Confabulation

Confabulation. Imaginary events created to cover a loss of memory.

Confabulation is the 1995 Eastercon, and will happen 14-17 April 1995. Our guests of honour will be Lois McMaster Bujold, Bob Shaw and Roger Robinson.

Confabulation will be taking place at the Britannia International Hotel in London's Docklands. This is a modern hotel decorated in traditional style with all the luxuries that any fan could want, only minutes from the heart of London. The room rates are £31 per person per night twin/double, £37 single. The Britannia's staff have experience of SF conventions and very much want to see us there. We think that the hotel is an excellent place for an Eastercon, and we are taken by the concept of a convention in 'Planet Docklands', which is definitely an attraction in itself.

Confabulation's committee consists of Alison Scott, Mike Scott, Steve Davies, Giulia de Cesare and Sue Mason. We worked well together on Fourplay, and we're expecting this to continue. We believe that the small size of the committee is a strength, and we're expecting a good many other people to help us out at staff level. Three of us have worked on Eastercons before, and two haven't. We reckon this should give us the right mix of experience and originality.

We are, however, cutting our coat to suit our cloth. We don't expect to be a particularly large Eastercon. Intersection will be a large convention with a great deal going on, and we don't see the need to duplicate that at Easter. Don't expect us to have a con desk at every convention for the next two years, or a massive publicity drive. We will make sure that everyone who wants to come to Confabulation has plenty of opportunity to join.

Similarly, our programme will not be as extensive as some recent Eastercons, but we will provide space for anyone wanting to run their own events. Themed programme streams are common at modern Eastercons. Our only major theme will be fun.

If you would like to attend Confabulation, our membership rates are £15 attending and £10 supporting. Children born on or after 13/4/81 pay the supporting rate, and small children (born on or after 13/4/87) pay nothing. Convention badges will be available at a minimal cost for children, pets or soft toys who would like one.
