

FunCon 1: Space Leopards (Probably) Won't Eat Your Face

Readme & Programme Grid

Welcome to FunCon! In this Readme you will find some useful information about the convention, as well as a simplified programme grid and hotel map. All this is subject to change, and we recommend you check the website for the latest info. The full programme can be found by scanning the QR code above.

Important Info

Volunteering & Rewards: Thank you to all the lovely people who are helping out! If you are on Programme, you will receive a Bar Token when you register. If you sign up as a gopher (at Registration on Friday or in the Leopard's Den later in the weekend) you will get a Bar Token when you turn up to help out. As a small convention with limited budget we can only offer one Bar Token per person, even if you're helping out several times, but it comes with a lot of love and appreciation from us!

Duty Committee Member (DCM): Our DCM will be identified by an "In Space No One Can Hear You Scream" baseball cap, and is your first port of call in case of any issues. When not out and about solving a problem, you will find them in the Leopard's Den (aka Rutland, our Con HQ / Ops / Gopher Hole / etc).

Health & Safety: Some of our activities involve risk of injury! You are all adults, and responsible for your own health and safety. Please LOOK and THINK before you ACT!

Space Leopards vs Armadillos

On your badge you will find a star sticker showing your TEAM BLUE for Space Leopards -or- PURPLE for Armadillos.

There is a competition running throughout the convention between these two teams. This consists of discrete Taskmaster-style challenges running between major programme items, as well as a list of challenges you can complete in your own time and send in by email. Some workshops will also have the option to have the thing you have made/built/done judged at the end. FunCon rewards having FUN, and positive team spirit, so points may be awarded for other random things throughout the con. To take part, pick up a list of tasks at Registration (Friday), or in the Leopard's Den (later in the weekend), or download here:
