and other things necessary to give you the best possible Worldcon experience. In order to offset this, and to put Worldcon attendance within the reach of more people, ConJose is instituting a method by which you can pay for your membership on the installment plan. We've tried to make it as easy as possible for all of us.

1. Buy a supporting membership in ConJose and declare your intention to purchase an installment membership. The supporting membership is $35 and will remain so right up until the convention. Your balance will be the difference between the supporting membership and what an attending membership at the time you bought a supporting membership. If worst comes to worst, and you can't pay the difference, you will still get all publications and the right to nominate and vote on the Hugo Awards and in site selection.

2. Pay a minimum of 20 dollars per quarter to keep your Installment Plan alive. With all the other things we have to do, we can't send out reminders to everyone so this will be your responsibility. We will try to post reminders in many of the online fora where fans hang out as well as in our written publications. We will also give you a schedule of recommended payment times and amounts at the time you institute your installment plan.

3. Mark your payment clearly as an Installment Payment. Write it on the check and mention it in any correspondence you may enclose. If you make the payment in cash or by check at our table at a con, make sure the person at the table writes "Installment Payment" on the receipt.

4. Make sure you have the full difference paid by the time we set as cutoff for mail memberships. We will not be able to accept installment plan payments at the door. If you are unable to make your payments regularly, we will refund whatever you have paid over the supporting membership price, less 10% of the amount paid above the supporting fee, leaving you as a supporting member. You will be able to upgrade from supporting to attending member at the door should a miracle happen and you find the money to attend at the last minute. The upgrade would be the difference between the supporting membership and the at the door price, as is standard.

If you have questions, you can contact our Comptroller, Cindy Scott, at controller@conjose.org.

We hope this helps more people attend what we are sure will be one of the new century's best Worldcons!
