From the Chair

Hello and welcome to ConFusion 2021!

We are very excited to share with you our vision for what an in-person yet virtual convention would look like. It has been an unusual time to be alive. At this time last year I (and most of this committee) had to bring you the news that Concentric 2020 was cancelled. We then asked you to allow us to bring ConFusion to you and you agreed. Oh, we had such grand plans for that; all of us sure that in a year we would be back in person. And so we embarked on a journey that would prove to be a journey of discovery; of how to make what seemed impossible possible and bring you something as close to that in-person experience as we could get in what is still a virtual world.

And so here we are. We are very thankful that our wonderful Guests of Honour, Dan Abnett, Nik Vincent-Abnett and Dave Lally, all agreed to go on this journey with us. We have a wonderful art show and a great dealers room. There are not one but two bars and a games room. We have seven streams of great programmes for you to peruse and you may want to take a peek into the Heart of Gold to see where in time and space it happens to be. In short, we have done our very best to pick up an in-person convention and translate it to a virtual space.

We hope all of you will find as much enjoyment here as we have had creating it. Our sense of whimsy and fun has seen us through these strange days, and we expect you will find some fun here as well.

Thank you for joining us as we complete our journey. We hope you enjoy this flight of fancy aboard our spaceship The ConFusion! All my very best,

Vanessa May aka Incognito

She has worked as a ghost writer, and regularly collaborates with her partner, Dan Abnett, writing novels, and working on projects for the games industry. Nik's first solo, independent novel, Savant, was published by Solaris in 2016. She lives and works in Maidstone, Kent, where she cooks and decorates, and throws pots.

Fan Guest of Honour

Dave Lally

Dave Lally is well known across the whole of UK, Irish and European fandom, and he has been active in the organisation and promotion of fannish events since his first UK Eastercon in 1984. He has run video programmes for Worldcons including The Hague 1990 (Confiction), Glasgow 1995 (Intersection) and 2005 (Interaction), for many of the Eastercons between 1991 – 2005, and for many Octocons, as well.

He was chair of the European SF Society from 2006 – 2013, and since 2014, he has been the Membership Officer for the British SF Association. He was also a member of the 2016 Eastercon committee (Mancunicon). He sees conventions as fandom's lifeblood, allowing interaction not just between Guests and fans, but between fans themselves. Outside fandom, Dave worked in financial services, but is now retired. Irish by birth, he now lives in London.

Virtual Art Show

How to view art

The Art Show is on a Platform called Kunstmatrix which can be accessed through the Convention Gather Town Art Show space, the Convention Website or directly through www.Kunstmatrix.com.

Kunstmatrix works on computer desktops, laptops, tablets and smart phones and can also be linked to a Smart TV screen.

What you will see on entering Kunstmatrix is Confusion 2021 Art Show and several exhibition rooms with the names of the artists exhibited in each. Click on the Enter Exhibition rectangle and you are in.

The first thing you will see is a quick guide to navigating. You have a choice of taking yourself around the room using direction keys (on your screen or keyboard) or by clicking on the Tour Gallery option for a guided tour of all the pieces.

You can go up to a piece by clicking on the image itself. This will give you options which include (i) for information about that piece or a "catalogue view" of the artist's work with an option to go to others individually.

We have listed the actual size of each piece, whether it is an original or a print/limited edition print, the medium used (pen, acrylics etc) and the price if it is for sale. With some pieces you will also have additional information from the artist. Please be aware that the images on the KUNstrmatrix Gallery site are NOT to scale with the rooms they are in!

Some print items have only one for sale, others multiple and this is also shown.

Prices include postage (first class and mostly recorded) to addresses within the UK. Some artists are happy to post outwith the UK but you should ask them about postage first because there will be an additional charge. Of course, this also means we ask for a postal address when you buy your item!

How to purchase art

In the information section of each piece there will be a link to our ConFusion Art Shop if the item is for sale. Click on this link and you can follow the instructions to purchase.

You will notice you have a Cart option which allows you to put more than one piece from any of our artists into your Cart.

HOWEVER, and this is important, you have not completely reserved that item until you take it to Checkout to pay. Be aware that while you have items in a cart, someone else may also be looking to buy that piece so we recommend you buy straight away or as soon as possible. We have no way around this on our system. If you miss out on a piece, feel free to contact the artist who may have other prints available on demand.

The art show team will be on hand to help over the course of the convention. You can ask an art show guardian in the Gather Town Art Show space for help or you can e-mail artshow@confusion2021.uk for either John or Serena. We'll be available during the convention to help and answer questions.

We are very excited to try a new way to exhibit and sell the convention art and hope you enjoy the exhibitions we have put together. Constructive feedback on the virtual experience is always welcomed but we sincerely hope to get back to pegboard, white tac and an actual venue before long!

Virtual Dealers Room

Welcome to the Dealers Room! Here you'll find our dealer tables and our fan tables. Read on to find out how to interact with the objects you'll find in here, how to talk to a dealer or volunteer and how to make a purchase.

How the tables work

When you enter the Dealers Room, you'll see there are lots of tables and items in front of you. As you get close to one, you'll notice certain objects gain a yellow glow and a notification, such as 'Press x to view catalogue' appears towards the bottom of your screen. Pressing the X key on your keyboard will let you interact with these objects, and this way you can view catalogues, videos, pdfs, websites and more!

These objects will generally be towards the edge of a private space, so you can browse a catalogue without having to go and talk to a dealer or fan table representative immediately. When you're ready to chat, step past the objects into the dealer table or fan table, and you can have a conversation. Since you'll be in a private space, you don't need to worry about being overheard and you won't be disturbed by audio from users around you in the surrounding public space. Some dealers and fan tables will have a smaller private space within their overall space, so if you need to have a sensitive or confidential conversation, the dealer can show you this extra spot and you can converse in confidence.

Making a purchase

Whilst you're in Gather Town, you are not able to complete a purchase using the in-platform browser. To buy anything, you must open the website in a new tab and complete purchase outside of Gather Town. Don't worry, there's no onerous copy/pasting, you just need to find the bulletin which each table will have, interact with it and click the link it contains. Links contained in note objects, so long as they start with <http://> or <https://> will be clickable and open in a new tab, allowing you to make purchases quickly and easily. Some dealers have multiple online shop fronts, and each will be labeled and listed in their bulletin.

Every dealer table and fan table will be accompanied by a bulletin, which will look like this:

If you've found something specific you'd like to purchase, or investigate further, you can ask a dealer to send you a link via text chat. Links in text chat are also clickable.

Opening hours

The Dealers Room is open from 12:00 Friday 2nd April until 16:00 Monday 5th April. Unlike a physical con, the Dealers Room doesn't close! You can browse and purchase at any time of night or day!

Individual Dealers and Fan Table Volunteers may or may not be present. There are so many exciting parts of the ship they could be off exploring! If you need to chat to someone from a Dealers or Fan Table, please consider using the contact information found on their websites. If you know the name of the member representing the table, you can always send them a text chat and ask them to meet you at their Table.

If any of the terms you've encountered are unfamiliar, please consult the README for a more detailed explanation. We hope you'll enjoy ConFusion 2021's Dealers Room!
