MISS ME?

Hello and welcome to the DarkCon Bulletin, where the con news rolls. Black-feather here, your humble publications director. So, how's your summer going? Yeah, I'm glad you're all having a blast. So are we! We're having so much fun, working to create content for next January. So. Much. FUN! Wait till you get a load of the events we have coming, from poker playing to costuming workshops to guests galore! All of this for you my friends! And we still have over four months to go before show time! So let's dig in to the latest report of all the progress we've made for Dark-Con 2014!

SPECIAL GUEST NEWS!

My friends, we have been working hard to bring fantastic guests here. We're thrilled as hell to tell you who we've got lined up for 2014!

LITERALLY!

We've got great news, allow me to present to you our Author Guest, the author of the "Katherine 'Kitty' Katt" Alien Series, Gini Koch! Exciting, yeah?

We also regret to announce that Kevin Hearne will not be attending this year.

GRAPHICALLY!

We have as our Artist Guests, "darkpop" fantasy artist and entrepreneur BIGCHRIS, and fan favorite bodypainter extraordinaire Mark Greenawalt. BIGCHRIS has 17 years of magazine covers, TV and movie work. Mark's handiwork has appeared in Playboy Magazine and over 400 other projects. And that's not all!

AND ESPECIALLY!

DarkCon is proud to announce Adrian Paul as our 2014 Media Guest! Adrian has had a successful 25-year acting career that has made him internationally recognized, and respected. His most notable role was playing Duncan Macleod, in the international hit television series, "Highlander". Which is the first multi-national co-production to run over 100 episodes and its two spinoff films Highlander: End-game and Highlander: The Source. Born and raised in London, England of an Italian mother and a British father, Adrian Paul's experience reaches all levels of the entertainment business, as well as in modeling and choreography, martial arts and sword skills. We're looking forward to Adrian sharing his experiences with his fans.

Ever think to yourself, boy howdy I'd like to know how to make my own steampunk pistol, goggles, or fascinating little hats! Well, come to the Airport Marriott next January and you'll get the chance!
