

1992 Site-Selection Ballot

Voting Instructions

1. Fill in the information requested on the other side of this form. You should give the address that you want the winning bidder to have in their files for your convention membership. Your Noreascon Three membership number isn't required, but including it will save us some work; you should find it on your mailing label. If you are not already a Noreascon Three member, you must enclose an additional $20 with your ballot to join as a Supporting Member (or $80 to become an Attending Member), in addition to the voting fee of $20. Checks for Noreascon Three membership should be made payable to "Noreascon Three"; the deadline for new Noreascon Three memberships is July 15, 1989.
2. You must include a voting fee of $20 or the equivalent with this ballot. Checks for the voting fee should be made payable to "The 50th World Science Fiction Convention". The $20 will make you a Supporting Member of the 1992 Worldcon, regardless of who wins. The WSFS Constitution provides that you can convert to an Attending Membership within 90 days after Noreascon Three for no more than an additional $20.
3. Either a) mail this ballot to Noreascon Three; Site Selection; Box 46, MIT Branch PO; Cambridge, MA 02139, USA, by August 15, 1989 (July 15 if you are not already a Noreascon Three member), or b) bring it to Noreascon Three and hand it in at the site-selection table before voting closes at 6 PM Saturday, September 2, 1989.
4. Indicate your vote preferentially below. You should put a "1" by your first choice for the 1992 Worldcon site, a "2" by your second choice, etc. If your first-place choice is eliminated, your ballot will be counted for your second-place choice; if that is also eliminated, for your third-place choice; etc. If you vote first for "No Preference", or if all those you vote for ahead of it are eliminated, your ballot will have no further effect in choosing the 1992 site. "None of the Above" is treated just like a real candidate, except that if it wins, the site-selection decision will be made by the WSFS business meeting at Noreascon Three. If you put some mark next to only one bidder and nothing by the others, you will be counted as having voted for that bidder in first place; if that bidder is eliminated, your ballot will have no further effect on the site selection.

The last two sheets in this ballot package are a questionnaire covering some of the qualifications for running a Worldcon, and the responses of the 1992 Worldcon bidders to this questionnaire and to subsequent phone calls to clarify various points. The questionnaire was based on one developed by Jill Eastlake and sent to the 1981 and 1982 Worldcon bidders during the preparations for Noreascon Two; questions were added by the members of Noreascon Three and developed from the questions other interested people have asked the bidders at Q&A sessions at recent conventions.

Noreascon Three hopes that you will find this information useful in deciding whom to vote for. If you have any additional questions, please talk to representatives of the bids (they will be at many conventions in the coming months), read their advertising in our progress reports, or write to the addresses given at the end of the responses. If you have any ideas for new questions or expansions of questions, please write to Noreascon Three (attn: bidder questionnaire); there is a possibility that we will be asking bidders for future years to respond to these questions.

Just before this ballot mailing went to press (and after Progress Report 6 had gone to press), we received word that the Discon III/Washington committee had lost a significant fraction of their facilities and were therefore withdrawing from bidding. However, the committee requested that their name remain on the ballot. Please take these developments into account in your voting.

Are you planning to arrange transportation between the facilities?

Hotels provide free shuttle bus when over 2000 room nights are used by the convention on the highest use night. We plan to augment this basic transportation network when necessary.	Unless we have an exceptionally large attendance that forces us to utilize our outlying hotels, we believe that the facilities will be within easy walking distance for most attendees. We will, in consultation with Electrical Eggs, evaluate the needs of physically challenged attendees.

Characterize the neighborhood around the major facilities.

A beautiful residential neighborhood with single-family homes, apartments, restaurants and small businesses (including grocery, liquor, drug stores).	New, clean, crime-free, of modern design, and built to cater to visitors.

List some of the things fans would find interesting to do in your area when they're not at the convention.

There are bookstores, the Museum of Holography and the National Zoo within easy walking distance. The following attractions are all free, within 20 minutes by subway and open 7 days a week: Air and Space Museum, Albert Einstein Memorial, American Art Museum, American History Museum, Arlington National Cemetery, Arts and Industry Museum, Corcoran Gallery of Art, Freer Gallery of Art, Hirschhorn Museum & Sculpture Garden, Library of Congress, National Archives, National Portrait Gallery, Natural History Museum, and the U.S. Capitol. Walk on a one-acre map of the U.S.A. at Places of Learning (and visit a terrific bookstore). Eat Moroccan delicacies at the World Showcase in EPCOT Center. Get wet in "Pirates of the Caribbean" in Disney's Magic Kingdom. Find out what Harcourt, Brace, Jovanovich is doing to save endangered manatees at Sea World. Visit the world's largest collection of Tiffany glass. Tour the "House of the Future" — Xanadu, one of the Orlando areas most offbeat sights. Or even participate in a (supervised) archaeological dig into the past of the Seminole Indians. There are hundreds more. For a selection, see our "92 Things To Do in '92" flyer.

Each of you has some embarrassing historical associations (Orlando/SunCon; D.C./Constellation). Any comments?

Constellation taught (or should have taught) all Worldcon committees that modern Worldcons must be handled with the same level of sophisticated planning and financial management that must accompany any large business undertaking. We realize that the underlying reasons for Constellation's financial loss were a lack of realistic planning, an inadequate membership fee structure and the lack of stringent financial controls. Having learned this lesson thoroughly, DISCON III is committed to avoiding the mistakes of Constellation. Since 1983, we have demonstrated that we can run successful, large conventions that neither lose money nor make unseemly profits. While we recognize that a regional convention is not a Worldcon, our consistent success in this area does augur well for our ability to manage a Worldcon. Finally, it should be noted that the fans had fun at Constellation. This was not simply the result of overspending on entertainment. There was a pleasant atmosphere at Constellation that has been too often lacking at recent conventions. Washington/Baltimore fandom does know how to bring our family together. We are committed to doing so again, without breaking the bank.	The entire committee for SunCon was from the New York/New Jersey/Balti-Wash corridor; the only person on the current MagiCon committee who was a member of the SunCon Committee is Joe Siclari, who now lives in Florida. Since SunCon, Joe has worked on over 60 conventions, including ten Worldcons and NASFiCs, and has chaired eight other successful conventions. Because the convention's primary hotel, the Sheraton Towers, went into bankruptcy, SunCon was moved to Miami Beach. In 1977, the Sheraton Towers was the only location in the Orlando area which was large enough to hold a Worldcon. Now there are at least three locations capable of hosting a convention of that size, and a brand new one on Disney property is under construction. Some of the controversy regarding SunCon arose because Chairman Don Lundry announced the move but not the reasons. It is interesting to note that there are more SunCon committee members on the Discon III bid than are on the MagiCon bid. There is no one from the Constellation committee on the MagiCon committee.

What do you consider your opponent's strongest points?

Disneyworld/Epcot.	proximity to Northeast corridor site selection voters and the fact that they are a well organized group.

What have you done badly in your bidding? How would you change it if you could go back in time?

We should have begun our serious campaigning — regularly hosting parties and manning bid tables at regional conventions — sooner. We started hosting parties later than Orlando, and had to dispel the mistaken impression that we were not serious about our bid.	If we had a time machine, we would get out more informational flyers earlier (on special activities, facilities, restaurants, committee, etc.) and we might have started our bid with a bigger splash.

Are you planning any special, non-standard features or events? Describe.

Special events we would like to do, if our budget and staff allow are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A Meet the Program Participants Reception at the Air and Space Museum. 	Because many Worldcon attendees can stay only for the convention and will not be able to visit the outstanding sites and attractions Orlando has to offer,

- Fifty Years of Science Fiction in Film, possibly coordinated with an American Film Institute retrospective including all the Hugo winners.
- Hugo Winners Art Exhibit: original art from each winner of the Professional or Fan awards.
- Continue and expand the "History of ..." Exhibits that are being developed for Noreascon 3 in honor of the 50th anniversary of the first Worldcon (History of Worldcons, History of Fanzines, History of Costuming, etc.)
- An Inaugural Ball. Since 1992 will be yet another election year (Oh Ghu, not again!) we will continue our political theme by creating a "Presidents of Other Worlds (or times or universes, or dimensions)" category in the Masquerade. The entrants would be the Guests of Honor at an inaugural gala dance following the masquerade.
- Discon-nection: rental of train car(s) to bring fans to the Discon III from along the north-east corridor.
- Capitol Dome Propeller Beans.
- Taste of the Town: a scaled-down version of the annual charity event, where dozens of Washington's restaurants provide samples of their finest food at a huge buffet. This might be done as a charity event to raise funds for a science fiction related cause.
- Special Tours of the White House, Goddard Space Flight Center, the Smithsonian's Air & Space Rehabilitation Facility, the space shuttle Enterprise (at Dulles Airport) and the costume shops at the Smithsonian, Kennedy Center and the Folger Shakespeare Theatre.

we are making plans to bring a part of those attractions to the convention. One particularly exciting prospect: with Kennedy Space Center so convenient to our site, we are working on plans for special guests, speakers, exhibits and displays from NASA that would generally not be available to conventions in other areas. Similarly, by 1992, both MGM-Disney and Universal will have their movie studio/attractions operating at full speed, giving us the opportunity to plan for elaborate movie exhibits, previews, and possibly grand openings. In addition, we intend to work with Sea World to set up some fascinating displays on their near-by facility, especially in terms of the marine research done behind the scenes. MagiCon is fortunate in that we have plenty of exhibit space for static programming such as this. All of the aforementioned are anxious to cooperate and, if there is sufficient interest, group tours/rates are certainly another possibility. For those fans who are fortunate enough to be able to combine MagiCon with an Orlando vacation, we will provide complete information on the best ways to visit such attractions as EPCOT, The Magic Kingdom, Kennedy Space Center, Sea World, etc. Again, please see our "92 Things To Do in '92" flyer. Last but not least, we are currently making plans for an extravagant tar and feathering ceremony featuring Chip Hitchcock as special guest, in honor of his designing this exceptional questionnaire.

In 250 words or less, please try to give us a feeling of what your convention will be like, and list any special assets of your committee, facilities, or city not otherwise described in this survey.

We are proud of Washington's sights and attractions, but we do not intend to have the city act as a substitute for the convention. As we've said in our ads, we want to put on the 50th Worldcon with so much to see and do that you never want to leave the convention site. We have a large number of people with the talent, and the experience working together running large regional conventions and Worldcons, to host this celebration. No one group can do everything needed to run the kind of Worldcon we want to give fandom, but we think a large, experienced group on site before the convention is crucial if the fans from around the world who work on the Worldcon are to be able to contribute their best work. We know how much time and energy is needed to plan and run a Worldcon, if it is done right. We are eager to make that commitment.

Orlando, Where Magic Meets Technology. The theme of our convention is echoed in our city, our local industry, our committee interests and our intentions.

The Worldcon is the place where devotees of science fiction and fantasy literature meet to celebrate the field. Our committee is eager to put on the field's annual reunion, and to provide the structure and programs with which we entertain, enlighten and educate each other about the riches of our field.

Our plans for MagiCon are to explore the ways in which science fiction and fantasy have meaning and interest to us, to take full advantage of our proximity to Kennedy Space Center and local marine research facilities, and to revel in the magic and adventure characterized by Disney's Magic Kingdom, Sea World and Xanadu.

Science fiction and fantasy can be serious and constructive, as well as a lot of fun. Our committee is experienced in the many forms of expression of the field—from sercon to blatantly silly. We have our share of fan historians, film aficionados (delighted with the new Disney/MGM and Universal studios), SCA senseschals, NASA groupies, mathematicians, lawyers, and died-in-the-wool fans of that crazy Buck Rogers stuff. We believe we can present a well-rounded, complexly textured, entertaining festival of the field. One to make Roscoe proud of us!
