

Here there be dragons.

Over there be ocelots, kappa, amphisbaena, vegpepygmies, sontarans, echidna, will-o-the-wisps, uruk-hai, uruk-lo, algolian sunfegers, hegemonizing swarms, mutant demon gargantuan omnivorous rampaging volatile escargots, hyperallergenic sporoidal infestations, ill-tempered hoolooovooloo, chupacabra, babelcrocodiles, terra-cotta warmongers, frogmites, vogons, k'kree, hyperintelligent shades of the color blue out of space, people who don't volunteer, arcturian megaleeches, kraken, giant squid, medium-sized squid, very cute but still exceptionally large squid, arowahing, beasts with two spleens, ravenous bugbladder beasts, gelatinous cubes, bureaucratic leopards, stoats, queen cobras, ankhegs, elder things, unfriendly sleep-deprived glyptodonts, pikachus, slimes, colossal squid, colloidal squid, headless horsemen, shinigami, guaihou, rust monsters and breakfast cereals.

Probability of being picked up while holding your breath in the vacuum of space and being taken to a science fiction convention: 2 to the power of 317,536 against.

Probability of staying up long enough to have a decent conversation with the guest of honor at this convention and still making it to the consuite for breakfast before all the coffee and muffins are gone: 2 to the power of 2,201,865,160,111 against.

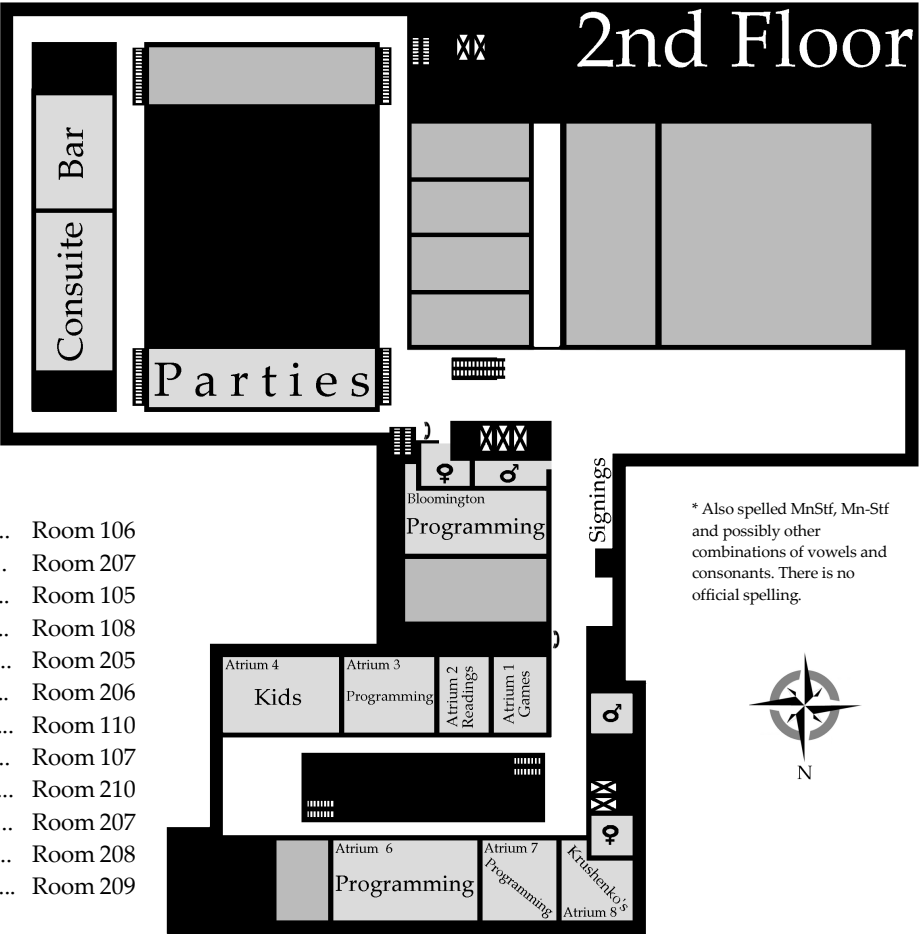

Probability of the Ultimate Answer having been misprinted on a 1973 penny due to a bizarre mint malfunction and left randomly somewhere in the hotel: 2 to the power of 3,079,765 against.

Knowing enough to ask the right questions: Priceless.

By an astonishing coincidence, the vertical coordinate of all this nonsense was precisely equal to the square root of the difference between the telephone numbers of the 20th and 21st floors of the building, which had taken it upon themselves to develop sentience and lodge a complaint, as it didn't look like any of the guests were going to. The management wishes them luck.

About Minn-Stf*

The Minnesota Science Fiction Society, Inc. is a non-profit organization dedicated to furthering the appreciation of science fiction and fantasy literature. Minn-Stf was founded in 1966 and we've been active in the worldwide community of science fiction fandom ever since.

Minn-Stf puts on Minicon every year, but that's not all we do. Our annual picnic is coming up soon, and you're invited, so watch the website for details!

We also have two meetings every month at members' houses, and we put on a fall relaxacon, Convivial.

Check our website, <http://www.mnsthf.org/>, and Einblatt <http://www.mnsthf.org/einblatt/>, our newsletter, for specific places and times.

We look forward to seeing you again!

* Also spelled MnStf, Mn-Stf and possibly other combinations of vowels and consonants. There is no official spelling.
