Sou' Wester

If you support the first Eastercon in the South West for twenty-one years, Bristol will come of age with a good, solid, well-run Eastercon.

You will get:

- ♦ A masquerade, of course
- ♦ All the function rooms on the same level, same site
- ♦ AND a programme

Sou' Wester

will also offer

- ♦ Absurdly easy travel from all parts of the country, by road, rail, air, canal, ... hot air balloon ...
- ♦ The delights of the Avon Gorge, the Severn Bridge, the Georgian grandeur of Bristol
- ♦ Easy access to the even-further-West Country: Glastonbury, etc.
- ♦ More Real-Ale pubs per square yard than is entirely reasonable
- ♦ Lots of local authors who don't usually go to cons

Sou' Wester

will be run by an old/devious committee (none of this young and enthusiastic business), chaired by Marcus Streets and currently including Gary Strachman, Pat Silver, Rae Ramsbottom, Robert Maughan, Ben Brown, Chris Bell and David V. Barrett.
