Street entrance

Welcome

to our 5th CozyCon, the con where nothing is as it ought to be at a convention - except possibly the bar!

We are offering a sort of a programme with a mixture of Dutch and multilingual items. Mostly English, that is. Although, yes, the jig saw puzzles are certainly multilingual. And we plan to slip some French into the opening ceremony, seeing there will be a french speaker on the premises.

BBP

One very important item is going to be our Brown Bean Patrol.

You see, Assen has this thing with brown beans. At the far edge of the park opposite the convention hotel there is the statue of Bartje - a little boy who hated the ubiquitous brown beans and when invited to pray before dinner, refused, saying, 'I ain't praying for no brown beans!'

So we decoded to elevate brown beans to our CozyCon5 spear point. You have been given a Brown Bean Card on which you can collect points. They are given away at random without rhyme or reason and our feared Patrol members can even take points away!

At the end of the convention, at the Finale, all will be made clear and those most deserving will get prizes on the strength of their Brown Bean Points. Or not of course...

More Fun Things

But of course there are more fun things to do. There is a verrry modest dealers' room with books and dragons. Look in the programme for the opening hours.

The video room offers as usual action-packed video nights, but in the daytime it will be given over to more sedate pursuits, Kiddy corner, jig saws, and at a pinch smoke free seating when the programme hall is too packed.

There is a live role playing game, which you might want to join. Just apply at the registration desk. Never mind about the language. We have foreigners in real life too, here!

Workshops

Two of our workshops are really geared to Dutch speakers only, Storytelling and (book) reviewing →

But there is one workshop where anybody is welcome, in whatever language, the Maskerade Workshop.

This year we'll have a totally different Maskerade concept. We can't wait to see all of you in the Parade.

Furthermore...

The description of Programme items will aid you in making your choice. There will be a market going on in Assen on the Saturday and the rightly famous Drents Museum is mounting an exhibition called 100.00 years of Sex... Go to it!

Registration

That's where you can (still) book your banquet ticket, get info on programme items changed or misplaced and other useful stuff.

Should you want aspirins, a plaster, needle and thread or sani pads, just ask for the zippered toilet bag.

Smoking

Smoking is permitted in the Bar only, apart from working dealers in the dealers' room. The back of the Programme hall serves as a smokefree loungeing area - with the understanding ongoing programmes are not disturbed. During Items where we expect a lot of people to turn up, the Video room offers another refuge.

The Programma

V1 Grand Opening

V2 Take an advance on horrors to come and tell us what your favourite horror story is.

V4 Watch out for the BBP!

Za1 Do some fingerpainting with the kids or start up a jig saw puzzle (wash hands first!)

Za2 Get some gentle but firm exercise with Nadia Adams
