

NOVACON 3

Organised by the Birmingham Science Fiction Group
2nd-3rd-4th November 1973 Imperial Centre Hotel, Birmingham

P.R.5

~~Well folks the time has come to pack your things and head for the station, or wherever else your particular conveyance is kept. Things are shifting into top gear in Birmingham and the finishing touches are being put on by the committee.~~

It has now become necessary for me to tell those of you who live in the wilds how to get to civilisation, and the convention.

Major routes to Brum are: M5 M1 M6 -- A's 45, 41, 34, 38, 435, 441, 456 & 457. These all lead eventually to the centre at the inner ring road or Queensway. A map of the centre itself showing the relative positions of these and the con hotel is included. Coach services run from all major centres to the Digbeth coach station and bus, taxi or shanksy's pony will get you to New Street easily from there. Trains run to Birmingham New Street which is only 5 mins walk from the Imperial.

Car parking facilities are available at the N C P park next to New Street Station.

Hope you find your way alright.

Don't forget to bring any unwanted books or artwork for the auction, your fancy dress for the party, and your togs for the buffet.

This years attendance fee will be £1.50 (or £2 if for some reason you aren't already a registered member.) Cheques will be accepted if you have a bankers card, buffet tickets are £2.00 and fancy dress for those too busy to make their own will be available for 10p.

See you all there,

BiBi
