Chairman's Message

For those of you that are actually reading the program book AT the convention, I'd like to say a few words:

We are trying a lot of new stuff this year to broaden and enrich the convention experience. We have a Media Guest this year (Stephen Furst), and an off-site activity (the Animal House Movie presentation) both of which are rarely attempted in local conventions. We are providing a more down-to-earth costuming experience and social event with the Toga Party powered by the Dark Ones. The Modern Dances and conventional Masquerades have seemed to run their course, and I think everyone agrees that it is time to try something new. We have also brought back a carefully crafted Video Room for your enjoyment. Expanded gaming has been popular in the last couple of years and will be reinforced with some fun raffle prizes for winners! Conventions have taken a hit in the past few years largely because of the internet, and the bad economy. In attempting to mitigate this, we have tried to bring as much unique content to you as we can manage. This is indeed the year of "The Great Change".

I'm sure you will have a great time meeting our Guests of Honor Franchesco!, Stephen Furst, and Joe Haldeman. I am happy to say that it is about time that our local Guests of Honor Mark Greenawalt and Todd VanHooser have been recognized for their contributions over the years; I'm sure you will enjoy visiting with them as well. Returning Musical Guests of Honor Jeff and Maya Bohnhoff are amazing people you should meet too!

I'm hoping that my staff and myself have provided the best possible convention experience for you! I thank everyone that has helped in this gigantic task; it has been a long road for everyone involved. If you happen to notice any staff members in your journey through the Convention, please take the time to thank them for all of their hard work. Remember, they are all volunteers! Have fun, and let us know if you have any suggestions for making it better!

Artist Guest of Honor: Franchesco!

Franchesco! Appreciation by Larry Vela

An appreciation cannot start out without saying that Franchesco is one of the best comic book artists. The images that he creates are fantastic, as they give you enjoyment with the balance of color and action. The most notable thing that you will notice are his women, they are what you would say are buxom, but he illustrates them with class so everyone can appreciate them. His work has appeared at DC Comics and Marvel Comics as well as other venues. His current project is Anarchy by Axe, a graphic novel on YouTube.

My first time meeting Franchesco, was a very enjoyable experience. I was helping out at the 2002 San Diego Comic-Con, where I had to check in the artists into the Artists' Alley. It would be on this encounter that Franchesco would show his ability to comfort people with his smile. I never have seen anyone that could make a black cloud go away as fast as he could, as he can always make you feel good. The fans that come up to him see an artist that is down to earth and makes their day a special one.

Several years ago while at San Diego Comic-Con, it seemed that destiny would have Franchesco and I running into each other while getting dinners. We had a great time talking and laughing during these times. One of those evenings he invited me to a party that his publisher was having. We walked to the venue and were checked against the "list". We were walking in and heard music that sounded like Cheap Trick, as we got closer I realized that it was Cheap Trick. There were only 85 people at the party so this made it special. This told me that Franchesco ran in a big crowd and he wanted to share this experience. We ate at the buffet, only to run into the band's manager. The stories we heard made us laugh and shake our heads. This night was only the first of many times that we would enjoy at the many conventions.

Time has given myself the opportunity to know more about Franchesco. As an artist myself, we have been able to talk about art and how life is as an artist. Through the conversations, we have created a bond of friendship that I hope will last a lifetime and I hope that you will get the chance to meet him.

Book Donations for Homeless Children

To benefit Children First Academy (formerly the Thomas J. Pappas School for Homeless Children)

The Children First Academy is a charter school with a goal to provide services directed toward homeless children in grades K-8. Their campuses in Tempe and Phoenix serve homeless children all over the Phoenix Valley with services that go beyond the responsibilities of regular schools by providing the children with services such as medical and dental assistance, clothing including socks and shoes, food, personal hygiene supplies, and school supplies. Additionally, they also try to make each child's birthday special since many of the children have never celebrated a birthday before coming to the school.

The Children First Academy depends on community support from organizations and individuals in order to help the children. A "Wish List" can be found on the website under "What You Can Do."

Leprecon Inc. will be placing a special donation box near the Registration Table area in the foyer of the convention center. We will be collecting books to distribute to these homeless children. This donation will place a book directly into the hands of a homeless child for them to keep. This is not a thrift store or a library. The age ranges vary, but we would particularly like to see juvenile fiction. Please consider your book shelves with all those books you have read but don't really want to collect or keep and give a child a gift of a book of their own.

We will take anything you bring – if you donate adult fiction, we have an agreement with a local bookseller to exchange adult fiction for juvenile fiction. So keep an eye out for the big BOOK donation box. It will be located somewhere in the convention center lobby at LepreCon 38.

Author Guest of Honor Joe Haldeman

Joe Haldeman Appreciation

By John Scalzi

Ready? Of course you are. So here we go:

* Three dozen books (more or less), five Hugos, five Nebulas, three Rhyslins (that's for sf/f poetry), one each of World Fantasy, Locus, Tiptree and Campbell (no, not that Campbell, the other Campbell). Also: Grand Master Award from SFWA. Also also: Worldcon Guest of Honor, 1990. And what have you done with your life?

* However, has not won the Pulitzer, the Nobel nor has he has been an Oprah pick. So, obviously a slacker.

* Unbeknownst to me, my first encounter with Joe Haldeman as a writer was in the early 90s, when I rented the film Robot Jox from my local video store, which he I later learned he co-wrote with director Stuart Gordon. It's the story of men piloting large robots that then beat the crap out of each other. Let's just say I didn't rent it expecting high art. But at the end of it, I remember thinking, "wow, that didn't actually suck," which, for a film about robots beating the crap out of each other, is fairly high praise. In fact, having lived through all three Transformers films, I can say Robot Jox is the best-written film about robots beating the crap out of each other that I have ever seen.

* The first time I met Joe Haldeman in person was in 2005, in Glasgow, Scotland, at the Worldcon there. I was mildly stunned that Joe, august industry personage that he was (see first bullet point) had any idea who I was since at the time I had exactly one book to my name, but he did, although he admitted that he hadn't read the book. That's all right, I told him, because I haven't read The Forever War, so we're even. Joe, enraged, hurled me down an escalator. And that's how I broke my neck in Glasgow.

* Note: I lied about the broken neck thing. Also the escalator incident. Joe was in fact entirely gracious about the comment and laughed about it. Because he's a mensch, you see. However, the Haldeman/Scalzi Escalator Incident of 2005 makes for a far better story, so I expect it to show up on Wikipedia any day now.

* But, yeah, I hadn't read The Forever War at the time, which turned out to be a mildly uncomfortable thing since people were assuming left and right that my novel Old Man's War was in some way a response to Joe's novel and indeed several reviews were written about the book under that assumption. It annoyed reviewers when I noted it hadn't been a reaction to Joe's book, since that meant either their review was inaccurate or I was lying, and clearly their review wasn't inaccurate.

* I've since read it. I SWEAR.

* And as very good as The Forever War is (not to mention, you know, the rest of Joe's output over four decades), as a writer, the novel of Joe's I have a special place in my heart for is War Year, his very first novel. It's a practical, you-are-there look at the life of a Vietnam-era soldier, but what makes it impressive is that it's written in "Simple English" -- i.e., using a restricted vocabulary and grammar designed to help new readers, including adults with limited reading skills, gain a foothold in literacy. Here's the thing:

It's one thing to come up with a decent novel when you have an entire language to run around in. It's another thing entirely to write a decent novel sticking to about a thousand words and a basic grammar. That's a pretty neat trick. I don't think I could do it.

* 2005 in Glasgow is also when I met Gay Haldeman, who is an utter delight of a human being in her own right, of course, but whose partnership with her husband is the not-so-secret to his success. I know this because I have the same dynamic at work with my own marriage to a woman who is both muse and practical, real-world partner. On one hand, it's entirely a coincidence that in both our most famous novels, both about war, there's a primary character clearly patterned after our wives. On the other hand, it's not a coincidence at all, any more than it's a coincidence that Heinlein had so many competent redheads in his work. I'm not going to say that a fantastic spouse is the cornerstone to any successful science fiction or fantasy literature career. But looking at Gay and Joe, it's obvious that it doesn't hurt.

* It's been, what? About seven years? Since I first met Joe (and Gay) and since our first meeting I've had the opportunity to see him up close and personal as a writer, as member of the science fiction community (he's a past president of SFWA; I'm the current president) and as a personage admired by fans, newbie writers and peers. Joe has plenty of opportunity to walk around like a preening bigshot and I have never seen it him do it, even once. He's polite, he's gracious, he's thoughtful and (as exemplified in our first encounter) he's kind. And you know, that's an excellent object lesson for anyone.

And that's what I have for you about Joe. He's walking around with you guys this weekend, so you'll get to experience him yourself. Enjoy him. Spend a little time with him. Tell him I said hello. Ask him about the Escalator Incident of 2005. If he doesn't recall it (and why should he, I made it up for this intro) be sure to "remind" him of it. Feel free to embellish this from what I've already provided here. If I don't hear back from LepreCon attendees that the story now includes lasers, sharks and robots at least, then I'm going to be very, very disappointed.

VERY.

That is all.

Media Guest of Honor Stephen Furst

Stephen Furst: An Appreciation

By Mark Boniece

Remember that scene in ANIMAL HOUSE where Kent "Flounder" Dorfman says, "I can't believe I threw up in front of Dean Wormer!", and Boon says, "Face it, Kent, you threw up ON Dean Wormer!"?

Or what about that great scene in BABYLON 5 when Mr. Morden asks Vir Cotto the ubiquitous question, "What do you want?" and he responds, "I'd like to live just long enough to be there when they cut off your head and stick it on a pike, as a warning to the next ten generations that some favors come with too high a price...I would look up into your lifeless eyes and wave... Like this."

Can you forget Albert, that mentally deranged character in DREAM TEAM that spoke only in phrases from TV shows, or the portrayal of favorite character Dr. Axelrod in ST. ELSEWHERE? What do these great performances, and many more have in common? The amazing acting talent of Stephen Furst!

Don't miss a special screening of "Animal House" at the Madcap Theatre (University & Mill, Tempe AZ) on Friday, April 6th for your viewing pleasure, including an appearance by Flounder (Stephen Furst) himself to conduct a Question and Answer session! For a paltry sum, you too may enjoy this event! There are presently plans for two screenings, the first one at 9:00 PM, the second at Midnight, with the Q & A session between.

This special screening is being done in conjunction with Stephen's appearance as a Special Media Guest at the LepreCon Sci-Fi/Fantasy Convention on Easter weekend (April 6-8) at the Mission Palms Hotel (60 East 5th St., Tempe AZ).

To participate in the whole convention, or just the special screening (separate ticket required) visit the LepreCon website at www.leprecon.org/lep38 !

TO-GA, TO-GA! There will be an Animal House style Toga Party with Stephen Furst, featuring great music and free drinks! Don't let this slip by! (Toga desired, but not required).

Stephen will be selling autographed photos in the convention Dealer's room, There will be autographed items as prizes in the gaming room, as well as more autographed items for sale in the Charity Auction, benefiting the Renal Support Network, Stephen's personal charitable choice.

If you would like to have one-on-one with Stephen, there will be a Guest Dinner (pay for your own food) at Monti's La Casa Vieja, right across the street from the hotel, or a Meet-the-Pros reception (free with convention membership), both on Friday evening.

Stephen will be discussing his entire acting and filmmaking career in depth at the convention. Among many other things, for his numerous Babylon 5 fans, he will be appearing at a presentation where his comments and insights will be heard about favorite show segments.

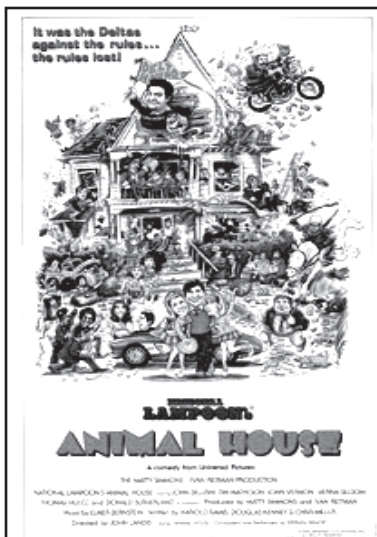

Stephen will captain a team in Sci-Fi Jeopardy on Saturday afternoon; you can play on his team, or on another team against him. Will there be Stephen Furst questions you may ask? Of course, but there will be other question categories to balance things out, too.

For his Dream Team fans, Stephen will present his comments and discussion.

Many of you know that Stephen's recent work includes directing and production of independent and low-budget movies. He will discuss and preview his work, and lend his insights to interested indie filmmakers.

Remember, to participate in the entire convention, or just the special screening (separate ticket required) visit the LepreCon website at www.leprecon.org/lep38 often to keep up with the updates every week.

Local Artist: Mark Greenawalt

Mark Greenawalt Interview & Appreciation.... By PJ Hultstrand

I recently interviewed Mark Greenawalt, on KWOD Radio, my Blog Talk show. Mark is a local Arizona artist and one of the Local Artist Guests for LepreCon38. Mark says he has been cursed with too many talents. His extraordinary talent(s) are always a local favorite of the speculative conventions.

Mark Greenawalt will have several body painting demos and workshops this LepreCon weekend, so if you wish to see him exhibiting one of his favorite talents, just check the pocket program for times and locations.

PJ: Why don't we start off with a small introduction? Tell us a little about yourself.

MG: A lot of people believe they can do anything. I try to believe that I can do everything. Sometimes that can be very rewarding, but I also burn the candle at both ends some times to the point of burn out. I just truly enjoy creating things and building portfolios. I have cycles when I just want to focus on one art form, body painting for example, but then an opportunity comes along to write a song for film and I suddenly switch gears and want to be a rock star. Then it's on to illustration and photography, and next I want to write a novel or a screenplay. I'm very blessed with the ability to do these things with a fair amount of proficiency, but it may be a curse that I will never be able to settle on one path.

PJ: Tell us what you do in your day job?

MG: By day I am an Electrical Engineer for SmithGroupJJR, one of the premier Architectural/Engineering firms in the country. I design the electrical systems and produce "blue prints" for large scale buildings. I have a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Penn State and I have been a licensed professional engineer since 1997. More recently I have become LEED certified which is related to the design of sustainable "green" buildings.

PJ: How does that apply to your body art?

MG: On the surface, my body art world and my engineering world are very divergent and I tend to deliberately keep them that way. There are, however, facets of each that cross over. The main one is lighting design. Part of the electrical design of an architectural facility is determining the best way to light it that will evoke a certain mood or feeling. This is the part of my day job that I am most passionate about because it allows me the most creative freedom. Many of the principles that I have learned about architectural lighting relate to the creative ways that I can light a model for a photoshoot. For both of these arenas, I have sought to become a talented photographer and I have read as many photography books as I can get my hands on and I practiced photography to hone my skills at both architectural lighting and studio lighting. Beyond that I would say the other main crossover is the use of computers. In the engineering world the computer is my primary tool and I have had to learn multiple programs. Being computer savvy has helped me do illustration and photo touching with Photoshop, design my own websites with Dreamweaver, and most importantly develop proposals and invoices with Excel!

PJ: Do you think this art form is in the mainstream now that we see body painting in commercials?

MG: I think that the shock has kind of worn off for people to see body painting on TV or in a magazine, but I am often surprised by how many people see my work and state that they have never seen bodypainting live and up close. I love the fact that it is becoming a little more mainstream and people are realizing that it is a serious art form and not just people pushing the limits of what they can get away with. The nudity factor, however, will always keep this art form just beyond mainstream in my opinion. There is such a wide range of reactions to the naked body and I don't think that will ever change.

PJ: What do you look for in a model before working with them?

MG: The bottom line is that the model needs to be photogenic. When I look through the photos in a model's portfolio and see that they look great in nearly every shot, then I know that adding bodypainting to the mix will not change the fact that they are going to look great, no matter how good the painting is. Then if I am fortunate enough to bring my A-game and do a top notch painting and the photographer (me most of the time) also brings the A-game, there is a chance to capture a magical moment in time. Another important trait is enthusiasm for becoming a body painted art work. A model who is truly engaged in co-creating the final images is able to act out the part of their character and help sell the fantasy. And, of course if the candidate is a celebrity supermodel, then I am very inclined to choose them for projects.

PJ: Do you think men are your biggest fans or women?

MG: Hmmmm, interesting question. I think that depends on the venue and the painting. If I am doing a liquor logo on a model in a night club, then it is primarily men who are interested in the painting (many of them have little interest in the art and are instead drooling over the scantily clad woman, so I'm not sure that they qualify as fans of my work). In art gallery settings, I think it is probably a pretty even mix. Thinking back I would guess that I have sold more calendars to men, but I have probably had more women sign up for my mailing list. I'm sure that the target demographic is men, but I do believe that women seem to be more passionate about the potential beauty of the art, fashion, and even the female form.

PJ: We talked on the radio program a few weeks ago, and I made note that you are doing less body art jobs then you did some years ago? Please share your explanation to why this is happening?

MG: I have become a little more selective in the projects that I take on. Since I am not making a living from body art income, I can choose the projects that are more in-line with my style and preferred genre and turn down the ones that just aren't "me" even though they may be lucrative. Truth be told I have gotten older, and maybe a little wiser, and I don't feel the need to take on every project just to add another piece to my portfolio. Another unfortunate part of this business is that some of my recurring projects are lost due to things like an art gallery closing it's doors (The Paper Heart) and sometimes being underbid by other artists willing to work for free. Bodypainting can be a very expensive craft and it is time consuming and occasionally exhaustive, but don't get me wrong, I love it all the same.

PJ: Where do you see this art form going in the future?

MG: I see it becoming an integral part of high-fashion for runway shows, red carpet events, and celebrity promotional imagery. I'd love to see bodypainting be on display at art galleries, Vegas type showcases, and possibly even gentlemen's clubs where all of the dancers are painted. I also see the art form becoming more prevalent in private settings where couples buy the body paints and have fun with experimenting with paints. The thing that I would like to see most, however, is for body painters to be recognized for their talents and to have their work (live or photographs) showcased in high end galleries like the Phoenix Art Museum.

PJ: What advice would you have for an aspiring artist?

MG: This isn't a job that you type up a resume and apply for, so you don't have to wait to be hired. Get started now even if it means looking in a mirror and painting on your own face. Once you have the feel for the way the paints work, you'll have no trouble finding willing "canvases" to collaborate with. There are plenty of "how to" videos on Youtube, but I would recommend getting some ideas drawn on paper and then experiment with them on skin. It all washes off so there is no need to worry about making mistakes. The other piece of advice I often tell new artists is to "produce" the photographed image. Place your model in the right setting for what you are painting (a cheetah will look cheesy in front of a refrigerator for example). Get some props that will help bring the painting to life. Plan the work and then work the plan.

PJ: What have we seen at previous local conventions?

MG: Much of my recent work has been original characters that I have dreamt up and brought to life. Some of them have back stories and others are just inspired by the fantasy world that I have grown up loving and continue to be intrigued by. Some of my recent favorites have been an elven princess, Thor's wife Sif, a spider woman, several aliens, and a gargoyle. Besides the original stuff, I have done paintings inspired by Star Wars, Star Trek, Lady Death, X-Men, Robert A. Heinlein novels, rock bands, and movies (The Mummy, Terminator, Queen of the Damned).

PJ: What are your goals in the future for your art talent(s)?

MG: My bodypainting goals are to include more celebrities in my portfolio and also to get my work published on the cover a couple of mainstream magazines. Filmmaking has become a new passion of mine that allows several of my art talents to be included. I bring special effects make-up along with bodypainting to music videos and films and then I am able to incorporate some of my songwriting and musical talents in the film score. I have been commissioned to illustrate a children's book that will hopefully published later this year and I am looking forward to that opening the door for more illustration work. In general, I am really just hoping to collaborate with some really talented people to create some magical works of art that can be enjoyed by many, many people and I hope that I can share my skills and processes with aspiring artists who will in turn inspire me.

Music Guests of Honor: Jeff and Maya Bohnhoff

Jeff and Maya Bohnhoff

By Nancy Louise Freeman

It's all a plot, I tell you. An insidious plot - to rule the world!

It all began, innocently enough, in 1995, at San Francisco's Baycon. An unassuming pair of newcomers showed up at the open filksing and proceeded to blow the room away with wicked parodies and top rate musicianship. "They" were science fiction novelist and kick-ass soprano Maya Kaathryn Bohnhoff, and her husband (and smokin' guitarist) Jeff Bohnhoff, who had both been working the California bar beat for years in various short-lived rock bands. With their brilliant classic rock parodies - such as "Knights in White Satin," a tragic tale of chivalry and cross-dressing - and original songs, Jeff and Maya would transform the face of filk and begin their path to world domination.

Think I'm exaggerating?

In a sunny corner of the Bohnhoff's San Jose basement is the location of Mystic Fig Studios, Jeff's secret musical laboratory, where he constructs his fantastic creations. In addition to their five albums (Retro Rocket Science, Manhattan Sleeps, Aliens Ate My Homework, Mobius Street and Grated Hits), Jeff has also produced Seanan McGuire's Red Roses and Dead Things, the Harmony Heifers' eponymous album, and my own Blues for Dumuzi and Stardust County. In fact, he has a queue of musicians from the filk and Baha'i communities waiting to do projects with him, including Mary Crowell's upcoming album Acolytes of the Machine and Seanan McGuire's next album. There's a reason for that; his devotion to his craft, and just being an all-around nice guy and easy to work with. And did I mention that he's a smokin' guitar player?

Coincidentally, Maya's writing desk is also located in this sunny corner. In addition to her amazing vocal talents, Maya is also a prolific and award-winning author of such books as The Meri, and the e-anthology I Loved Thy Creation. She's one of the founders of BookViewCafe.com, a writers' co-op where you can buy e-books direct from the authors. She co-wrote the Star Wars novel Patterns of Force with Michael Reaves, and their recent collaboration Star Wars: Shadow Games debuted at number 25 on the NY Times Bestseller list. Maya is also a Really Nice Person and a keen baseball fan.

Jeff & Maya have won more Pegasus Awards than I can keep track of. They've been Guests of Honor at every regional filk convention in the US, the UK filk con, FilkContinental in Germany and Canada's FilkOntario. What more evidence do you need to accept their total global domination? Bwah ha ha ha ha ha!

Oops, did I say that out loud?

Gaming Guest of Honor:

Todd VanHooser

Accomplished Game Master, Game Developer and Published Author of Fantasy/Adventure and Horror Books.

Todd VanHooser

By Patti Hultstrand

Todd VanHooser is an accomplished Game Master, Game Developer, and Published Author of several fantasy-adventure books and one short story horror book. It has taken him since college to develop his Adventures Under the Laughing Moon Role-Playing Game Books and now he has two brand new supplemental Power and Spell books to go with his main full color game book.

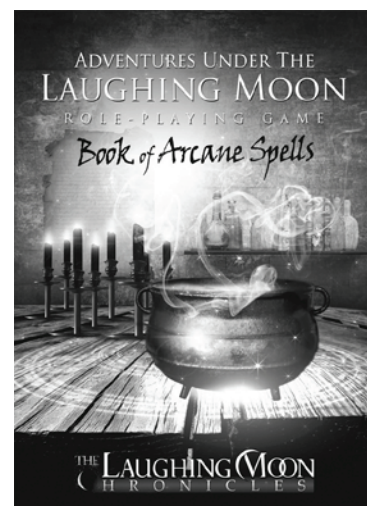

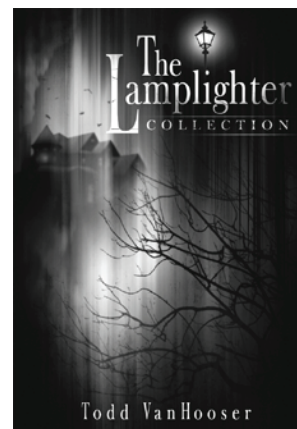

I met Todd in 2009, at the CopperCon in the fall of that year. I picked up his Barren Twelve book and its 600+ pages and knew right away he was a serious writer. He has developed his fantasy world to the point of allowing others to enter that world in the form of a LARP that has become a regular game to play at all the local conventions in Arizona.

Todd takes great pride and care in everything he does, whether writing an epic adventure or developing a beautifully illustrated and developed game book. When he is not writing or creating new adventures under the laughing moon, he can be found teaching English and Creative Writing at a local high school in Goodyear, Arizona.

Even though he does everything very well, he still took my suggestion for a change in his cover of "The Barren Twelve" very well. I told him that while his covers were very beautiful and powerful, they lacked the one thing that is common for all fantasy books; characters. It took some time for Todd to trust me, but once he worked with me on his short-story horror book, "The Lamplighter Collection," he was finally ready to redo "The Barren Twelve" and then really surprised me with his game books.

I have grown to really appreciate his attention to details over the almost three years we have been friends and doing business together. I congratulate Todd on the completion of two more beautiful supplemental game books that we got printed in time for LepreCon 38.

LepreCon 38 Policies

General Policies

Please keep in mind that first and foremost, the rules of polite society apply while attending the convention. Convention Security will be onsite and if you are observed doing anything out of line, you will be politely informed that your actions are unacceptable. Remember that your convention badge is your key to not only your attendance at convention functions, but also your key to special room rates. The badge remains the property of the Convention and those causing serious problems will have their badges confiscated and memberships revoked. There are no refunds. If that happens, the hotel will be informed that the convention discount no longer applies to that person and you will be charged the full rate.

Also keep in mind that Convention Security personnel are not law enforcement officers. They are merely volunteers that try to act as a buffer between the convention members and hotel security and/or the local police. Basically, Convention Security tries to diffuse difficult situations before the hotel security people deem it necessary to get involved. They're not trying to ruin your good time... they're trying to keep you and the convention as a whole out of trouble. We all want to have a good time and enjoy the convention. That includes the people working Security. They're not "the bad guys." Work with them.

Weapons Policy

Carrying and wearing of weapons of any kind will not be permitted, except as part of a hall costume if peace-bonded by our Security Director. No real or realistic looking firearms are allowed and all bladed weapons must be sheathed.

Any weapons purchased in the Dealers Room must be securely wrapped before they are taken out of the room.

The committee realizes that most people who would like to carry and wear weapons are sensible and careful individuals. However, because of the present liability laws, the risk of weapons causing accident or distress, and in observance of the hotel's weapons policy, we have no choice but to comply. The safety of convention members is our overriding consideration, as well as cooperating fully with the hotel's security personnel.

Con-Ops/Security - Campanille

Convention Operations is the Con Office during LepreCon. We will be located in the Campanille room in the southwest corner of the Mission Palms courtyard. We expect to be open 24 hours from the start of our convention. Con Ops is primarily for supporting the convention departments with things like pens, paper, etc. We also handle phone calls for information from the public. After Registration closes, we become the late night registration location for folks who want to be part of our event, but can't get there earlier in the day. Finally, if you have any questions, or if you have a problem that needs resolving where you've exhausted all other ways to get it done, come by and we'll see what we can do. This includes hotel issues, other member issues, complaints about something we did or didn't do, etc. You can call this room or just drop by. In the event that we're out for any reason, there will be a cell phone number posted on the door for use in contacting us.

Hospitality Suite - 2038

The LepreCon 38 Hospitality Suite will be located in room 2038 in the NorthWest corner of the second floor of the hotel. Our hours of operation will be listed in the Pocket Program. It is open to all members of LepreCon. We will be serving light food and munchies such as chips, salsa, nuts, etc. We also plan to offer nonalcoholic beverages such as sodas, iced tea, lemonade, coffee, hot tea, etc. Please come by for some socializing and feeding that empty spot in your day.

Taking Videos/Photos: It is always best to ask permission before taking a photo or video of someone or a group of someones. Program participants may or may not allow recording of their likeness or voice. Ask to be sure.

We will have FREE Drawings for T-shirts and Books at all three of the LIVE Virtual Panels
on Saturday starting at 10am.
Must be present to win!

LepreCon General Information

Art Show - Palm BC

We are proud to announce Franchesco as our Artist Guest of Honor

Our Local Artist Guest of Honor is Mark Greenawalt. We are planning a guided tour of the art show Friday evening hosted by Franchesco and Mark. Check your pocket program for exact time.

Once again, LepreCon will offer the best of science fiction and fantasy art to the fans of Phoenix. We will be located in the Palm ballroom along with the Dealer's Room.

LepreCon has the largest science fiction and fantasy art show in the Southwest and features hundreds of original artwork and limited addition prints for sale and up for bid. The most popular items will go to the Art Auction on Sunday.

Artists that have reserved space include:

R.M. Bollerud, Sarah Clemens, Amy Schulz, Tabitha Ladin, Yvonne V. Richardson, Lubov, Betsy Mott, Chris Dame, Daniel Cortopassi, George Parmenter, Michael Sorensen, Jeri Housel, David Pancake, Jason Youngdale, Dain Gore, Chris Smith, Heather Kreiter, Robert Ball, David Perrine, John E. Kaufmann, Lisa Knight-Rubino, Rachael Mayo, Cori Trout, Victoria Mock, Nancy Strowger, Ava Maureen Durbin, Robert Book and more.

If you've never bid on art at a convention before and would like more information, just stop by the desk in the Art Show and ask. Our friendly staff will be happy to explain everything.

The Art Auction will be held at 1PM on Sunday, check the pocket program for location. Pieces with two or more bids will go to the voice auction and buyer pickup will be after the auction.

This year we will be featuring a print shop-an area for artists to sell multiple prints of some of their more popular work. Come in and purchase some of your favorite prints.

We will accept Visa, MasterCard and Discover as well as cash and checks.

Come in early and often to feast your eyes on all the wonderful work presented by our talented artists. We are looking forward to seeing you there.

LepreCon Charity Auction

It is my pleasure to bring to all the members a Charity Auction to benefit The Renal Support Network. 100% of the proceeds will be given to this charity.

The Renal Support Network (RSN) is an American nonprofit, kidney patient-focused, kidney patient-run organization that works to benefit individuals affected by chronic kidney disease (CKD). RSN's mission is to help patients develop their personal coping skills, special talents, and employability by educating and empowering them (and their family members) to take control of the course and management of the disease.

RSN works to achieve their mission through their national patient meeting and regional patient lifestyle meetings and the RSN Patients Educating Patients & Professionals (PEPP) Patient Speakers Program. Information and education programs include the Kidney Times website and the KidneyTalk biweekly podcast. RSN sponsors Renal Teen Proms in Los Angeles and Washington DC.

A vital role of RSN is to provide lawmakers and policymakers with the patients' perspective on the needs and capabilities of people with CKD. RSN does this through their Wellness & Education Kidney Advocacy Network (weKAN).

The Charity Auction usually has a pretty good selection of just about everything: lots of books, maybe some nice art, collectibles from movies and TV shows, and who knows what else might show up. The one thing you can count on is a good time. Everything will be on display in the Art Show until the auction begins.

There will be Charity Auction Program Guides available at Registration. The auction is scheduled for Saturday 1130am-130pm in the Cloister room. We will accept cash, checks and credit cards but not children or husbands. Winners will be able to pay for and collect their items right after the auction ends but not during the auction.

If you have anything in your closets, garages or storage units and need to find good homes for them, please keep us in mind for next year. Send me an email and I'll arrange a pickup, if necessary.

All books that are presented as a First Edition are done so at the best judgment of our Charity Auction Director. No guarantee is made by Catherine Book, Leprecon, Inc. or LepreCon38 for any item. If you have any questions, please ask via e-mail or inspect the item prior to auction.

And, finally – we'd like to acknowledge/thank all our generous donators (in no particular order): Imperial Outpost Games, Bookmans Entertainment, Dr. David Williams, Book Gallery, Mike Fett, Game Depot, Jacqueline Lichtenberg, Sue Martin, Lee Whiteside, Kevin McAlonan and Samurai Comics plus those generous souls in the Dealer's Room. Please give them your consideration when searching for goodies to take home.

See you at the Auction; don't forget your money. Bid often, bid high...

Your tireless Charity Auction Director,
Catherine Book

Programming

Welcome to LepreCon38! "The Great Change" is our key phrase this year as it marks the year 2012; the year that the Mayan's stopped the hand of time by marking the end of the calendar as we have known it for centuries. We also meant "The Great Change" as a way of making some changes to how we see the LepreCon convention scene. As you look at the programming this year, you will not find some events or panels that have been a staple in these fan conventions for years; like the masquerade and the modern dance which have been losing participation by the membership for years now. It was time for change -- so why not make 2012 the year in which we stop the clock and make a mark on a new era for our civilization and for our convention going experience.

Some elements can't be changed and one is our emphasis always being on Art and Science Fiction. Our Artist Guest of Honor is Franchesco! and our Author Guest of Honor is Joe Haldeman. Our Local Author this year is Mark Greenawalt who has become a new staple at local conventions. And the Music Guests are Jeff and Maya Bohnhoff.

With our shake up of the status quo -- we have added a Media Guest of Honor; Stephen Furst who is best known for his roles in Animal House and Babylon 5. Also we have added a Gaming Guest of Honor, who this year has been paving the way in a LARP based on his published series.

Along with these changes we have added a new dimension to this convention by adding VIRTUAL PARTICIPANTS. We are excited to offer this new dimension of convention participation and hope to fill the room with people who would like to meet these authors/artists that they wouldn't normally be able to otherwise.

Also you may want to make note that we will be one of the host conventions this Easter weekend for the Hugo Award Announcements which marks a LIVE interaction with the Hugo committee who decides upon whom to put on the prestigious list of Authors who they feel excel in the area of science-fiction works. The Hugo Award nominees will be announced right here at our LepreCon right in the middle of the day, Saturday, April 7th, so come join the festivities.

We have so much to offer this year that you may have to find some No Doze in order to catch it all. Have a great time and enjoy yourself as if the end of the world is indeed eight months away. You can catch me in the corner snoring since No Doze makes me crazy.

Virtual Participants

A Virtual Participant is someone who isn't attending LepreCon physically, but still really wished to participate. Thanks to technology and the desire to expand our reach out to some authors or artists who just couldn't make the trip to Arizona, we are offering several special participants. These will be conducted on Saturday at the convention and will run about one hour each as an interview panel. The audience will be able to see, hear and ask questions of these panelists, and they will be able to see, hear and interact with the audience.

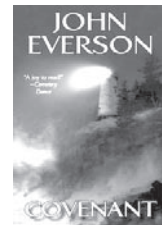

RAMSEY CAMPBELL

Ramsey Campbell is perhaps the world's most decorated author of horror, terror, suspense, dark fantasy, and supernatural fiction. He has won four World Fantasy Awards, ten British Fantasy Awards, three Bram Stoker Awards, and the Horror Writers' Association's Lifetime Achievement Award, and has been named a Grand Master of Horror.

GEORGE PARMENTER

Born in 1944, and grew up in New England. George went to college in Philadelphia, PA. He has had more jobs and projects than he can remember; most creative, though he's swept floors too. The constant in his life was always drawing. If he could have only one tool, it would probably be a pencil.

JOHN EVERSON is the Bram Stoker Award-winning author of Covenant, as well as the novels Sacrifice, The 13th, Siren and The Pumpkin Man, all released in paperback from Dorchester/Leisure Books. His sixth novel, an erotic horror descent into dark desire centered around a mysterious adult club called NightWhere, will be released by Samhain in the summer of 2012. He has had several short fiction collections issued by independent presses. Over the past 20 years, his short stories have appeared in more than 75 magazines and anthologies. He is also the founder and publisher of the independent press Dark Arts Books.

5-6pm, Joshua Tree. Hop David.

KID – SCI-FI Pictionary FOR KIDS

Lots of fun with Pictionary, except in our favorite genre of science-fiction.

5-7pm, Palm E. Jenny and Brian Duncan

LIT/ART - SCIENCE-FICTION IN COMICS

Science fiction is pretty common in anime and manga. When you're drawing manga or animating, it doesn't cost extra to set things in space. Come find out the variety of ways science fiction is portrayed in anime and manga, and get some recommendations, from giant robots to surprisingly accurate hard SF.

Sun 11:30a-12:30p, Xavier. Franchesco!, Larry Vela, Joe Haldeman, Dain Q. Gore, J. Scooter Harris,

ART/KIDS – KIDZ ART. Our on-site artists will help guide you using various types of art supplies and ideas. We'll have several mediums, plus markers, crayons, glitter glue and more. And, you get to display your work in the Art Show.

Meet the Man and the Machine in the foyer of the convention center, as he shows and tells all.
Sat 11:30am-12:30pm, Foyer – Tim Kiehl

ART - CARTOONS /SUPERHEROES NOT MADE 4 KIDS
Not every cartoon is designed or produced for children's consumption. Now adults are the collectors of the comic books and are more details sexually than any Playboy Magazine. Are these going overboard and why are they getting so mainstream for adults? How can or should we be censoring our cartoons when it's too easy for kids to view?
Sat 9-10pm, Sand Lotus. Franchesco!, Larry Vela, Victoria Mock, Ernest Hogan, J. Scooter Harris

COSTUMING - COS

COS/KID – INEXPENSIVE COSTUME IDEAS. We'll help with piles of fabric, fur, feathers and loads of imagination. You can even enter your new costume in the Masquerade.

ANIME - YOU GOT CYBERPUNK'D

Ghost in the Shell, Armatige, Battle Angel Alita, AppleSeed, and more! "Man and Machine"? "Man or Machine"?

Fri 6-7pm, Cavetto. A. Lilith Syn Blackflame (aka: T. L. Bryson)

ANIME - LGBT CHARACTERS IN MANGA AND ANIME

Lately there are more and more LGBT characters in manga and also anime. Boys' Love / Yaoi titles are relatively common, but there are also more Girls' Love / Yuri titles lately, and Hourou Musuko (Wandering Son) was a recent manga and anime that notably featured transgendered kids taken seriously as the main characters. How are LGBT characters portrayed in manga and anime? What titles would you recommend?

Sat 7-8p, Colonnade. Daniel Arthur, Todd Allis, Ernest Hogan

ANIME - TICKING FOR DEATHLOK

Amime has expanded and blossomed into something darker, yet a more complex. What do we love and what can we do without in Anime.

Sun 1-2pm, Boardroom

Panel Participants

TODD ALLIS

Todd has been involved in science fiction and anime fandom since the eighties. He has staffed dozens of conventions and has been active in newsletters, anime viewing clubs, parody fan dubs, room parties, anime rooms, and anime music videos. He studies Japanese on and off and has visited Japan on a budget and survived attending Comic Market twice. After attending several Worldcons, in 2006 he decided not to miss any more and has so far been successful at that. He currently contracts for Fujitsu Labs, and he still attends the anime club at Google in Mountain View. He primarily uses Linux at home, at work, and on his phone. A cat named Boo deigns to share his abode with Todd in exchange for housekeeping.

DANIEL ARTHUR

Daniel has been attending Science Fiction conventions since IguanaCon in 1978. He has volunteered for Arizona conventions for almost thirty years, working a NASFIC, two World Fantasy conventions, and more TusCons than he can remember (maybe about two or three hundred?). In his spare time, he reads cyberpunk, steampunk, fantasy, historical fiction, YA, and anything else he can get his hands on. He loves cooking gourmet food, is a rabid anime otaku, sushi addict, enjoys xeriscaping his front yard, and has lost countless hours of sleep playing MMORPGs. He has no clue how many times he's watched Firefly. In his day job, he writes for Pima County.

BRIAN AUGUSTYN

Brian Augustyn is an award-winning comic book editor and writer. His most notable works are The Flash from 1989 to 2000, The Justice League franchise from 1992 to 1996 and Impulse from 1995 to 1996. Brian also wrote DC's first-ever "Elseworlds" graphic novel, 'Batman: Gotham by Gaslight' in 1989; this was followed by a sequel in 1991. He has written (or cowritten) many comics and graphic novels over a 28 year career. JLA Year One, Crimson, Out there, The Imperial Guard, BPRD, Go-Boy 7, and hundreds more.

In 1993, Brian was honored with a GLAD special award for the Flash, and in 1994, was recognized for his work with the Wizard Fan Award for Favorite Editor. Augustyn is a freelance writer and editor and lives in the Phoenix area.

LEN BERGER

Len, known as the "moviemaniac", keeps the freebie tables full of movie posters, flyers and anything else we receive. He is performing the functions that the late Barry Bard started decades ago and has done his best to "walk" in Barry's shoes. Let him know your appreciation when you see him hovering around the freebie tables or giving away free stuff. He attends many movie screenings a year, the Phoenix Film Festival and the International Horror and Sci-Fi film festival. Len is a member of CASFS.org, Leprecon, Inc. and WesternSFA.org.

A. LILITH SYN BLACKFLAME (AKA: T. L. BRYSON)

...has been attending Fandom for over twenty years now (started at CopperCon 10). She has worked on several of the local Cons:

CopperCon, MythosCon, DarkCon, Phoenix ComicCon, AniZona, WesterCon, RandomCon, CorsairCon and now LepreCon. She is the current Vice President of the Across Plus Anime Club, Matriarch of the Clan of the Blackflame Dragon of Thunder and a Brony of Phoenix. Her Brony name is Blackflame.

Lilith Syn considers herself a 'multi-medium' artist. She has been published with poetry and a couple of underground comics. She draws (both by hand and digital). She designs tattoos. She worked in Special F/X for a while. Her credits include 'The Fantasticks'. She has also done some modeling. She was the reference model for 'Red Shetland' (starting issue #11). You can find her on page #98 in the 'Vampire the Masquerade Second Edition Player's Guide to the Sabbat' and was on 'The Girls of Phoenix' CDRom in the Mid 90's.

At this Con, she is in the Head of Console Gaming, Brony, Rock Band Co-Host and Panel Participant.

LYNN BOSTON

Lynn Boston was raised on an Iowa farm and spent his summer afternoons in corn fields, daydreaming of adventures in faraway lands. At seventeen, while war raged in Southeast Asia, he joined the Army and graduated from West Point as an airborne paratrooper. However, his years of duty were spent staring down Russian machine guns. He occupied his next twenty years as a road warrior for an oil company traveling to every God forsaken corner of the world: Nigerian savannas, Saudi Arabian deserts, Sumatran jungles of Indonesia ... and even Bakersfield, California. Always known for fantastic storytelling, Lynn kept the office intrigued with his adventures. He is currently employed as a computer security executive in Phoenix and is the author of The Third Eye Trilogy, a fast-moving thriller based on secret CIA parapsychology past life regression techniques.

CATHERINE BOOK

...is appropriately named. She collects, stores, covets and otherwise lives for books. She also manages our Charity Auctions, where one can find, dare we say it - books. She can often be found standing in a line for autographs, any autograph. Fannishly, Catherine is a Co-Editor and Staff Writer for The Nameless Zine a fan-run, web newszine. She is the Charity Auction Director for most of the local fan-run SF conventions. She has also dabbled in Guest Liaison and Programming; although she swears she'll never do it again-until the next time. She is the Western Science Fiction Assn Secretary and manages a book donation collection drive for a school for homeless children. Catherine lives with her husband, Ron, a 4-legged furry child, and her granddaughter. She currently works as a Data Administrator for the Bureau of Land Management. And, Catherine spent eleven years in the US Army. Go figure.

MICHAEL BRADLEY

Michael Bradley is the author of the Steampunk adventure, The Travelers' Club and The Ghost Ship, a novel available on Kindle or through his blog site; you can also follow his website at michaelwbradley.com. The next novel in the Steampunk series, The Travelers' Club and The Wild West is expected to be published during summer 2012.

Michael has also had numerous short stories and poems accepted and published in various publications. Currently, he is writing and editing an alternative history anthology expected out in March 2012. Michael started his writing career in April 2011 after leaving his former life as a CEO and CFO in healthcare finance behind.

MICHAEL CLARK

Michael Clark is a space enthusiast and YouTube Space Blogger who has been a lifetime lover of Science Fiction since early childhood watching Star Trek: The Next Generation as it aired on television. Almost any space epic, space opera, or space drama has caught his interest and opened his mind to new frontiers and new possibilities. Growing into adulthood made him start to question what we were doing now to make science fiction a scientific reality. After years of research into historical NASA and Soviet space programs, he started to making videos on YouTube sharing his discoveries and following the new commercial space effort. A few videos got over a thousand views, and he has managed to create a small community of followers and has interviewed engineers, astronauts, CEO's, like minded individuals, and everyday people about space related topics. He even had the privilege of witnessing and filming the last space shuttle launch STS-135 in 2011. Michael has the ability to share his enthusiasm for space in a knowledgeable, yet understandable way and whose goal is to make that enthusiasm and passion as infectious as possible.

HOP DAVID

Hop David is an artist with an addiction to geometry. "Artists such as M. C. Escher and Albrecht Dürer have made a strong impression on me," he says. "Mathematics is a very beautiful and powerful language. A visual approach can clarify otherwise difficult math. And art inspired by geometry can have a strong visual appeal." It is David's hope that his coloring books will get kids addicted to geometry. The books contain unique collections of swirling symmetrical designs, intricate, interlocking images of people, animals, and abstract patterns ranging from realistic figures to bug-eyed frogs and flying pigs.

"Conic Sections and Celestial Mechanics Coloring Book" is David's third coloring book. His first two coloring books, Magic Mirror Image Coloring Book and Geoscapes are published by Dover.

SHARON DAY

Popular blogger of "Ghost Hunting Theories", paranormal investigator and author of several books including "Was That a Ghost?" and the upcoming books "Zombie Housewives of the Apocalypse" and "Growing Up With Ghosts". Sharon grew up in an actively haunted home that was a Civil War Hospital for both the North and South during the war. That experience fueled her passion for all things unexplained.

BRUCE DAVIS

Bruce Davis is a Mesa AZ based science fiction author and editor. His works include the YA novel Queen Mab Courtesy, published by CWG press (and recently reissued by AKW Books as the e-book Blanktown). Also published through AKW Books are his military science fiction novel That Which Is Human, and the Profit Logbook series, including Glowgems For Profit, and Thieves Profit. In his other life he is a Trauma Surgeon who occasionally consults on medical matters for authors and screenwriters.

EMILY DEVENPORT

If you visit my blog, you will discover that Emily Devenport, Maggy Thomas and Lee Hogan are the pen names I used when I wrote my novels. I've been published in the U.S., the U.K., Italy, and Israel. My novels are SHADE, LARISSA, SCORPIANNE, EGGHEADS, THE KRONOS CONDITION, GODHEADS, BROKEN TIME (which was nominated for the Philip K. Dick Award), BELARUS, and ENEMIES. Now I write exclusively as Emily Devenport. Look for my new novels, THE NIGHT SHIFTERS and SPIRITS OF GLORY, in ebook format everywhere. I'm hoping to get my whole backlist into digital form within the next couple of years. I just finished recording my first audiobook, THE NIGHT SHIFTERS, and I'll have a new ebook available by Dec '11, PALE LADY. I'm married to artist/writer Ernest Hogan, I write reviews on amazon as Emily Hogan.

MICHAEL DONAHUE

Michael Donahue is a California native and graduate of the USC School of Cinematic Arts. After 25 years working in sound post production and studio management he founded The Michael Donahue Company as a development and holding company for literary and cinematic intellectual property rights. He directed Surge of Power starring Nichelle Nichols and Lou Ferrigno, wrote and directed Pooltime starring Inge Jaklin and Carla Laemmle (Dracula, 1931) directed The Visitor from Planet Omicron starring Oscar nominated actress Sally Kirkland, wrote and directed The Extra starring John Saxon (Enter the Dragon) and Tyrone Power Jr., wrote and directed Mansion of Blood starring Oscar nominated actors Gary Busey (The Buddy Holly Story) and Terry Moore (Beneath the 12 Mile Reef) and Robert Picardo (Stargate, Star Trek tv series) He co-produced Cotton, starring Gary Cole, and is currently in pre-production on Treasure Seekers, a feature film scheduled for production this fall in Puerto Vallarta Mexico. He recently became a member of the Directors Guild of America.

JENNY & BRIAN DUNCAN

Jenny Duncan has been going to cons since she was 9. She has since moved from "Robert Peacock's Daughter" To a member of the Duncan Clan. She loves to read. And she loves various scifi, her favorites are "Dr. Who, Fringe and Haven."

Brian Duncan has been an attendee since he was 16. He loves dressing up, and lots of different aspects of sci fi. From comic books to cartoons to movies to comic book movies. His favorite thing to do is to "geek out" at the movies in costume in front of his kids.

KARL EDBERG

Karl has been a member of the AZ Corsairs since 2012. He is an amateur tailor, period garment maker, and artisan who's lived in Phoenix since 2005.

MICHELE ELLINGTON

A longtime attendee of Leprecon, Michele Ellington has sold science fiction and fantasy art on four continents. She is a primarily self-trained artist who enjoys working in a wide variety of mediums; drawing, painting, sculpting, stained glass, etched glass, jewelry making, paper making, and mixed media. She works as a City Planner in El Paso, Texas, where she and her rescued Great Dane Simba volunteer with Paws for Love, and her Siamese cat Jasmine dozes on the sofa.

ERIC M. ESQUIVEL

Eric M. Esquivel is a comics author & journalist who has produced work for Moonstone Books, WarrenEllis.com, Spookshow Records, Big Dog Ink, The Tucson Citizen, The Tucson Weekly, Bookmans.com, Bleedingcool.com, KWO Press, Fiction House Mafia, Imagifreakination, Indieonly Comics, Evil Robo, and Modern Mythology Press. His next comic Thor: Unkillable Thunder Christ will be published in July, by Moonstone Books.

MARYEILEEN FLANAGAN

Maryeileen is a retired English and science teacher who began her educational career as a costumer at ASU's Department of Dance. Her costuming experience later expanded beyond humans to include horses and other animals. She has led several successful groups for young semi-pro writers. Additionally she helped design and later owned the SF, F and Horror forum on Apple's eWorld before it was swallowed up by AOL. In her later years she has served as Programming Chair of several local cons, most notably the World Fantasy Con held in Tucson where Harlan Ellison was GOH. She still doesn't know what she wants to be when she "grows up."

SAUL GARNELL

Saul Garnell is a debut writer, and has just published his first novel, FREEDOM CLUB, with Hotspur Publishing, a new independent publishing house set up by New York Times best selling author, David Bischoff. Raised in New York State, and now living in Arizona, Saul enjoys writing part time and is working on several new projects with Hotspur. Having lived in Australia, Japan, India, and Germany, Saul brings an international perspective along with an unusual point of view driven by many years of experience in the banking and software industries.

JOHN GILBERT

I am a US Army soldier with 9 years total experience and two deployments, I have done Military CQC and Machine gun instruction, And I run Black Kat Tactical Solutions LLC., a civilian firearms training company.

J.A. GIUNTA

J.A. Giunta was born in Brooklyn, New York, in November of 1969. Though he spent most of his childhood growing up on Long Island, he has been living in Arizona for more than twenty-five years.

Joe started writing stories at an early age, creating adventures for his pen and paper Dungeons & Dragons campaigns on a Commodore 64. Spooled from a dot-matrix printer, that first stapled manuscript has not survived, but it has evolved over the years to form The Ascension trilogy.

His first Fantasy novel, The Last Incarnation, was published by Brick Cave Media in November 2011. With a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from Arizona State University, he is both an avid reader and gamer. He currently writes full-time.

He currently lives with his wife, Lori, and six-year old daughter, Ada Rose, in the perpetual summer that is central Arizona. He credits all of his work to the advent of air-conditioning.

DAIN Q. GORE

Dain Q. Gore is a 2009 MFA recipient from ASU and current Faculty Associate. Having studied End-Times myths of his culture, he presents doom and redemption in a humorous and mocking way. His cast of absurd characters shifts between the religious and secular worlds to suit his own vision of the supernatural realm. His work recalls the populated, image-heavy landscape traditions of Northern Europe and the kinetic sensibility of classic film animation. The settings often evoke the limited space of the theater and an altered, exaggerated scale inspired by the world of puppetry: a fully realized puppetry piece was performed alongside his exhibits in painting at Eye Lounge in downtown Phoenix, titled DESERT RELIGION (2010) and HOLY FOOL? (2011).

ROBERT GOTT

I was born and raised in El Paso and has lived my entire life in the Southwest, except for a four year stint in the Marines during that unpleasantness in Southeast Asia. I have a degree in History and recently retired from City government where I spent my career helping improve physical conditions in the poorest areas of the city and for the neediest of target populations. I've traveled extensively and have been to conventions in many parts of the country and the world. I've been a loyal SF Fan since I learned to read and member of the Society for Creative Anachronism since the early 80's. I've been interested and studied a number of different topics and have a wide and diverse set of skills, always looking to add more. I have made several suits of armor in different styles.

BENNIE GREZLIK

Bennie Grezlik has been writing and publishing lies since 1978. In the last few years, Stonegarden.net has released three of his novels, the latest being The Search For Earth. He has written stories for a number of anthologies, the most notable being a series of zombie tales for Yard Dog Press. He also wrote and produced for about five years the Skip Thruster, Space Detective plays that were brought to life for ApolloCon by enthusiastic actors, otherwise known as fans.

In another life back in the psychedelic sixties, Bennie was a technician at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston from 1966, through 1969. You read that title correctly. This was before the center was named for its mentor, Lyndon B. Johnson. And, yes, Bennie used a slide rule because it was sexy and because it was B.C. (Before Calculators).

FRANCIS HAMIT

Francis Hamit is a professional writer and has been for 46 years (and counting). He has published two novels about the American Civil War, the most recent one the (slightly) alternative history "The Queen of Washington" about the Confederate spy Rose Greenhow, and "The Shenandoah Spy" about Confederate Army spy and scout, Belle Boyd. Currently he is working on "Meltdown", a thriller which he describes as a "heartwarming sentimental little fable about a terrorist attack on a nuclear power plant". His fascination with the dark side is also represented by the forthcoming film "MARLOWE", which is based upon his 1988 play about the poet and playwright Christopher Marlowe (author of the genre classic "Doctor Faustus" - about a man who sold his soul to the Devil) and his day job as a secret agent for the Crown. Francis has a background in military intelligence and the security industry, and has now been to 108 science fiction conventions. He hopes that these facts will dispel those nasty rumors about him being "normal".

J. SCOOTER HARRIS

J. Scooter Harris is a published artist, cartoonist, and writer. He was first published at age 14 by a local Texas newspaper. His work since then include doing the illustrations and cover for the online bestseller SURBURBAN DIVA: TALES FROM THE OTHER SIDE OF THE PICKET FENCE by Tracey Henry. Scooter also wrote and illustrated the experimental TRUE CRIME THEATER comic book series (THE GRAND TOUR, SURFACE STREET CEMETARY, FROM BLONDE TO MORGUE, and GOD'S A TEXAN) and published it under his Studio Hadra label. His latest Studio Hadra publication is an ode to the pulp western titled TOMBSTONE AT HELL'S RIDGE (text and art by Harris).

His next comic MINNIE STRIPS will be released in early 2012. He also contributes cartoons, illustrations, and now short stories for BACHELOR PAD MAGAZINE. Those short stories, a new series called THE S.U.I.T., are being compiled and made into a book that will be a Studio Hadra publication in 2012.

ERNEST HOGAN

Ernest's novels, Smoking Mirror Blues, Cortez On Jupiter and High Aztech, are still getting great reviews. He's had short fiction in ANALOG, AMAZING STORIES, SCIENCE FICTION AGE, SEMIOTEXT(E) SF, and many other publications. "Hindenburg's Vimana Joyride" can be read online at DAYBREAK MAGAZINE. "Plan 9 in Outer Space", a collaboration with his wife Emily, is in SPACE HORRORS: FULL-THROTTLE SPACE TALES. And "The Great Mars-A-Go-Go Mexican Standoff" is in TALES OF THE TALISMAN. "Radiation is Groovy, Kill the Pigs" in 2020 VISIONS edited by Rick Novy. "Doctora Xilbalba's Datura Enema" is online in Rudy Rucker's FLURB. "Death and Dancing in New Las Vegas" will be appearing soon in ANALOG. And this just in - "Guerrilla Mural of a Siren's Song" (that was expanded into his novel Cortez On Jupiter) will be reprinted in Marty Halpern's ALIEN CONTACT anthology. His blog includes other culture war activities can be tracked on my Chicanonautica postings at La Bloga. He's comforting himself through these troubled times by watching weird cartoons and bullfights online.

RICK HOLDERMAN

Rick is a Master Falconer with 20 years working with birds of prey. He retired from the Air Force after 24 years, 1 month, and 21 days, protecting and defending the Constitution of the United States from all enemies, foreign and domestic, especially the freedom of speech allowing left leaning writers, pundits and politicians to trash the values he defended. He writes extensively in Falconry and in that niche market is an international best seller.

PATTI "PJ" HULTSTRAND

Patti Hultstrand has been writing since the 7th grade when her English teacher took an active interest in her poetry and short story writing. She became hooked when one of her short stories was published in the local library sci-fi magazine. Her first love became science-fiction when she was introduced to the works of Ray Bradbury. Fandom bit her when she actually met the man behind the works in 1987, at a special engagement speech in Phoenix, Arizona. She had taken many of those writing tips and life examples to apply in her everyday life. "Never stop to edit, just keep writing until you're done, then go back and edit, and edit, and edit again until you're satisfied."

Patti has been applying some writing in almost everything she has done from that time forward. Now writing as PJ Hultstrand, she has three published novels which are time-travel romances, and has written many articles for various mediums. With her long career of 21 years in graphic design and publishing, Patti has an accolade of four catalogs, nine program books, three magazine titles, 46 books, and she is now the Managing Editor of the long-standing, Arizona grown speculative fiction newspaper, ConNotations NewsZine.

DONALD JACQUES

Donald Jacques is currently the Executive VP, and a past president of the Moon Society of Phoenix, and spearheading multiple projects exploring technologies for the colonization of space. Donald is owner of Wiz Kidz, International, a web design and hosting company, Weavers of Dreams dot com, an author tools website, serves as President of Az Publishing Services, a Book Publishing firm, and is the author of two current novels.

TIM KIEHL

He's created EmergeART as a vehicle to sell his work that is inspired by the motto, 'The Universe is found art, from chaos emerges beauty.' His approach to art is rather unconventional because he combines the view of an engineer's scientific and analytical mind with the heart and soul of an artist. This enables him to develop various techniques to create unique works using my material science background and artistic inspiration in a synergy of styles and media.

LOUISE M. KLEBA

Louise began her engineering career in 1985 working multinational programs as a radar systems field test engineer for Martin-Marietta in Orlando. She gained expertise in characterizing metamorphic snow and trained personnel from partner countries in this science. Her experience prepared her well for her work at the Kennedy Space Center which began in 1990 when she hired on as an Avionics Engineer for space shuttle payloads. In 1996, she was selected to represent the Astronaut Office as one of two Engineering Liaisons flying out shuttle payloads and then joining other liaisons who had begun the International Space Station construction effort. Louise supported ISS construction and payloads through until July 2011. Her last official act as a member of America's space shuttle team was support the landing of STS-135, the final space shuttle mission as the Contingency Operations Representative at the KSC before handing in her badge. Louise is a proud Hubble Hugger having worked all of the repair and servicing missions. She is a recipient of the Silver Snoopy awarded by the Astronaut Office, and a Sequoia Member of the American Indian Science and Engineering Society (AISES). Today, she is reinventing herself and looking forward to new adventures.

GINI KOCH

Gini Koch lives in Hell's Orientation Area (aka Phoenix, AZ), works her butt off (sadly, not literally) by day, and writes by night with the rest of the beautiful people. She writes the fast, fresh and funny Alien/Katherine "Kitty" Katt series for DAW Books and the Martian Alliance Chronicles series for Musa Publishing. She also writes under a variety of pen names (including Anita Ensai, Jemma Chase, A.E. Stanton, and J.C. Koch), listens to rock music 24/7, and is a proud comics geek-girl willing to discuss at any time why Wolverine is the best superhero ever (even if Deadpool does get all the best lines). She speaks frequently on what it takes to become a successful author and other aspects of writing and the publishing business.

ERIN LALE

Lale's publishing career began in 1985. Her published works and paid works for hire include fiction, nonfiction, speeches, puzzles, songs, films, cartoons, TV commercials, art, newsletters, recipes, and translations. She wrote for The Sonoma Index-Tribune, and was the publisher and editor of Berserkrangr Magazine, a quarterly that ran 16 issues in the 90s. She owned and operated The Science Fiction Store in Las Vegas, invented a number of technical processes in iDEN and CDMA wireless communications technology, and ran for Nevada State Assembly. Her latest project, Time Yarns, is a world of multiple time continua and alternate universes, connected by the way physics and magic operate in the various timelines. The Time Yarns anthologies showcase short stories in the tradition of hard sf written by scientists, with a couple of surprise oddball stories.

SUSAN LINDSEY

Susan E. Lindsey is a freelance writer, independent book editor and publicist, and owner of Louisville-based Savvy Communication LLC. She edited or proofread 22 book manuscripts in 2011 for individual authors and Butler Books Publishing Company. She has provided media relations and promotional/marketing services for several authors.

Susan took first place in the Bluegrass Literacy Writing Contest, and second place in the summer 2011 Writers Weekly 24-Hour Short Story contest. Her work has been published in Underwired magazine and the Calliope anthology. Susan also writes a monthly author profile for The Highlander newspaper. She can be reached at susanlindsey@savvy-comm.com.

STEVEN LOPATA

Born during WWII, he grew up in St. Louis. In 1978, he discovered that there were science fiction conventions and has been attending one or more each year since. The cons inspired him to write.

Steven went to work for a small, specialty coatings company, starting in the laboratory where he worked on developing paints and adhesives. His inventions were used by NASA on one of their satellites and by NATO to protect an ammunition storage facility. He was transferred to the International Division as Technical Manager. He was promoted to Latin American Operations Director.

After leaving the company, he worked, consulting at the Naval Air Weapons Center and civilian firms. With his wife and son, he formed a consulting partnership. He currently serves on boards of directors for several libraries and a local college. Publications include "Marine Tank Coatings", a collaboration and articles in "Soldier of Fortune," "Transfigural Mathematics", and "PanGaia Magazine"

JACK MANGAN

Jack Mangan is an author, podcaster, musician, father, etc., born in New Jersey, but now residing in Arizona. His "Jack Mangan's Deadpan Podcast" features over 250 episodes and Unshows of interviews, commentary, comedy skits, original music, and a great deal of community-contributed content. Jack's "Spherical Tomi" was among the first wave of podcast novels, and was the first number one title at Podiobooks.com. Jack has made countless guest appearances and performances on other podcast shows, and has had his work independently converted to audio format by a number of other New Media creators. His fiction and non-fiction writings have appeared in numerous online, print, and podcast venues, including such prestigious outlets as Michael A. Stackpole's Chain Story, Interzone Magazine, Podthology: The Pod Complex, Theme and Variations, 2020 Visions, Variant Frequencies, and Tales of the Talisman. He seeks to shake up perceptions and provoke independent thinking, through music, comedy, writing, and his outspoken, sometimes controversial views.

KYLE MCNATT

Kyle McNatt is the Director of Arizona Paranormal Investigations (API). API has been serving Arizona since 1994 and is the oldest paranormal investigations group in the state. Kyle is also a member of the Zombie Squad. An elite zombie elimination team that also helps others with disaster preparedness and making the world better with charity work around the country. He has a great curiosity of the unknown with a scientific slant on the possible answers. He has been interested in science fiction and fantasy since the 70's.

TODD MILES

First started in the fandom scene in 2007. Has worked on many other local conventions such as Anizona, Darkcon, Coppercon, Westercon and Randomcon. The current president of The Across Plus Anime Club Patriarch-in-Training of the Clan of the Blackflame Dragon of Thunder and a Brony of Phoenix. Brony name is Midnight Spark/ Sparky. VICTORIA MOCK Originally hailing from Southern New Jersey , award-winning artist Victoria Mock is primarily known for her one-of-a-kind hand sculpted figures and Art Dolls. Based in Mythology, Cryptozoology , Fantasy, and Sci-fi, her work resides in private collections throughout the US , the UK and Europe . Now residing in Arizona , she currently accepts commissions for her figures and her work can be found in several shops and galleries throughout the US.

Her experience as an actor, make-up artist, and a photographer's assistant allows her to incorporate these skills into her one-of-a-kind figures. Along with award-winning fantasy & comic book illustrator, Raine Szramski, founded Mastic Studios in 2002. As well as branching out to form Victoria Mock Studios in 2003, dedicated to Fantasy and Sci-fi Art Dolls and sculptures.

ROBERT NELSON

In 1994, Bob co-founded Anthology literary magazine with writer J.A. Giunta. The magazine would run for ten years and print a wide variety of up and coming writers. Also in 1994, Bob (started the Essenzaslam Poetry Slam, which runs to this day as the longest running poetry slam in the Southwest. In 1999, Bob founded Spokenworld.com (now Brick Cave Audio), a pioneer internet radio station focusing on spoken word programming.

In 2008, Bob founded Brick Cave Media, a media microglomerate (his home office) for the crazy film, book and audio ideas that his friends dream up. In 2011, BCM released it's first full length feature film, Sacrifice. Sacrifice was shown on the opening night of the 2011 Phoenix Comicon. BCM has also published The first book of the Ascension series by fantasy author J.A. Giunta and in 2012, will publish six additional titles, release a new film Yellowstone Sunset, and release 5 new albums of material.

RICK NOVY

Rick Novy writes science fiction with a classic flavor. His novel "Rigel Kentaurus" is currently available at Amazon.com. He has published dozens of short stories in venues like Intergalactic Medicine Show, Flash Fiction Online, M-Brane SF, and Tales of the Talisman.

Rick is also an avid fishkeeper with MTS (multiple tank syndrome), and has written non-fiction articles on fishkeeping. He has yet to find a SFWA member who owns more aquariums. His novel "Fishpunk" should be finished by early summer.

WESTON OCHSE

Weston Ochse (pronounced 'Oaks) lives in Southern Arizona with his wife, and fellow author, Yvonne Navarro, and Great Danes, Pester Ghost Palm Eater, Goblin Monster Dog and Ghoulie Mad Dog Sonar Brain. For entertainment he races tarantula wasps, wrestles rattlesnakes, and bakes in the noonday sun. His work has won the Bram Stoker Award for First Novel and been nominated for a Pushcart Prize. His work has also appeared in anthologies, magazines and professional writing guides. He thinks it's damn cool that he's had stories in comic books. His latest novels are Blood Ocean and SEAL Team 666 (coming in November from St. Martin's Press).

JANEEN O'KERRY

Growing up in the military, I've lived in many places -- California, Germany, Washington D.C., Texas, Ohio and now Arizona. And like many writers, I've held a number of different jobs -- everything from computer programmer to horseback riding instructor to medical transcriptionist.

My writing career began in 1984 when I sold the first of over 100 non-fiction articles written for the national and regional horse magazines. My first novel was LADY OF FIRE, a time-travel romance published by Dorchester Books in 1996.

Since that first book I went on to write a total of nine Celtic fantasy romances for Dorchester, and early in 2012 all nine of them will be available once again - this time as digital downloads from Samhain Publishing.

Right now I'm working on a longer novel - this one featuring ghosts and mystery as well as Celtic mythology and magic - called SEVEN CASTLES IN IRELAND. And I am always more than happy to resent a writers' workshop at any convention.

NICK PACE

Nick Pace of Nick Pace Entertainment's (www.nickpe.com) most recent project is a Pirate card game called "Raiding Parties" that utilizes artwork done by Don Maitz (who is the creator of the Captain Morgan Spiced Rum logo). Growing up in many countries such as Korea, Russia, Japan, and Canada, he is the only child to a loving family of overseas school teachers.

With all that childhood travelling, Pace has taken a great interest in trying to get back out on the road after residing in AZ since the start of college, 6 years ago. A website he has created about the lifestyle is www.vacilandos.com. Pace is excited to start attending various festivals and conventions around the world, in an effort to help promote Raiding Parties and to live the wanderlust lifestyle.

FELIX POLZ

Felix was born in Oberstdorf, Bavaria, Germany and always wondered why his parents traded such a beautiful ski resort town for the Bronx. He served 33 years in the Army starting in Virginia, stopping in Vietnam and ending up in the Pentagon. He is the author of several military publications and a graduate level psychology book. His interests range from military sci-fi (of course!) to time travel and future history. He is a member of Mensa and the local Moon Society which satisfies his interest in space travel, exploration and colonization. And he writes fiction in his spare time.

CRAIG PORTER

Craig retired from the U.S. Air Force as a MSgt, he was in Air Training Command as a Master Instructor at that time. He has worked since retirement as a Company Technical Instructor for an Automatic Test Company (ATE), a Test Engineer for a different ATE Company, a Consultant on Test Programming and Documentation. He has also worked as a Quality Assurance Inspector in Industry. Since retiring a second time, Craig has been active in the Private sector as a Member of several different "Space" Societies and is currently the President of the Phoenix Chapter of the Moon Society. He is also an Assistant District Commissioner for the Lake Pleasant District of the Boy Scouts of America and a Merit Badge Counselor for the Emergency Preparedness Merit Badge. And he is a member of the Order of the Arrow and the American Indian Scouting Association.

ANNA QUESTERLY

Anna Questerly lives in Phoenix, Arizona, with her husband, and their two Border Collies, Bridget and Bandit. When she's not writing, you can often find her at her favorite bookstore, Dog-Eared Pages, in Phoenix, Arizona. Anna is a minstrel at heart. Although she cannot sing, dance, or play an instrument, she enjoys writing stories. She has wanted to be a writer since the sixth grade, when she first read J.R.R. Tolkien's The Hobbit. She dabbled with half-finished novels for many years, but never settled down to write seriously until last year. Anna's debut novel is sold internationally in Canada, England, Germany & Japan. Besides working on her next novel, Anna teaches writing workshops for young people. She loves to visit schools to talk about writing, and encourages young people to read more, and to begin their writing careers while they are still young.

JENNIFER ROBERSON

Jennifer Roberson entered the fantasy scene in 1984 with the publication of SHAPECHANGERS, the first in an 8-volume series called The Chronicles of the Cheysuli. She went on to publish six volumes in her Sword-Dancer series, and this August will see the publication of THE WILD ROAD, the third volume in her Karavans series. In February 2013 she returns to the world of Tiger and Del with SWORD-BOUND, to be followed by additional volumes. As of 2011, Roberson now makes her permanent home in Tucson. Hobbies are showing and breeding Cardigan Welsh Corgis, and creating mosaic artwork.

CHET SHUPE

Chet Shupe's professional background is in Electronics Engineering. As a young engineer never did he imagine he would someday be developing a thesis that addresses sociological issues. At some point at mid career however, he was inspired to apply his background in control theory to the human condition. Out of this has come a unique perspective addressing the perplexing issues that increasingly face us, including, among other things, our lack of intimacy and the discussion of utopian theories. Chet has applied his experience and knowledge in his book, "Eden: Regaining our Spiritual Freedom".

SHARON SKINNER

Sharon Skinner is an award-winning poet who received her M.A. in Creative Writing from Prescott College. The Healer's Legacy is her second book published by Brick Cave Media. Her work has appeared in a number of periodicals including Green's Magazine, New Moon Rising, Sage Woman, El Sol, The Mesa Legend, Mosaic Minds and The Barnes and Noble Metaverse Poetry Anthology. Recent publication includes poetry in Wisdom of Our Mothers.

While in the Navy, she was the first enlisted female to stand shore patrol in the Philippines, and served as the first female DJ to be heard on the Armed Forces Radio Station airwaves on the island of Diego Garcia in the Indian Ocean.

Sharon says, "When I first came to the desert, I thought I had come to the ends of the earth. But after a short time, I realized just how much life teems and thrives in this harsh environment, and that is something I can certainly relate to."

CHRIS SMITH

I've been drawing since I could stick a crayon up my nose, which may explain some of my artwork, as well as why you shouldn't stick a crayon up your nose. I think my art is pretty diverse, ranging from cartoons, children's illustrations, illustration, computer animation, and tattoos, the latter is a little bit frustrating, since the art tends to get up and walk away.

LEIGH STROTHER-VIEN

Francis Hamit's editor, cheerleader & support staff. Leigh is a former member of the LASFS Board of Directors (Dec 1990-Dec 1996), the former Librarian of LASFS (Feb 1990-July 1996), as well as Registrar, VP, & newsletter editor at various times. She served in the US Army July 1980 to July 1984, primarily in West Germany [I traveled as much as possible while in Europe]. In her early years in Fandom (77-80), she was active in zine publishing and costuming. She first attended Leprecon in 1979.

CHRIS SWANSON

Chris Swanson is a Phoenix-based writer, blogger and film and TV critic for whatculture.com. He enjoys stupid jokes, intelligent conversation and crackin' wise.

GARY SWATY

Gary Swaty has been attending Science Fiction Conventions since the early 1970s. The first convention he worked was IquanaCon II, the 1978 Phoenix WorldCon. He worked Info Desk, Security and did supply purchase runs during the Con. After that Gary confined himself to helping with Set-Up and Tear-Down at CopperCon and LepreCon until the 1990s. Sometime in the mid-nineties he was asked to be Filk Liaison to Phoenix Area Conventions for the Phoenix Filk Circle. He has been responsible for obtaining Filk GoHs and scheduling Filk Events at CopperCon and LepreCon since then. He handled Filk at Westercon 57/ConKopelli in Litchfield, Arizona in 2004. He has run Registration for HexaCon, World Horror and World Fantasy. He worked Ops at DarkCon 1 and was a General Henchman at AniZonas 1 and 2 and ran registration at AniZona 3. He was Chairman of HexaCon 16 in 2006 and Chairman of CopperCon 28. He was Committee for Filk at FiestaCon/Westercon 62. He also helped administratively at RandomCon in July of 2010. He handled Filk at CopperCon 30 in September and at LepreCon 36 the following May. Our Gary does get around.

RANDALL WHITLOCK

Randall Whitlock has been an active SF/medieval/renaissance costumer since the early 80's, with a certain reputation for visual pun costumes, such as "Dances with Werewolves" and "The Dookus of Hazzard." Randall writes the "Costume Closet" column in Connotations, edits the Southwest Costumers Guild newsletter "Cactus Needles," and drafts the "Randwulf's" line of sewing patterns, seen at his "MoiRandall's" costume booth at renaissance faires across Arizona. Randall has directed the Masquerades at the first North American Discworld Convention and several CopperCons. Mundanely, Randall is a Geologist with an academic background in meteorites, currently digging up dirt on soil and groundwater contamination for real estate investors in Arizona.

DON WIEST

Don also developed a passion for oil painting at an early age and received his formal art education at Pacific Union College in Angwin, California. He put those talents to work and became a commercial artist and illustrator within the denominational medical institutions of the Adventist Church. Don is the author and cover designer of his first book, The Expendable Pawn, as well as continuing with his artwork.

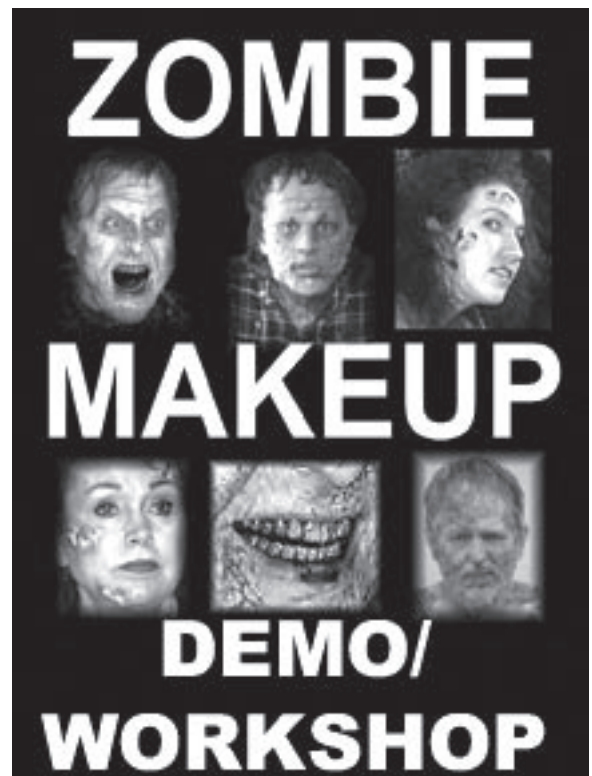

DR. DAVID A. WILLIAMS, PH.D.

Dr. David A. Williams is a Faculty Research Associate in the School of Earth and Space Exploration at Arizona State University. David is currently performing research in volcanology and planetary geology, with a focus on planetary mapping, geochemical, and remote sensing studies. His research has included computer modeling of seismic wave propagation through planetary interiors, visible and near-infrared spectroscopy of the lunar surface, planetary geologic mapping of the satellites of Jupiter and the planet Mars, computer modeling of the physical and geochemical evolution of lava flows in a variety of planetary environments, and petrologic study of lava samples from Mount St Helens. He was involved with NASA's Magellan Mission to Venus, Galileo Mission to Jupiter, the European Space Agency's Mars Express mission, and he is currently serving as a Participating Scientist on NASA's Dawn Mission to asteroid 4 Vesta. David is the immediate Past Chair of the Planetary Geology Division of the Geological Society of America, has served on several NASA committees including the 2007 Jovian System Observer Science Definition Team, and is currently a steering committee member of the NASA Outer Planets Advisory Group.

LARRY VELA

Larry has been an airbrush artist for over 35 years and has painted on just about everything many of which have been featured in magazines. In the past people have seen him with his involvement with the video Group Velavision filming the conventions, costuming and the running of conventions. The last 5 years Larry has been working in the 3D computer world using DAZ studio 4 Pro and Bryce 7 pro. Starting out using these programs as a digital sketchpad for his airbrush work, he liked working with them so much that he has made many finished pieces in this medium.

GAMING CONVENTION

June 22-24, 2012 - Mission Palms Hotel - Tempe AZ - www.conflag.org

ByLaws of LepreCon, Inc.

Approved November 13, 2005

1. PRIMARY PURPOSE

Leprecon Inc. is organized primarily to operate an annual science fiction convention in the Phoenix metropolitan area. It may also hold other social functions during the year in connection with and in support of the primary purpose.

2. MEMBERSHIP

2.1. Active and Passive members

2.1.1. Becoming a member

Membership in the organization is conveyed to a person by petition at a quarterly meeting, by obtaining a convention membership or by Board of Directors decree. Membership is open to all persons with an interest in science fiction, fantasy, and/or related topics. The Corporation may refuse to accept memberships for cause.

2.1.2. Term of membership

Membership is considered active until at least one (1) quarterly meeting is not attended. Membership is considered passive until returning to active by attending a quarterly meeting before the next convention. Membership is considered either active or passive unless terminated as indicated below. Proxy letters may be substituted for attendance if necessary.

2.1.3. Termination of membership

Membership may be revoked for disorderly, anti-social, or illegal behavior or other specified cause during or in connection with a convention or other corporate sponsored event. Membership is terminated automatically if the member fails to obtain an attending membership in the annual convention. Membership is terminated involuntarily if a two-thirds (2/3) majority of all active members vote to terminate. Membership is terminated voluntarily if the member sends a signed resignation letter to the Secretary or other designated Board of Directors member. Membership is terminated automatically if the member enters the Art Show with art for sale or enters the Dealers Room with intent to sell merchandise.

2.1.4. Rights of membership

Membership entitles the holder to attend quarterly meetings and vote at such meetings, attend the convention for which a convention membership was obtained, or any other function sponsored by the organization.

2.1.5. Classes of membership

Current classes of membership include Active and Passive. The Corporation may declare other classes of membership as needed.

2.1.6. Petition for membership

A person may petition for membership at a quarterly meeting by circulating a petition asking to become a member. Active members may sign the petition to indicate that the petitioning person is acceptable as a member. If the petitioning person obtains signatures from at least two-thirds (2/3) of the active members present and submits the petition to the Secretary or designated board member, then the person becomes an active member seven (7) days after the end of that quarterly meeting.

2.1.7. Convention membership

A person may obtain an attending convention membership by purchasing one through the Treasurer or authorized agent, or by holding a convention position (past or present) that is authorized to receive a complimentary membership.

2.2. Member rights

2.2.1. Active members are eligible to vote for the Board of Directors, to hold positions on the board, to vote for changes in these Bylaws or for any other reason designated by the Board.

2.2.2. There must be at least fifteen (15) active members. Should the number fall below this, the Board of Directors shall appoint new active members as necessary.

2.2.3. Obligations of members

2.2.3.1. Active members must be legally competent in the State of Arizona.

2.2.3.2. Active and passive members must maintain their current mailing address, email address and telephone number with the Secretary.

2.2.3.3. Active members must respond to a ballot.

2.2.3.4. Active members must attend each of the regular quarterly meetings of the Board of Directors or send a written proxy letter.

2.2.3.5. Active and passive members must be an attending member of the annual convention.

3. DIRECTORS

3.1. Composition of the Board of Directors

3.1.1. There shall be five (5) voting Directors.

3.1.2. Three (3) Directors shall be selected by election for three (3) year terms, electing one Director after each Annual Meeting, and taking office at the end of that meeting.

3.1.3. Each person who completes a term as President shall become a Director for a two (2) year term commencing at the end of the Annual Meeting following the completion of the previous convention.

3.1.4. The President (current convention chair) shall be a non-voting member of the Board.

3.1.5. The Vice-President (next convention chair after current) shall be a non-voting member of the Board.

3.1.6. The Assistant Vice-President (following convention chair after next) shall be a non-voting member of the Board.

3.2. Election of Directors

3.2.1. Directors shall be elected by ballot of the active members. Such elections may take place at any scheduled quarterly meeting. Nominations for such elections may be called for at such scheduled meetings. Typically, elections occur at the Annual Meeting usually held in August.

3.2.2. In meetings where nominations and elections are to take place, all active members must be notified one (1) week in advance.

3.2.3. Active members not able to attend meetings where elections are held may vote by notifying the Secretary, the President or the Chairman of the Board in writing of their vote.

3.2.4. If there is a vacancy on the Board, the Board of Directors may appoint a Director to fill the vacancy until a replacement can be elected for the remainder of the regular term of the Director being replaced. This election shall be within three (3) months of the vacancy.

3.3. Termination of Office

The Secretary shall conduct a recall election when requested by petition of the active members. This election shall be conducted by mail ballot and shall begin within one (1) month of the request. A vote of two-thirds (2/3) of the active members is required for removal. In the event that the recall election involves the Secretary position, then the Chairman of the Board shall assume the Secretary's duties for the recall election. Termination of office is not a termination of active membership. A separate vote would be required to terminate an active membership.

3.4. Rights of Directors

The Board of Directors manages the operation of the corporation by appointing and removing the Operating Officers and monitoring their performance in office. The Directors shall have exclusive control of any matter which might reasonably be expected to affect more than a single convention.

3.5. Obligations of the Board of Directors

The Directors shall exercise reasonable care in the management of the corporation and shall consider the opinions and concerns of the active and passive members in any decision. Each Director must be legally competent in the State of Arizona, must attend three (3) of the four (4) regular quarterly meetings of the Board of Directors and must meet any other requirements set by the Board for its own operations. Proxy letters may substitute for attendance if necessary.

3.6. Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Board

The Board of Directors shall elect one of the Directors as a Chairman and one of the Directors as a Vice-Chairman. The Chairman runs the quarterly meetings. The Vice-Chairman runs the meetings in the absence of the Chairman.

4. MEETINGS OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

4.1. Regular meetings of the Board

4.1.1. Quarterly meetings shall be held on the second Saturday of August, November, February and May, these being the second month of each quarter. Active and passive members and members of the Board are responsible for finding out the time and place of the meetings. No notifications are required. Quarterly meetings may be held within 10 days of the above dates if necessary to accommodate the attendance of a majority of the Directors.

4.1.2. Other scheduled meetings may be held at the discretion of the President or the Chairman of the Board as needed. For scheduled meetings other than regular quarterly meetings, all active members, all Directors, and all operating officers shall be provided with the time and place with a minimum of one (1) week notice. This notice shall be distributed as widely as practical before the meeting.

4.1.3. All regular Board meetings shall be open to all interested people.

4.1.4. A quorum is required to make a meeting official. This applies to quarterly, annual, unscheduled or special meetings. A quorum is defined as at least three (3) voting Directors in attendance or by written proxy.

4.2. Unscheduled Board meetings

Unscheduled Board of Directors meetings are those that do not meet the notification requirements for regular meetings. They may be called as desired by the Chairman, as long as a majority of the Directors are present. These meetings may be held informally over the telephone, online or in person so long as a majority of the Directors are contacted and a majority opinion is reached on the question(s) under consideration. Any action taken by an unscheduled meeting must be ratified at the next regular meeting to be valid.

4.3. Annual meeting

Leprecon Inc. shall hold an Annual Meeting each year shortly after the convention. This meeting shall serve as a general report to the convention members on the previous convention and act to set the direction for the next convention. The Annual Meeting shall be one of the regular quarterly meetings. The time and place of the Annual Meeting shall be published in the convention program book.

5. CORPORATE OPERATING OFFICERS

5.1. President

The President is the Chief Operating Officer (COO) of the current convention. S/he supervises the activities of his/her appointed staff. S/he is responsible for the smooth operation of the convention and shall perform whatever duties are necessary to ensure that occurs. The President shall function under the supervision and direction of the Board of Directors and shall make regular reports informally to the Directors and formally and in detail at each quarterly meeting, including the Annual Meeting. The President shall also perform any other duties assigned by state or federal law or by the Board of Directors. The President may not simultaneously hold any other Corporate office.

5.2. Treasurer

The Treasurer is the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) of the corporation. S/he maintains the financial records and accounts of the corporation. S/he is responsible for the proper handling of all corporation assets and shall perform whatever duties are necessary to ensure that occurs. The Treasurer shall function under the supervision and direction of the Board of Directors and shall make regular reports informally to the Directors and formally and in detail at each quarterly meeting, including the Annual Meeting. The Treasurer shall also perform any duties assigned by state or federal law or by the Board of Directors.

5.3. Secretary

The Secretary is responsible for keeping the non-financial records of the corporation. S/he is responsible for maintaining copies of all necessary corporate records and making copies available as necessary. S/he shall perform all duties necessary to ensure proper performance of this function. The Secretary shall function under the supervision and direction of the Board of Directors and shall make regular reports informally to the Directors and formally and in detail at each quarterly meeting, including the Annual Meeting. The Secretary shall also perform any other duties assigned by state or federal law or by the Board of Directors.

5.4. Vice-President

The Vice-President is the COO of the convention following the current convention (next convention). Duties are the same as for President.

5.5. Assistant Vice-President

The Assistant Vice-President is the COO of the convention following the next convention (convention after next). Duties are the same as for President.

6. AMENDMENTS TO THE BYLAWS

6.1. Amendments may be proposed

6.1.1. By petition.

6.1.2. By resolution of the Board of Directors.

6.2. Amendments may be enacted by 6.2.1. A two-thirds (2/3) vote of the active members.

6.2.2. A two-thirds (2/3) vote of the Board of Directors.

6.3. Procedures

6.3.1. Amendments must be enacted at a regular meeting. The meeting notice shall announce a vote on a pending bylaws change.

7. DISSOLVING THE CORPORATION

The Corporation shall be dissolved by vote of three-quarters (3/4) of the active members. This vote must be held by mail and must be conducted within one (1) month of a petition requesting it.

8. INTERPRETATION OF THE BYLAWS

The Board of Directors shall have the authority to make binding interpretations of these Bylaws in any case where the Bylaws are ambiguous.

9. PROCEDURES

9.1. Petition to the Board of Directors

9.1.1. The Secretary shall provide a list of the present active members to anyone requesting it. A processing fee may be charged.

9.1.2. Petitions must contain:

9.1.2.1. The request being made.

9.1.2.2. The dated signatures of the required number of active members. All signatures must be dated within one (1) month of the time the petition is submitted. Unless otherwise specified, signatures of a majority of the active members are required.

9.1.2.3. Petitions are submitted to the Secretary who shall promptly take action as required.

9.2. Mail Ballot

9.2.1. The Secretary shall prepare the ballot specifying the issue to be voted on and instructions for voting.

9.2.2. Anyone interested may include a one-page statement to be mailed with the ballot. Sufficient copies must be provided to the Secretary.

9.2.3. The ballot shall be mailed to all active members.

9.2.4. The Secretary shall allow three (3) weeks for responses to be received. The Secretary shall then tabulate the votes and announce the results.

9.2.5. Any active member who does not respond within the required period shall become a passive member.
