Interview With Guest of Honor Seanan McGuire

A good time shall be had by all as Hugo and Sturgeon Award-winning writer Elizabeth Bear interviews Boskone's Guest of Honor, Seanan McGuire. In addition to previously winning two Hugo Awards and the Campbell Award, in 2013 Seanan became the only person ever to appear five times on the same Hugo ballot. She is the author of the October Daye and InCryptid urban fantasies, plus several other works. Seanan also writes under the pseudonym "Mira Grant," whose sf/horror novel Feed was named one of Publishers Weekly's Best Books of 2010.

LETTERS TO THE PUMPKIN KING

Seanan McGuire's new book, Letters to the Pumpkin King, is available to Boskone members only through Sunday, February 16, 2014. Any remaining copies may be ordered through the NESFA Press site after Boskone.

The Enduring Power of Fairytales

What is it about fairytales that holds the imagination --- and can it survive a few tweaks? Fantasy is rife with retellings of myths and legends, but why are today's authors and screenwriters so radically changing classic fairytale characters (as in Wicked) and/or even outcomes (as in Once Upon a Time)?

Killer Plagues

A panel discussion about colds and viruses that don't turn people into zombies, but are just as deadly. What effect does science have on creating, curing, and tracking the viruses of today and those that may develop in the future? When the big civilization-killer comes, what can you expect when it hits? What symptoms should you be obsessively checking yourself out for? Will hand sanitizer help?

True Blood Distilled

With the end of the Sookie Stackhouse books and the coming finale of the True Blood TV series, Boskone is honored to present this unique opportunity to hear about the Sookie experience from the perspectives of its writer, editor, and agent.
