ACCESS AT BOSKONE

We have an Access area as part of Information and Volunteers this year. We added Access information to the Website (<http://www.boskone.org/about/access/>) and have been working to make it easier for everyone to enjoy Boskone.

We have reserved a few seats in the front row of each panel for people who have limited hearing or vision, and have taped out areas in each function room for mobies and wheelchairs. Many function rooms also have extra open space in the back.

We have checked areas and adjusted tables and chairs to ensure people using mobies can more easily get through. If anyone notices any spots that are difficult to navigate or identifies other issues that Access should be aware of, please drop an E-mail to access@boskone.org or stop by the Information/Volunteers/Access table in the Galleria.

FRIDAY SPECIAL EVENTS

- Art Show Opening

- 8.45pm Galleria stage: Boskone Reception, Meet the Guests, and Toast
- 10.00pm Harbor II: Regency Dance with Mary Robinette Kowal

DUBLIN 2019: AN IRISH WORLDCON AT BOSKONE!

Stop by the Dublin 2019: An Irish Worldcon table outside the Galleria to find out the latest news. Learn how you can be a part of our limited-edition pin promotion and get ready for the Meet Up at 10:30 PM in the Galleria on Saturday night for some Irish snacks and music

FOUND AT BOSKONE—PRE-CON

Three different people have found small glass marbles on the floor of the Galleria. Also found were two shiny cents. If you find any more marbles or anything interesting on the floor at Boskone, please let Helmuth know so we can update this report.

From the BBC...

The Tesla car that Elon Musk launched into space is likely to stay there for tens of millions of years before crashing into the Earth or Venus.

That's the conclusion of an analysis by Czech and Canadian researchers.

They calculated that the roadster has a 6% chance of colliding with Earth and a 2.5% probability of hitting Venus over the next million years.
