A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

Welcome to Minicon 51! We had a great 50th Anniversary celebration last year, and look forward to a slightly less frenetic pace this year, but we hope to continue with high-quality programming, excellent hospitality, and an all-around good time. The course of true love and con-running never did run smooth, and we encountered some challenges this year. We hope that in the final analysis, you won't notice any behind-the-scenes scrambling that we've done to make things come together! I owe a great debt of gratitude to all the staff for stepping up and getting a lot done in not enough time. A special thank you to Scott Raun, who graciously accepted the position of Vice Chair, and also to Matt Strait, functioning not only as our Treasurer but as part of our institutional memory. We are excited about our excellent slate of guests, and we hope that you will enjoy them, and that they will in turn enjoy you! I will be Chairing again next year for Minicon 52, and we have our guest slate lined up for that weekend already (no spoilers!). So, have fun, and please...DON'T BREAK THE HOTEL!

Sincerely,

Ann Totusek, Chair

The thing with writing is... that it's easy, or rather simple. Now, put those pitchforks and torches down! By simple, I mean the writer usually uses their mother tongue and follows an established pattern to create a narrative of rising action, climax, and resolution. Simple, see?

"Simple" like baking is heating ingredients after mixing, or painting is mixing colors to tone and applying to a canvas in shapes that convey things, or... well, you see where I'm going with this. As you should now be aware (if you have not already tossed this aside to plot my murder), I am being purposefully simplistic because we are all here at this convention for the very purpose of recognizing, enjoying and exploring exemplary efforts in creative expressions of all kinds. A simple purpose indeed...

My point is that one of Seanan's greatest accomplishments is that she makes it look easy. Not that it is simple or that she does it easily. Her work reads with an ease and flow that implies simplicity, while communicating sophistication and nuance without belaboring the effort.

Her characters include ballroom-dancing monster hunters, half-fae/half-human female knights errant, folk songs about zombie apocalypses, hyper-merchandised superheroes, corporate tapeworms, wildly enthusiastic rodentia and many other curiosities. When listed like that, her creations sound like a collection of random word associations, but each story is fun and sensible to itself and exists in a world where the logic fits and works to support the storytelling, rather than distract you from its flaws.

Her heroes aren't necessarily people you'd want as friends, but you'd definitely want to be on their good sides and hope that you could beg them for help at the very least. You can always trust that they're fighting for their own sense of right, if not avoiding mistakes. It's that simple. They range from prickly to bubbly, but their personalities are many-faceted; they all have depth. Readers feel like the characters have lives outside of their interactions with the story at hand. Even her secondary characters inspire admiration on the part of readers, because they seem to live and breathe so completely.

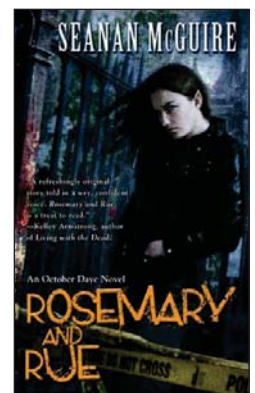

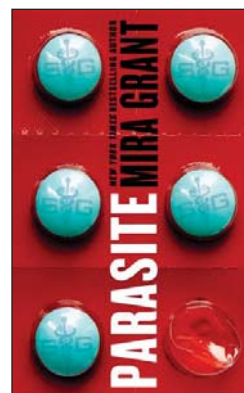

Seanan McGuire has launched multiple series under two noms de plume (so far) when you include Mira Grant. I think that if she wanted to, she could spend the rest of her days just fleshing out the secondary, tertiary, and other characters from the stories she's already told—her readership is numerous and interested enough for that.

Her worlds are rich and complete, and her writing so clever and subtle, that the reader may remember ambient sounds, smells and textures without obvious mention in the text. This is a writer who knows how to tell a story with implication, leveraging the participation of the reader's imagination. As creative efforts go, this is a gift.

Seanan was the winner of the 2010 John W. Campbell Award for Best New Writer, and her novel Feed (as Mira Grant) was named as one of Publishers Weekly's Best Books of 2010. In 2013 she became the first person ever to appear five times on the same Hugo ballot.

Under the inscrutable gazes of her feline overlords in her Northern Californian farmhouse palace, she spins yarns, sings songs, and ponders the imponderable. The fruits of her labor are unique and eminently entertaining.

— Rick Snyder

And welcoming Lojo back to the US from a two week concert tour in Ireland...

Whether playing festivals or front steps, coffee houses, conventions, or concert halls Lojo Russo connects with her audience in a way few performers can. Her enormous stage energy, powerful voice and percussive playing style belie her small frame. This little woman puts on one heckuva big show.

Lojo Russo has been orbiting the 'Con biospheres since her first days as the bass player in the awesome classic-jam-rock quintet Cats Laughing. Three of the original members of Cats Laughing—Emma Bull, Steven Brust and Adam Stemple—are best known for their wonderfully crafted SF/F novels. A fourth member wrote 'blue novels' under the pseudonym "Anonymous". Russo retains the dubious distinction of being the only non-published author of that group.

From those humble beginnings Lojo Russo has continued to provide soulful, fanciful and farcical music to her enduring fan. Her novelty album, Sweet Tooth, contains the 'Con inspired hits "Orbital Groove" and "Blame It On the Jello". She enjoys long walks on the beach, the smell of Hai Karate and the way bandaids spark when you open them.

Making music along the muddy waters from Minneapolis to Davenport for over 15 years, Russo has played in jam bands, Celtic groups, freestyle funk folk and as a solo touring artist. And like the river she moves the music from one genre to the next—powerfully... effortlessly.

Russo's style of music has always been a little bit of everything because she's always played a little bit of everything—bass in a psychedelic rock band, mandolin in a Celtic group and guitar in every kind of funk, folk, jazz and jam combination you can imagine—usually taking the lead. This variety of music and performance styles allows Russo to tailor her shows to her audience without compromising her music. Russo's not-so-traditional blend of roots, blues and Americana gives her music an old-timey feel with a contemporary perspective.

The road is a long, strange, wonderful trip indeed and Russo loves every minute of it. She's been touring as a solo performer for a number of years mostly throughout the Midwest, heading out to the coasts when time and tide allow.

Russo's artistic and musical professionalism has proven time and again that she is the right fit—no matter what the program. Over the years Russo has worked with such diverse acts as Cowboy Junkies and Marshall Crenshaw to Pieta Brown and Ferron.

Lojo Russo is the kind of artist who is also an entertainer. She doesn't just play at her audience—she plays with her audience. Her boundless energy and infectious enthusiasm for her music is apparent to anyone listening and everyone watching.

— Lojo

ARTIST GUEST OF HONOR

SARA BURRIER

MINICON 51

Sara Burrier grew up in Iowa, and despite everyone's impression that all Iowans are farmers, grew up to be an artist. In order to achieve that dream, she came to Minnesota and attended the Minneapolis College of Art and Design. After Minnesota and Iowa, she headed off to the Glasgow School of Art in Scotland (because, Scotland!). Along the way, she developed a passion for encouraging creativity in herself and others.

Sara enjoys personal challenges, such as teaching how to draw manga but not succumbing to that particular addiction, and recently blogging about drawing a fun mermaid portrait every single day until she has enough to fill a coloring book. The mermaid challenge draws its inspiration from Ariel (of Disney's The Little Mermaid). This recent challenge will hopefully be a successful successor to her Pixie Fairy coloring book.

Looking over Sara's portfolio, it becomes apparent that fairies are one of her favorite things to design, draw, and paint. Going to a level familiar to Minicon attendees, she has built and sewn her own fairy outfit to wear to a fairy-focused convention.

Coming back to challenges, Sara teaches Manga drawing, but tries to keep away from doing too much (one wonders what too much really means) to prevent becoming addicted to it. There are worse habits with which to become obsessed. She is passionate about connecting with and teaching the younger generation. Sara can be found teaching at Des Moines Art Center, so if you are from that area, check it out.

Sara is an illustrator of children's books and author of The Pixie Fairy Coloring Book and Watercolor Fairy Art. Her own work is focused on brightness and peace, inspired by birdsongs and plant life, and she is especially passionate about connecting with young people through art. In Des Moines, in addition to being an artist and author (as if that were not enough), she teaches Manga and fantasy styles of painting and illustration.

She has studied fairy tales and folklore, which may or may not influence her fondness for superhero movies. As a side note, despite the Convention Chair's many requests, Sara has remained adamant that art focused on Fairies, Angels, Nature, and Peace should not include Zombies.

MUSIC

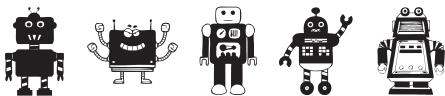

Once again Minicon has an exceptional slate of music. We will have a concert from our outstanding Minicon 51 Musician Guest of Honor, Lojo Russo. There will also be performances from favorite and new regional musicians along with opportunities to play in open music circles and jams. Minicon music is special. Whether you are new here, a regular member or returning, you are in for a treat.

Look for performances by:

- David Perry (Chicago) and Amy McNally (Madison) with mysterious special guests of mystery.
- Also from Chicago in her first time at Minicon, Cathy McManamom.
- Teresa Chandler (Hudson).
- Dave Clement (Winnipeg).
- Graham Leathers (Minneapolis).
- Morva Bowman & Allen Pollard (Winnipeg)
- Riverfolk (Minneapolis) featuring Becca Leathers and Minicon 46 GoH Chas Somdahl.

There could well be some additional musical surprises.

Concerts will be in the Bloomington Room. Look for schedule information posted there, in your pocket program, program book, and in the Bozo Bus Tribune.

THE NEXT GENERATION

Next Generation is a hang out/break room for those age 13-19. We have lots of movies, games, and other stuff. It's a great place to hang out for a little bit or all day, and an awesome place to meet new friends. We're open from 9 am to 1 am Friday & Saturday, then 9 am till whenever the con closes down on Sunday. Come and hang out!

CRAFT SWAP

We will be doing a craft swap again this year. Bring any surplus crafting items you wish to trade or donate.

The craft swap tables are located in the Edina Room and any crafting supplies, books, puzzles, toys, and games are welcome. Donated items will be used as incentives for the kids in the Rumpus Room.

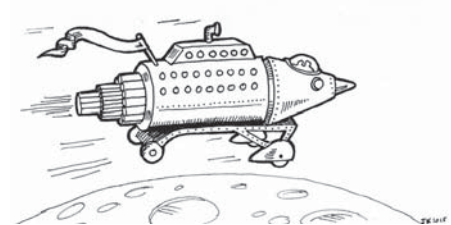

ART SHOW

The Minicon art show is a non-juried show open to all artists who have submitted work in a science fiction and/or fantasy theme. You can also see original work by Artist GoH Sara Burrier. Most art is for sale, although some may be just for show. Art can be bid upon or, if the artist chooses, be immediately purchased at a set price.

See the programming schedule for special events and demonstrations taking place in the Art Show area.

Art Show Hours:

Friday 3:00pm - 7:00pm
 Saturday 10:00am - 7:00pm
 Sunday 10:00am - 2:00pm

BOZO BUS TRIBUNE

"We're all bozos on this bus!"

The Bozo Bus Tribune is the official convention newsletter of Minicon. Since Minicon 28, the BBT has kept con-goers amused, informed, and occasionally distracted by the news of the hour. Fans can expect four issues, the first early on Friday and the last around noon on Sunday. Each issue will be distributed throughout the con space—you'll find them lying in disorderly piles on tables and other sundry surfaces.

The BBT office is in the Normandale Room at the far end of the second floor's Grand Foyer. If you have material for the BBT, such as a news item, panel review, party announcement, overheard quotation, correction, or personal comment, feel free to write it up and drop it in the Submissions Box outside the BBT office. Pens and paper will be provided, and most submissions find their way into an issue eventually. You can also submit material electronically to bbt@minicon51.org.

Your humble editor is not running the Medallion Hunt this year, but he is (in his resolutely contrafactual fashion) expecting one to happen nonetheless. In any case, the BBT may well feature a puzzle or two, and visitors to the office will no doubt find some amusement or other to entertain them.

SCIENCE ROOM

Come see how to transform Science Fiction into Science Fact and try your hand at landing the Space Shuttle. Visit the Minicon Science room in the Grand Ballroom and view hard science exhibits from many groups.

DEALERS

Dealers are located in the Grand Ballroom along with the art show and science room. Here you will find a variety of books, collectibles, jewelry, clothing, and more.

Dealer Room Hours:

Friday 3:00pm - 7:00pm
 Saturday 10:00am - 7:00pm
 Sunday 10:00am - 2:00pm

RUMPUS ROOM

The Rumpus Room is all about fun! We have a great lineup of activities again this year! We've kept some of the old favorites but will be introducing some brand new programs. This year's lineup includes lots of science, games, crafts, music, a puppet show, tool time, bubbles, and the costume workshop.

Besides the scheduled programs, there are lots of toys, games, and craft materials available for everyone's use. This is a great place to hang out!

Come in and decorate your Stash Bag! Use any of our vast array of crafting materials to personalize a bag to keep your treasures in. You can take it with you or leave it in the Rumpus Room until it's full.

Everyone is welcome, however the very young need to be accompanied by a responsible assistant.

The Rumpus Room will be located in the Edina Room this year. We will be open for fun on Friday from 3:30 until 6:00 or so. We will start again on Saturday at 10:00 am and continue until after 6:00 pm. Sunday we will open our doors at 10:00 am and close up shop about 3:00 pm.

CONSUIITE

The consuite is a place to hang out between panels, after hours, or when you don't feel like doing anything else. It features a wide assortment of snacks, drinks, and comfortable seating. Please volunteer to help in the consuite.

The consuite will be open Friday through Sunday. We plan to be open around the clock for the entire convention until Sunday at 5pm, at which point it collapses into the bar for the Dead Dog Party. We'll have Food Events on and off throughout the convention (including late at night) and plan on always having soda, coffee, sandwiches, and snack food available. The consuite is a big machine that runs on volunteers, so please, volunteer to help in the consuite.

Special thanks goes to Bruegger's Bagels, Philia Foods, Z's Smokin Bones for their contributions to this year's consuite.

MEDALLION HUNT

Minicon 51 will feature the Eleventh Annual Minicon Medallion Hunt! This is an annual treasure hunt for adults and children in which participants use clues to track down a variety of 1973 pennies hidden throughout the hotel. For the last ten years, we have been extremely fortunate, and perplexed, to have had Thorin Tatge serve as The Cluemeister for the wonderful Minicon tradition which he started. My name is J (Jason Spitzer) and beginning this year, it is my honor to be the Game Keeper and to take on the challenge of running the Medallion Hunt! I hope to run as fun, challenging, and successful a game as The Cluemeister has before me.

As always, clues are printed in the Bozo Bus Tribune and may take the form of verbal riddles, mathematical puzzles, trivial conundrums, mixed metaphors, confounding ciphers, or some admixture of the above. Prizes include but are not limited to Dealer Dollars, redeemable at the Art Show and Dealers Room and are beautiful in their own right. Additionally, the story of each "medallion" will be told in the BBT - or for those found after the final issue goes to press, at Closing Ceremonies. Full rules will also be printed in the BBT.

BAR

Located on the upper cabana level, the bar is the tipsy companion to the consuite, and open to anyone 21 and over.

A variety of beer and cider will be on tap in home-brewed and commercial varieties, as well as wine for the fancy people, and of course we'll be serving Blog in both regular and St. Paul flavors. There will also be some non-alcoholic options on hand for the terminally responsible.

The bar opens at 4:59pm on Friday & Saturday and stays open until we fall down. This is the perfect place to chill after a hard day of panels and gaming.

DEAD DOG PARTY

On Sunday evening, the consuite and bar will be dismantled and re-mantled in the bar suite for the Dead Dog Party, but not until the rest of the convention has been taken down and put away. There will be food and drinks and music late into the night!

DESICCATED DODO PARTY

There ain't no party like dodo party, 'cuz uh... dodos no longer exist as a species due to human exploitation and have been extinct since 1681.

The Desiccated Dodo party goes on, however, because we don't actually know when to end a convention! Join us Monday, March 28th at 5pm at Irene & Scott Raun's home for some recovery fun and conversation. 3928 11th Ave. S., Minneapolis MN.

FRIDAY

4:00-5:30pm	Yesterday Was a Lie (2008) Hoyle (Kipleigh Brown from Star Trek Continues), a hard-drinking private investigator, is shadowed by a dangerous man, (Peter Mayhew from Star Wars), while trying to locate a reclusive genius who may be able to distort reality. Trusting only her partner and a sexy lounge singer (Chase Masterson from Star Trek: Deep Space Nine), she finds her life becoming more surreal. (narrative – 89 minutes)
5:45-7:00pm	Sky Line (2015) In 1979, Arthur C. Clarke wrote The Fountains of Paradise , a novel about an elevator that rises from the earth's surface into outer space. Today, men and women are seriously trying to make that science fictional concept a reality. (documentary – 74 minutes)
8:00-9:30pm	Nightmare Code (2014) Meet Brett, a code monkey who takes on a behavior recognition/surveillance project after the previous programmer snapped in an workplace murder spree/suicide. But, is the new programmer modifying the A.I. software ... or is the A.I. software modifying the programmer? Winner for Best Feature at the 2015 Philip K. Dick Science Fiction Film Festival. (narrative – 90 minutes)
9:30-9:40pm	Aether (2015) Considered a 2nd class citizen by the Skyborne, Wil Laran embarks on a journey to define his destiny or meet his demise in this steampunk-inspired science fiction film. (short - 9 minutes).

SUNDAY

Noon-1:45pm	The Green Girl (2014) Susan Oliver is primarily known today as the first iconic, green Orion slave girl from the Star Trek episode, The Menagerie. She was also a groundbreaking director and aviator, and appeared in many other television shows and movies as well. However, she remains relatively obscure to this day. Find out more about this attractive, enigmatic, and fascinating woman. (documentary – 97 minutes)
1:45-3:00pm	Audience Choice Want to see something that you missed? Screenings shown by audience request

Please note that this is a tentative listing, and some of the films here might not be shown during the convention due to technical difficulties or unforeseen circumstances. The schedule in the pocket program for Minicon 51 should be consulted for the correct times and days.

Note: Programming for the Rumpus Room is listed on the half-hour with no ending times; they go as long as the presenter and participants wish. Since we will be in the Edina Room, we have plenty of space for more than one program to be running at a time.

8:30pm	The Star Wars Movie Reaction Panel The following description was proposed several months before the movie was released: "J.J. Abrams - Threat or Menace? What are some reactions to the new Star Wars movie? Was it better or worse than the prequels?" Okay, now that the past is behind us, what are our reactions? What fan theories are dominating the intertoobs? What are some questions we want answers to?	Michael Lee Emily Stewart Patrick Marsh	Veranda 3/4
8:30pm	Accessibility in Con Culture What makes a convention accessible? How is that different from inclusive? Many small conventions struggle with budget concerns and limited funds. How can we balance monetary constraints with creating conventions that everyone can enjoy?	David Perry Bill Thomasson Magenta Griffith Katie Clapham Matt Strait	Ballroom West
8:59pm	Smooooooooooooooth	Nick Faller	Bar
9:00pm	Music Concert: Dave Clement	Dave Clement	Bloomington Music
10:00pm	How to Survive a Horror Movie? Well now you've gone and done it, or somebody in your Scooby gang has... you're now in the middle of a monster movie plot. How do you avoid doing something incredibly stupid that is going to result in making you a tasty, late-night snack? What gear do you need to scrounge up to be able to make it until daybreak? Should you split up (duh)?	Seanan McGuire Scott K. Jamison Patty Templeton Michael Kingsley Melissa McConnell	Veranda 7/8 Krushenko's
10:00pm	Music Concert: Graham Leathers	Graham Leathers	Bloomington Music
10:00pm	Scotch Klatsch: Tales from the Road with Lojo Russo Wherein Lojo Russo tells tales of being on the road and traveling.	Lojo Russo Aaron Vander Giessen	Bar Annex Room 217

SATURDAY
10:00am	Kaffee Klatsch: In Conversation with Seanan McGuire A discussion with our Author Guest of Honor about whatever comes to mind.	Seanan McGuire Rick Snyder	Bar Annex Room 217
10:00am	Shrinky-Dinks Who doesn't like the magic of shrink plastic? Color pre-printed images or draw your own, then watch them leap, curl, and shrink until they flatten out into little plastic charms you can stick on your badges.	Becca Leathers Bonnie Somdahl	Edina Rumpus Room
10:30am	Christian Symbolism in Fantasy Art Fantasy art often makes use of angels, birds, icons and elemental objects influenced by the artist's faith and belief, and museums are filled with great art influenced by Christianity. What influences does an artist draw from when they make art in the modern era? How does an artist include their faith in their art? What fantasy elements work well from the perspective of a Christian artist?	Ann Totusek Sara Burrier	Ballroom West
10:30am	Drawing Aliens Game This is always so much hilarious creative fun!	Graham Leathers	Edina Rumpus Room
11:00am	Badge Making Turn a stamped image or your own drawing into a professional looking badge using our fun machines.	Becca Leathers Bonnie Somdahl	Edina Rumpus Room
11:30am	3D Printers Don't Need Special Glasses 3D printers are rapidly becoming more affordable and available to everyone. We still shop at grocery stores instead of printing our food, we still shop for clothes 'off the rack' instead of having a computer pattern created to our measurements, and we still shop at the hardware store rather than printing out a washer when the sink starts to leak. How will 3-D printers feature in our daily lives in the years to come? What influence could they have? What areas are they already important in?	Lojo Russo Alison Sommer Michelle Cadieux	Veranda 5/6
11:30am	YA: Y so dystopiAn? There appears to be a very strong theme of dystopia in YA. To what extent is this because young readers foresee an unpleasant future that older people are ignorant of? To what extent is this the result of marketing? To what extent do YA dystopias reflect what young people actually fear? What wisdom does this carry that older people should pay attention to?	Laura Krentz Gerald Brandt Rachel Kronick	Veranda 7/8 Krushenko's

1:00pm	Being a Fan of Problematic Things How do we reconcile our love for less-than-perfect fandoms without making excuses? How do we critically examine the things we enjoy? Where is the line between enjoyment with understanding and refusing to acknowledge the problems? Is the problem that some fandom is problematic, or is the problem that many fans don't see it as problematic?	Aimee Kuzinski Katie Clapham Scott K. Jamison	Veranda 5/6
1:00pm	Fully-Complex Science Fiction Futures Many works of SF concerned with things to come will carry one major modern trend into the future: What if the environment gets really bad? Or, what if computers make our jobs irrelevant? Or we make it into space? But rarely do works try to follow a huge number of "what if?" possibilities simultaneously: What if no one works anymore AND sea levels rise AND cloning becomes practical AND computer surveillance is universal AND artificial intelligence becomes commonplace AND we all carry the entire internet in our heads AND... Which works about the future—books, comics, movies, etc.—do the most to deal with the multifarious complexity of possibilities? Which works look at all sides of the future at the same time?	Rachel Kronick Gerald Brandt Greg L. Johnson	Veranda 7/8 Krushenko's
1:00pm	Science! Dip a chain into molten bismuth and pull out a shiny metal crystal that you can keep. Plus lots of other fun science experiments.	Josh More Chas Somdahl Tony Stiebar	Edina Rumpus Room
1:30pm	Bubbles! Join us for soapy, slippery, bubbly fun. Richard Tatge will be here with his amazing bubble machine.	Richard Tatge	Edina Rumpus Room
2:00pm	Monsters and S'more Monsters We're back again with marshmallows and candy to make edible monstrosities, and then...	Josh More Chas Somdahl Tony Stiebar	Edina Rumpus Room
2:30pm	Monster Immolation ...We will take our S'more Monsters outside and torch them!
2:30pm	The Aftermath of the Puppies: Hugos 2015 Reaction Panel and Looking to the Future How did that Sad Puppies thing turn out? What effect will they have on future Hugos? What did they do for the Hugos awarded in 2015, and what do we foresee for the future? Early on after the Puppy Slate, there was talk of amending WSF rules. What has been proposed?	Michael Lee Emily Stewart Tony Stiebar	Veranda 5/6
2:30pm	ΨΦ (Psi Phi) - Mental Based Superpowers in Comics Psionics used to be huge in written SF, but appeared to drop in popularity in the late 20th century. However in graphic media such as X-Men, psionic concepts like Professor Xavier's telepathy and Psylocke's psychokinesis are readily accepted. Was this due to the counterculture of the 1960s when such stories originated, rites of passage for teens, or something else?	Elise A. Matthesen Eric M. Heideman Sean McGuire Scott K. Jamison	Veranda 7/8 Krushenko's
2:30pm	Share Your Passion Convincing people why a thing sucks is too easy, so what do we feel passionately positive about? Tell us why your favorite thing is cool! Speak for up to five minutes about anything. Speaking time will be rigorously enforced, and rebuttals will be taken in Consuite after the panel.	Josh More	Veranda 3/4
3:00pm	Talking Stick Time Unleash your imagination for communal story telling.	Graham Leathers	Edina Rumpus Room
3:30pm	Galaxy Eggs We'll paint acrylic galaxies on plastic eggs then splatter them with stars to create intergalactic art. Younger children may need additional supervision.	Bonnie Somdahl	Edina Rumpus Room

SATURDAY
4:00pm	Ask a Scientist An old standard in the Book of Minicon. A panel of scientists in a variety of fields takes audience questions on more or less anything.	Bill Thomasson Chas Somdahl Ctein Mary Bertelson Matt Strait Pat Scaramuzza	Veranda 3/4
4:00pm	Being in the X-Men Means Never Having to Attend a Serious Funeral Among some comic book fans, the apparent death and subsequent return of a long-running character is often called "a comic-book death," to differentiate it from a more serious character death. While death is a serious subject, a comic-book death is rarely permanent, and some may argue that it has become less meaningful. Is the nature of a superhero immortal?	Josh More Michael Lee Scott K. Jamison	Veranda 5/6
4:00pm	Manga Drawing for Teens Sara Burrier, our Artist Guest of Honor, has taught art professionally for several years in several different styles. In this event, a partnership with the Next Generation teen room, she offers instruction and critique for teens wanting to learn more about this drawing style.	Sara Burrier Aaron Vander Giessen	Grand Ballroom Art Show
4:00pm	Self Publishing 2016 The state of self-publishing today, and how to manage the bits that would normally be the responsibility of a larger entity. How to self-publish. What are some useful tools available? What's new and on the horizon for self-publishing? Amazon is willing to help many authors self-publish in exchange for their first born. What resources are available to understand what predatory practices should be avoided?	Lojo Russo Laramie K. Sasseville Patrick Marsh Rachel Kronick Jerry Stearns	Veranda 7/8 Krushenko's
5:00pm	Costume Workshop We will have bins of materials and helpful seamstresses on hand to help you create the perfect hall costume. You'll be invited to compete in the Kid's Costume Contest at 7:00pm in Veranda 1/2.	Guin Lazarchic Andra St. Arnaud Becca Leathers Bonnie Somdahl	Edina Rumpus Room
5:00pm	Balloon Animals You can watch as a balloon transforms into an animal or costume accessory of your choice, or try manipulating balloons yourself.	Graham Leathers	Edina Rumpus Room
5:30pm	Parasitology Parasites! Parasites! Parasites! Micro-organisms! What are the pros and cons of having a microbial symbiont in a person? What defines a parasite? How much knowledge do we not have about parasites? What's the difference between a parasite, a virus, a symbiote, and bacteria? Probiotics and Antibiotics fight it out! Two microbes enter! One parasite leaves!	Seanan McGuire Lisa C. Freitag Mary Bertelson	Veranda 7/8 Krushenko's
5:30pm	Naomi Stone Reading	Naomi Stone	Veranda 1/2 Reading Room
5:30pm	Games Richard and Thorin Tatge will be bringing a bunch of fun games like Pow Wow, Dvonn, Travel Blokus, and Squirrel or Die!	Thorin Tatge Richard Tatge	Edina Rumpus Room
6:30pm	Music Concert: Morva Bowman & Allen Pollard	Morva Bowman Allen Pollard	Bloomington Music
7:00pm	Practical Planning and Paperwork for Fans How do we as fans deal with the legalities of our futures? What is a Health Care Directive? Who needs a will? What is power of attorney? What are some resources for understanding financial planning? Mental health and hoarding: How many comics/figures/books do you have? How do we pare down a collection?	Liz Fish Michelle Cadieux Jonathan Adams	Veranda 3/4
7:00pm	Offing Heroes Using Ridiculous and Expensive Methods A spinoff of "Inappropriate Uses of Astrophysical Matter." Why use a handgun when you can use sharks with friggin' laser beams? Sure, you can use interns to keep your costs down, but a supervillain has to be creative. What's the advantage of the most creative ways to kill the hero? Pistols are boring. Should a good villain slowly drop a hero into a swimming pool full of M&Ms, Orange Marmalade or Sugar Free Gummi Bears?	Michael Kingsley Katie Clapham Patty Templeton Lisa C. Freitag	Veranda 7/8 Krushenko's
7:00pm	Music Concert: David Perry & Amy McNally with Mysterious Special Guests of Mystery	David Perry Amy McNally	Bloomington Music

SATURDAY
7:00pm	Playback from Pluto: Recent News from NASA's New Horizon Spacecraft There's a treasure at the edge of the Solar System. It's a data recorder, aboard the New Horizons spacecraft, slowly sending to Earth several gigabytes acquired during last summer's flyby of Pluto. That information is still coming down. At the mission's home base in Maryland, Bill Higgins witnessed the excitement during the encounter. Now he reviews results, downlinked in recent months, that are illuminating the mysteries of Pluto, its five moons, and its neighborhood.	Bill Higgins	Ballroom West
7:00pm	Kid's Costume Contest A judged costume contest open to everyone and photographed by Ben Huset. Prizes will be awarded!	Ann Totusek Bonnie Somdahl	Veranda 1/2

9:00pm	Music Concert: The Mumble Somethings	Teresa Chandler	Bloomington Music
10:00pm	What's to Love About Horror? It can be argued that horror is one of the more maligned sub-genres of SF. Why is it so underloved? What do horror fans enjoy about a scary story? What makes a good horror story? Why is dark fantasy still relevant, and how do the monsters of an era reflect culture? Which tropes still work, and which need to be bludgeoned with an axe?	Aimee Kuzinski Melissa McConnell Seanan McGuire Patrick Marsh Patty Templeton	Veranda 7/8 Krushenko's

 Child - free Supporting Membership - $15.00

Fill out the form, seal it in an envelope with your payment, and put it in the box at the registration table. Need help or information after hours? Ask at the bar.

POLICIES

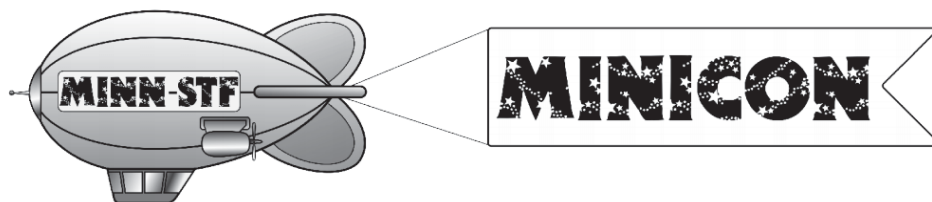

Minicon occurs in a hotel, which is part of a city, county, state, and country. All rules and laws imposed by these larger entities apply, even though being at a con may make you feel out of this world.

Weapons: Prop weapons or costume pieces must be secured and pose no danger to others. We reserve the right to prohibit any such items from our function rooms. And remember: You kill it, you eat it.

Smoking: FYI for out-of-towners, Minnesota is smoke-free in all public places, but there are designated smoking areas outside. Please direct further questions to the hotel.

Help and Information: Ask at the registration/ volunteers/info desk while they're open, or after hours at the consuite or bar. Also look for department heads or wandering concom members.

Emergencies: In case of emergency threatening life or limb, please call 911!

CODE OF CONDUCT

Principles: Minn-stf acknowledges that interpersonal relationships in social settings are complex. Not everyone likes everyone else, and not everyone agrees with everyone else. Disagreements, friction, and vigorous debate are expected. However, interactions that become hostile or coercive do not have any part in a healthy social environment and Mnstf commits to addressing problem behaviors.

Harassment is difficult to define, and attempts at an exact definition are subject to rules-lawyering, so we won't attempt to do that. However, repeated unwelcome behaviors are mostly likely to be construed as harassment. If someone asks you not to touch them, not to talk to them, or not to refer to them in a way that they find objectionable, and you persist in doing so, you may be harassing them. Actions that are sufficiently egregious (assault, truly hateful language, and comparable actions) fall under this policy, even if only one occurrence has been noted. In the end, harassment is judged primarily by the person who feels harassed, and actions are more important than intent.

Action: If someone tells you to stop something they perceive as harassing behavior, stop right away. If you tell someone to stop something you see as harassing behavior and they don't, you may tell us. If you don't feel comfortable telling someone to stop harassing behaviour, you may also tell us. We want to make sure everyone is heard so that together we can make Minicon a healthy, fun, enjoyable experience for everyone.

Reporting: To report violations of this code, whether or not action is desired, either contact the Code of Conduct Committee at (612) 414-8651 or go to the registration desk and ask the staff there to call a designated responder. If the registration desk is closed, call the number posted on the desk. During the hours posted on this sign, we will answer calls immediately. Outside these hours, you may leave a voicemail and we will respond when registration opens the next day.

WHAT IS MNSTF?

It's the Minnesota Science Fiction Society, variously abbreviated MnStf, Minn-STF, MN-STF, and other variants. It's the non-profit group that brings you Minicon. Each year, the MNSTf board of directors approves the next Minicon chairperson and looks after the continuing needs of the convention.

Mnstf does more than just Minicon. It also runs a small convention each year in the fall, mainly for the purpose of having something like Minicon, but without all that pesky programming and stress. This sort of convention is known in fannish circles as a relaxicon or a fallcon. Ours changes name frequently.

Besides running conventions, Minnstf's major activity is holding two parties (officially known as "meetings") per month, generally at members' homes. It's possible that you find the idea of showing up at a new person's home uninvited a little intimidating, but guess what? ... You're invited!

These meetings involve copious conversation, food, dinner expeditions, games, music, knitting, or all of the above. Meeting locations are published in MnstF's monthly newsletter, Einblatt, available at mnstf.org/einblatt. You can also sign up for our events and discussion mailing lists at mnstf.org.

We usually also have a couple of special meetings: the picnic and the pool party. The pool party is held in the winter, usually at the Doubletree; the picnic is in July. Check Einblatt for details.

How do you become a member of MnStF? It's easy! If you ever attend a meeting, you're a member. If you sign in at seven meetings in a year, you become a voting member for that year and can help choose the Minn-Stf board.

THE MNSTF PICNIC

Enjoyed the convention and want more? Meet new friends that you'd like to see again? Join us for our annual picnic on Saturday, July 16, at Minnehaha Falls in Minneapolis. We will be at Picnic Area #2, north of Godfrey Road. "X" marks the spot on the map. (Don't use the park map for driving directions! The roads don't connect like that—Ford Parkway goes over West River Road, but it looks like an intersection on their map.)

Join us for an afternoon cookout filled with gaming, socializing, and fun. There will be a grill going throughout the day, so bring something for the grill, or a dish to pass, or a game to play. The picnic will start around noon and last until dark. Hope to see you there!

Minicon is entirely volunteer-run. No one is paid for helping; even the convention chairs and all the department heads pay full price for their memberships. This keeps our membership rates down, but also means that we need your help. Think of Minicon like a big party: some of us are hosting the party, but we're all in it together.

How to help out? Well, we're a pretty informal bunch. If you see something that needs doing—perhaps a bowl of chips is empty, or a programming room doesn't have enough chairs—see if you can get it done. If you're not sure how, ask the department head or nearest person who seems to know what's going on.

If everyone pitches in just a little bit like this, the convention will run very smoothly. We also have some more formalized volunteering with scheduled shifts for art show, checking badges at the consuite, and possibly a few other areas. There will be a sign-up sheet at the registration desk.

Would you like to get more involved in Minicon? Minicon is organized by the Minicon concom (convention committee) over the course of the year.

How do you get to be on the concom? Well, if you start showing up to meetings, you're a concom member. Or, to put it another way, we don't really know who's on the concom, but when forced to make a list, we write down whoever we remember being at concom meetings.

Check the Einblatt newsletter at www.mnsthf.org/einblatt for meeting announcements.

Tol-Con

Tol-Con is Minnesota's newest fan-run convention, a 3 day celebration of all things Middle-Earth.... and we are looking for someone(s) to share in an adventure that we are arranging ...

Expect all of your favourite convention indulgences, and then some: Panels, activities, dealer room, costume contest, workshops, archery games, & much more!

3 full themed banquets with live entertainment - Feast of Starlight, Durin's Day, and Bilbo's Birthday Party - are all included with the price of registration.

Won't you join our Fellowship?

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO?

Minicon is a members-driven non-profit con. Our goal is to bring the community together for an enjoyable and possibly even educational experience. It isn't to collect the most money or even to get the most people, although we take more people showing up as a good sign. We all chip in our membership fees so that there's enough money to run this thing and to support our parent organization, Minnstf, throughout the year.

In our opinion, if we end up with a profit after that, it means we overcharged. We have made a concerted effort in the last few years to hold the rates low and run a frugal con, while still having great guests of honor and plenty of food. We want you to know where your money is going, and we want to hear whether you think it's being spent well.

MINICON 51 PROJECTED FINANCES

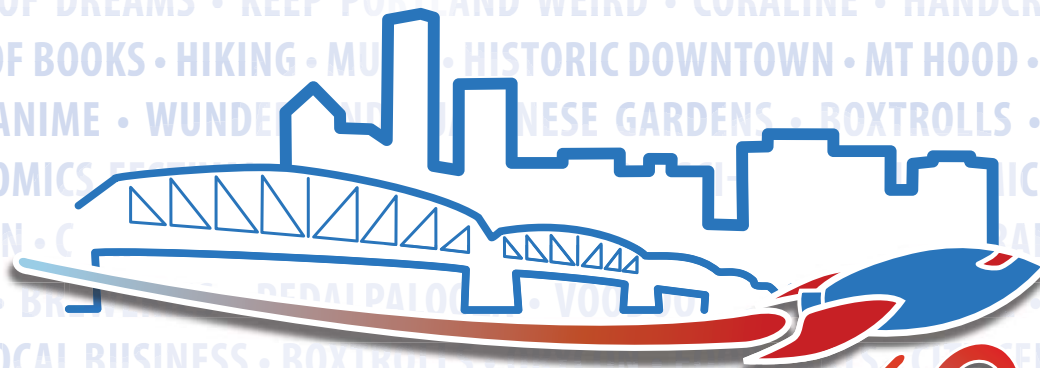

Minicon 50 was supposed to lose money by holding the membership rates at the usual level while throwing an extra big con, but we messed up and made money instead. Whoops. The extra money goes into Minn-stf's coffers. It helps us keep Minicon's rates low for the future and funds Mnstf's other projects.
