Concourse Confusion – Fan Exhibits Concourse

Just to confuse you, the Hyatt Regency has renamed Wacker Hall to Riverside Center, but has not yet changed their signs (at least as of this printing). And just to confuse you some more, The Hyatt Regency has a Concourse Level. They also call any of the walkways and escalator ways to and from the towers and to and from the levels, concourse. The name of the Fan Exhibit areas is also called the Fan Concourse, but is located on the Hyatt Ballroom Level, Columbus Hall and Ballrooms E & F. Whereas, the Classics of SF Art Exhibit which is listed in the Events Guide as being in Concourse, is actually located in the Comiskey room on the Concourse Level.

Chicon 2000 Pocket Program Grid

The Chicon 2000 pocket program is actually divided into three ringbound booklets for your convenience. With this ring I thee . . . No No NO! With the ring binding, you can clip it to your belt or belt loop or bag strap, you can carry one booklet, two booklets, or all three. You can slip them off the ring and pop one in your pocket. And, we hope, you can actually read the information in them without squinting too much and without our having to package a magnifying glass with your registration packet. The cover colors were selected to match the website colors.

The Pocket Program Grid contains program dates, times and locations. These are cross referenced with a description of the program items and an alphabetical list of program participants keyed with their program items.

The Events, Exhibits, and Everything Guide even contains the answer to the question, "What is the meaning of life, the universe and everything?" because it certainly does have a page 42. Here you will find information on opening and closing ceremonies, the Hugo Awards ceremony, hours for the dealers room and artshow and other useful information.

Last, but not least, the Dining Guide will inform you of restaurant hours of operation, types of food served, price range, dress codes and even if they are offering discounts to members of the convention.

"World Science Fiction Society" "WSFS" "World Science Fiction Convention" "Worldcon" "NASFiC" and "Hugo Award" are registered service marks of the World Science Fiction Society, an unincorporated literary society.
