

NOREASCON

How's your Imagination Quotient?

Test yourself, then treat yourself to three volumes of fascinating mind-stretchers for just $1

No one on your world has ever seen the stars. A strange legend foretells something called "night" will come tomorrow for the first time in 3,000 years. What will happen when it does?

CHOOSE ANY 3 BOOKS

You'll find the dazzlingly imaginative, beautifully logical answers in three famous stories in The Science Fiction Hall of Fame—an anthology of the greatest SF literature of all time. And you can have this 572-page, hard-bound book—plus two more masterpieces of the world's most entertaining, provocative fiction—for just $1. It's all part of the fun when you join THE SCIENCE FICTION BOOK CLUB.

YES . . . ANY 3 BOOKS FOR $1

As a member, you get the very best in science fiction for the astonishingly low price of $1.49 a book, plus shipping and handling. (Occasional extra-value selections are slightly more.) You agree to take only four selections or alternates in the coming year. All are handsome, hard-bound, full-length editions of science fiction's newest, most exciting discoveries, and they're described each month in the club's invigorating bulletin, Things To Come. So join the mind-stretching club today. We'll start you off with three books of your choice for just $1.00, plus shipping and handling, and bill you later. Send the coupon right away. The future beckons!

You're the first astronaut to visit another planet. Your ship lands and you find the house you grew up in. The woman on the porch is your grandmother! What's the explanation?

A great starship suddenly confronts another ship from an alien civilization. Can either race be sure the other won't conquer his world? Is there an alternative to destroying each other?

FOR JUST $1

When you join the Science Fiction Book Club and agree to accept only four books during the coming year.

General Comments

WELCOME to Noreascon. We hope you have an enjoyable time since we have all worked very hard to make this convention a success.

We have tried to meet our promises at St Louiscon (and before) when we were selected to host this year's convention. We promised good solid programming without stinting on the fannish aspects of the convention. Ultimately, this decision is up to you.

The main program is divided into three segments. The first deals with the interaction of man with his universe(s); we have called it: TERRAFORMING THE EARTH. The second segment of the program is concerned with the interactions between man and intelligence(s); which may be himself or may be others, either organic or non-organic: MAN=MADE MAN. Finally, we consider science fiction itself both as a tool and for its intrinsic values, literary and otherwise: SF, THE WRITING ON THE WALL - PROPHECY OR GRAFITTI?

Within the main program you can tell in which segment any particular item falls by noticing the number placed before the title.

A number of special interest groups will be having programs and functions; in general, these are open to all convention members unless otherwise specified. We have tried to schedule these items so that similar interest groups will not conflict.

Thanks are due to a number of people; far too many to be listed here. First, everyone on the committee page has put in time and effort for you. We'd also like to thank Ben Bova for much help and many constructive suggestions, Joe Hensley for legal aid, Virginia Carew, Lester del Rey, Dave Kyle, and of course Hal Clement who had to resign from the committee when his novel was nominated for the Hugo. Thanks also to Alva Rogers for getting the Hugos manufactured. Thanks are due to Listening, Inc. [Arlington, Massachusetts] for making available to us a film on dolphins; special thanks to Acoustic Research, Inc. for the loan of their speakers and associated equipment for the Alien Environment Simulation. A very big thank you to all the people who will be appearing on our program, without them we could not have this convention. Finally, to anyone who was inadvertently left out and to all concerned:

THANK YOU

Along with your program book you have a copy of a guide which has been prepared by members of NESFA to give those of you who are unfamiliar with the area information about places to eat. Don't be afraid to leave the hotel and try the subway system - it works. Unfortunately, as of 1 September we have succumbed to the exact fare on busses and fares are scheduled to increase to 25¢ for the bus and 30¢ for the subway. There are also a large number of restaurants (all price ranges) along Boylston Street which are within easy walking distance of the hotel. The bus to Harvard Square (Cambridge) runs alongs Massachusetts Avenue ("massave") and is only 5 minutes or so walk to the stop. Besides places to eat, the Square should be visited as it is one of the unique features in this area, indeed within the country.

PLEASE wear your plastic Noreascon badge at all times (well, not for that...) as it serves as your pass into the convention facilities. We will be maintaining especially tight security in the hucksters' rooms and in the art show to prevent thefts. However, you will also need your badge to get into the other program items.

If this is your first convention (and even if it isn't) don't be shy. The people here are all friendly and have similar interests. The discussion groups are an excellent way to meet new friends. Don't be hesitant in talking to the authors and artists; they're in science fiction because they enjoy it and they enjoy meeting people who are also interested in science fiction.

So, sit back, enjoy the program, the art show, the hucksters' rooms, the pool, the films. After all, that's what you came for.

Note:

- * Major Streets are generally not labelled.
- * A red and yellow light means pedestrians may cross.
- * A flashing green light MAY mean:
 - light is pedestrian controlled OR
 - this street has right of way OR
 - the other street has a flashing red OR
 - none of the above
- * An orange band on a telephone pole, tree, etc. indicates a bus stop.
- * On some bus lines you pay as you enter; on others as you leave; on some combined lines both. Ask the driver.

The NFFF Hospitality Room will be open during the convention for fans to meet and rest; renew old friendships and make new ones. Hours will be posted.

✓ SCIENCE FICTION WRITERS OF AMERICA OFFICE - Exeter B

The hours for the SFWA office and press room will be posted by the SFWA by this room during the convention.

ALIEN ENVIRONMENT SIMULATION - Andover Room

A sampling of alien environments with outré lighting and music. Speakers and amplification equipment kindly lent to us by Acoustic Research, Inc. Hours for the room will vary with demand and will be posted at the convention.

✓ DISCUSSION GROUPS -

Informal discussion groups - one way for fans to meet and talk to others with similar interests at Noreascon. They bridge the sometimes wide gap between formal program activities and purely social events. A series of these groups will be meeting at various times during the con in con attendees' volunteered hotel rooms. Topics run the range of sf and fannish interests. A good discussion group consists of four basic elements:

§an interesting topic or question concerning sf or fandom

§a leader (volunteer)

§a room (volunteer, also)

§and anywhere from 2 to 20 people who would like to talk about the topic.

Noreascon discussion groups will meet at different times at the convenience of the participants and each group will have no more than 20 people, so that everyone will get a chance to talk and to be able to listen to others. The time-limit on these groups is open-ended; they run as long as the participants wish.

Three groups which already seem to be very popular have been scheduled for function rooms (check the program schedule for these).

A bulletin board and sign-up sheets will be available in the discussion groups registration area in the Constitution Foyer. This is your chance to participate actively and plan a part of your convention.

Clifford D. Simak

GUEST OF HONOR

by Lester del Rey

For almost forty years Cliff Simak has enriched science fiction with a stream of good stories, seminal stories, and great stories. He has received a wider variety of awards than any other writer I know - two Hugos, the International Fantasy Award, and (by a landslide) the first prize in the Galaxy contest.

His influence on the field has been tremendous, as I know by his effect on my own writing. I first noticed his name when Marvel Tales published "The Creator" in 1935 - fifteen years before others began treating the diety in our field.

Cliff still leads in the fight to give us characters with dignity and decency, whether human, robot, or alien. He's probably the only writer who can build suspense over a gentle mood; a Simak story is always dramatic but almost never melodramatic. That takes talent.

In too-brief personal meetings and in correspondence, I've found the man not unlike the stronger characters in his stories. He's a gentle man with strong convictions, a man whose pride in craftsmanship is never marred by arrogance. He takes criticism in good humor, but he deeply resents anything he feels to be unfair against other writers.

In his profession as a newspaperman, he has spent most of his 67 years in Wisconsin and Minnesota. His stories sometimes show the rural scenes there, just as I remember them from my own youth there. Every man needs a chance to sense such scenes sometimes and I'm delighted that Cliff has always fought to conserve what is best of our past and vanishing present, as well as to make us ready for the best of the future he has helped to foresee.

I've honored Cliff Simak in my heart for a third of a century. And now that he is to be officially Guest of Honor at a World Convention, I cannot honor him more. I can only express my complete delight. He's the perfect man for the role!

FAN GUEST OF HONOR

HARRY WARNER: HAS-BEEN HERMIT --- BOB TUCKER

In my introduction to All Our Yesterdays, written three years ago, I said "Harry Warner and the late Cecil B. DeMille have certain fine points in common, although each of them would be rather astonished to hear me say it. In the language of the movie posters, their greatest works were years in the making, employ a cast of thousands, and are so incredibly long in the unfolding that the viewer cannot hope to get from here to there in one sitting..(and later:) I am reasonably certain Warner is a better craftsman than DeMille -- a more meticulous craftsman. If, in these pages, the waters part and a suffering people are chased across the sea-bed by Egyptian chariots, it's a safe bet Warner will not have permitted their scurrying feet to raise clouds of dust."

Alas, the safe bet is lost. Harry Warner did allow dust to fly, and my image of him as a meticulous craftsman is now a blurred image. I may quit fandom from the shock.

A second printing of his history of fandom in the Forties is now available (in both hard and soft covers) and Harry's monumental error in the first printing has been exposed for all to see: he tinkered with a world convention, moving it from one place to another without permission of the convention committee. One may imagine the noisy repercussions following that first printing. The closing paragraphs on page 269 of both editions reveal his brazen tinkering, with the March 1971 editions being correct. (I also noticed changes in the text on page 95 of each respective edition, but I think it was for greater clarification.)

Harry Warner was born in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania on December 19, 1922, and literally spent most of his life in Hagerstown, Maryland. He was there so long he acquired the title "The Hermit of Hagerstown" and it took him nearly forty years to shake the title: some unknown demon drove him out of the town to attend his first convention, and he was hooked --- forever hooked. By the time he reaches Boston in September he will have to admit he is only a has-been hermit; Boston will be his third convention in forty years, and the honorable title is the same as dust.

Finally: it has long been my opinion that no one reads these brief paeans to Guests of Honor except the program editor who works over them with a pointed pencil, and the Guest himself who is curious to learn what someone else has said of him. Therefore this ode to Harry Warner contains two deliberate misstatements of facts --- two errors --- which Harry will readily recognize. In the coming months I intend to watch the fan press closely to see if anyone else comments on them. If someone does, then I will have to admit someone does read these tributes.

Play the game, Harry: count the number who take the time to read this program and question you.

WELCOME TAFF MAN MARIO BOSNYAK

TAFF

The TAFF - Trans-Atlantic Fan Fund - was created in 1953 by Don Ford and Walter A. Willis, for the purpose of providing funds to bring well-known and popular fans across the Atlantic. The first winner, A. Vincent Clarke, was unable to accept in 1954; however, since that time the TAFF has regularly brought European fans to the World SF Conventions in North America and North American fans to the British National Conventions. Or, most recently, to the first Worldcon held in Germany.

TAFF exists solely through the support of fandom. The candidates, in each TAFF campaign, are voted upon by interested fans all over the world, and each vote is accompanied by a donation of no less than one dollar (or equivalent). These votes, therefore, and the continued interest of fans, are what makes TAFF possible.

This year's campaign, successful in the face of the British Postal strike closed on 10 July 1971. Since the winner will be at Noreascon it is appropriate to list him and previous winners here.

Masquerade

COME IN COSTUME - JOIN THE FUN
BE A PART OF THE COSTUME BALL!
EVEN IF YOU DO NOT PLAN TO ENTER THE COMPETITION

The Masquerade will be held on the Saturday evening of the Convention; however, there will be some new features.

There will be preregistration of all costumes that are entering the judging. Registration for the Masquerade closes at 1200 (noon) on Saturday 4 September 1971. Please fill out the Masquerade Registration Form included in the convention registration packet. Keep your section and turn in the rest to the Masquerade Registration area in the Constitution Foyer before NOON SATURDAY.

Fire laws do not allow certain effects (such as the 'blasters' used in one costume at St Louiscon) so, for the sake of safety, there will be a prejudging earlier in the day.

There will be many costumes and we wish to enable everyone to have a chance and to enjoy themselves so please follow carefully the rules on the Masquerade Registration Form and in this section - they are for the good of everyone.

We will have ultraviolet lights ('black light') available for those costumes designed to utilize it. If you are planning such a costume please make a special note of it on your form.

Due to the many complaints by contestants and audience over the years, there will be NO flash or strobe or floodlight photography, except for authorized photographers for the Convention, allowed in the Grand Ballroom during the presentations. A special room for photographers will be equipped with appropriate colored backdrops for photography.

Below is an exposure guide for most popular films; these should be regarded as exposures at the lowest light levels. The stage will be floodlit and the exposure levels will be substantially increased. Film purchased should be balanced for indoor photography so that no filters will be required. The light level is sufficient so that the metering system of automatic exposure cameras will operate without the need for manual override.

SPEAKER'S TABLE

Tables outside the dashed lines are located under the balcony and will be sold last as they do not have as good a view of the Speaker's Table as the more centrally located ones.

A pay bar will be set up in the Constitution Room; it will open at 18.30 (6.30pm) and will remain open until 2400 (midnight).

People who do not eat at the banquet will still be able to see the entire awards presentation. Seats will be set up in the balcony. The balcony will be closed during the meal but will be opened before any of the presentations or speeches begin.

More . . .

For More

Beginning with the November 1971 issue, the price of F&SF will increase to 75¢ a copy. Subscription rates will go up to $8.50 for one year, $15.00 for two years and $21.00 for three years. We've held the present price as long as possible, but rapidly rising costs make the increase essential now. For example, printing costs have risen more than 40% in the last few years, and the first step in a 142% increase in postage during the next five years has recently gone into effect. So we must raise our prices. We're aware that it's common to ask people to pay more for the same or less these days, but we're doing it differently . . .

We plan to give you more. Specifically, 16 additional pages, beginning with the November issue. The additional pages will be used for new fiction, and, for one thing, will enable us to bring you next month, an expanded 22nd Anniversary All-Star Issue, including stories by Zenna Henderson, Lloyd Biggle, Jr., Philip Farmer, Keith Roberts, Fritz Leiber (with a sequel to the award-winning "Ill Met in Lankhmar"). Also upcoming: A Special James Blish issue, featuring a brand-new (complete in one issue) novel by Mr. Blish called MIDSUMMER CENTURY. Stories by Ray Bradbury, Jack Vance, Thomas Burnett Swann, Poul and Karen Anderson. Plus a new F&SF competition, which will offer some intriguing prizes plus fun for all.

There is still time to subscribe at the present low rates

New rates will go into effect with the next issue, but the coupon below gives you a chance to subscribe at the present low rates. The savings are substantial; for instance the 3 year rate of $17.00 saves you $10.00 on the new single copy price and protects you against any increases. Please send the coupon immediately; we can only keep this offer open until October 15, 1971.

Enter my subscription to the new, expanded F&SF at the old, low rates of:

☐ $7.00 for one year ☐ $12.00 for two years ☐ $17.00 for three years

LAST RITES

Why are Quasars suddenly blinking out in the far reaches of the Universe? Why has a mysterious organization gathered deep beneath a mountain of granite somewhere in an American desert? BOOKS

CATACLYSM: THE DAY THE WORLD DIED by Don Pendleton. An absorbing unrelenting search-for-survival novel.

THE GUNS OF TERRA 10 by Don Pendleton. Mutineers take over the space gunship. The Earth's future hangs in the balance.

1989: POPULATION DOOMSDAY by Don Pendleton. More frightening than Dr. Paul Ehrlich's The Population Bomb.

THE GODMAKERS by Dan Britain. An adventure into the unknown. A fantasy of intrigue and mysticism in politics.

THE DEADLY SKY by Ivar Jorgensen. Identical androids suddenly pop up to mystify all who come across them.

SLATER'S PLANET by Harris Moore. A five year search for life on other planets brings unexpected discoveries about man.

PARADISE IS NOT ENOUGH by Michael Elder. The robots have taken over so completely that man has nothing to do.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE CLOCK by Philip Van Doren Stern. Stories by such masters as Wells, Priestly, and Heinlein.

THE ALIEN EARTH by Michael Elder. Isolated in outer space, a space ship crashes on an alien planet fighting a war.

TALES FROM THE UNKNOWN by Kurt Singer. A collection of perplexing stories that probe the world of the occult.

World SFS Rules

- 1.01 The World Science Fiction Society is an unincorporated literary society whose functions are: to choose the recipients of the annual Science Fiction Achievement Awards, known as the Hugos; to choose the location for the annual World Science Fiction Convention; and to attend the annual World Science Fiction Convention.
- 1.02 The membership of the World Science Fiction Society at any time consists of all those who have paid membership dues to the then current convention committee.
- 1.03 The management and responsibility for all phases of the annual World Science Fiction Convention lies entirely with the convention committee, which acts in its own name, not that of the Society. The convention committee which puts on the convention is, of course, the committee whose bid for selection of its location is accepted by the annual meeting of the Society.
- 2.01 The selection of the Science Fiction Achievement Awards, nicknamed Hugos, will be made as follows:
 - 2.02 BEST NOVEL: A science fiction or fantasy story of 40,000 words or more, appearing for the first time during the previous calendar year. Appearance in a prior year makes a story ineligible, except that the author may withdraw a version from consideration if he feels that version is not representative of what he wrote. A story may thus be eligible only once. Publication date, or cover date in the case of a dated magazine, takes precedence over the copyright date. A serial takes its appearance to be the date of the last installment. Individual stories appearing as a series are eligible only as individual stories, and are not eligible taken together under the title of the series. The convention committee may move a story into a more appropriate category if it feels it necessary, provided the story is within 5,000 words of the category limits.
 - 2.03 BEST NOVELLA: Rules as for best novel, with length under 40,000 words and above 17,500 words.
 - 2.04 BEST SHORT STORY: Rules as for best novel, with length under 17,500 words.
 - 2.05 BEST DRAMATIC PRESENTATION: Any production, directly related to science fiction or fantasy, in the fields of radio, television, stage, or screen, which has been publicly presented for the first time in its present form during the previous calendar year. In the case of individual programs presented as a series, the separate programs shall be individually eligible, but the entire year's production taken as a whole under the title of the series shall not be eligible.
 - 2.06 BEST PROFESSIONAL ARTIST: A professional artist whose work was presented in some form in the science fiction or fantasy field during the previous calendar year.
 - 2.07 BEST PROFESSIONAL MAGAZINE: Any magazine devoted primarily to science fiction or fantasy, which has published four or more issues, at least one issue appearing in the previous calendar year.
 - 2.08 BEST AMATEUR MAGAZINE: Any generally available non-professional magazine devoted to science fiction, fantasy, or related subjects, which has published four or more issues, at least one appearing in the previous calendar year.
 - 2.09 BEST FAN WRITER: [never officially defined; our definition on the nomination forms follows tradition.]
 - 2.10 BEST FAN ARTIST: [never officially defined; our definition on the nomination forms follows tradition.]
 - 2.11 Additional Categories: Not more than two special categories may be created by the convention committee with nomination and final voting to be the same as for the other, permanent categories. The convention committee is not required to create any such categories; they should be held to a minimum, and those created by one convention committee are not binding on following committees. Awards under these categories will be Science Fiction Achievement Awards or Hugos.
 - 2.12 The name and design shall not be extended to any other award whatsoever.
 - 2.13 No Award: At the discretion of the individual convention committee, if a lack of nominations or final votes in a specific category shows a marked lack of interest in that category on the part of the voters, the award in that category shall be cancelled for that year. In addition, the entry NO AWARD shall be mandatory in each and every category of the Hugos on the final ballot. This applies to both permanent categories and those which the individual convention committees establish on a temporary basis.
 - 2.14 Nominations and Voting: Selection of nominees for the final award voting shall be done by a poll conducted by the convention committee under rules determined by the committee. Final award voting shall be by mail, with ballots sent only to Society members. Final ballots shall include name, signature, address, and membership number, to be filled in. Final ballots shall standardize alternatives given in each category to not more than five. Assignment of nominees nominated in more than one category to their proper one and eligibility of nominees shall be determined by the convention committees. Voters shall indicate the order of their preference for nominees in each category.
 - 2.15 Tallying: Counting of all votes shall be the responsibility of the convention committee, which is responsible for all matters concerning awards. In each category votes shall be first tallied by the voters' first choice. In the event no majority vote is then obtained, the nominee placing last will be eliminated and the ballots listing him as first choice redistributed on the basis of the ballots' second listed choice. The process will be repeated until a majority vote winner is obtained.
 - 2.16 No member of the then current convention committee nor any publication closely connected with them shall be eligible for an award.
 - 2.17 The Hugo Award will continue to be standardized as to the design of the rocket ship on the model presently in use. The design of the base is up to each convention committee.

3.01 The Society shall choose the sites for the annual World Science Fiction Conventions two years in advance at a business meeting to be held at an advertised time during each annual World Science Fiction Convention, presided over by the chairman of the then current convention committee, or by someone designated by the committee. The business meeting shall be conducted under Robert's Rules of Order, Revised, and such other rules as the then current committee may publish in the program book.

3.02 To assure an equitable distribution of convention sites, the North American continent is divided into three geographical divisions, as follows:

Western Division..New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Saskatchewan, and states and provinces westward; and Baja California

Central Division..All Mexico except Baja California and all states and provinces between the Western Division and the Eastern Division

Eastern Division..Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Quebec and states and provinces eastward; and St. Pierre and Miquelon, Bermuda, Bahamas, and all islands of the Caribbean Sea not previously included in this division and other islands similarly situated.

3.03 Convention sites shall be rotated among these divisions and the rest of the world in the following order: Western, Central, Eastern beginning in 1973 with the Central division, with any site outside North America eligible to bid for a World Science Fiction Convention in any year. ~~All bids must be placed two years in advance.~~ The bids of locations to hold a convention shall only be considered and voted on if they lie within the geographical division whose turn it is; except that the rule of rotation may be set aside by a vote of three-fourths voting, with the provision that in no case except that of sites outside North America may two successive conventions be in the same division. In the event of such setting aside, rotation shall be resumed the following year.

3.04 By bidding, a convention committee promises to abide by this constitution. Proposed date and dues for the next convention must be announced by bidding committees before site selection. Such proposals are subject to modification by the business meeting.

3.05 In the event the Society is without a properly selected location for the next annual convention because of the resignation of the then current convention committee or other cause, the five most recent committee chairmen willing to serve shall be authorized to select the next location for the World Science Fiction Convention.

3.06 Voting for sites of World Science Fiction Conventions shall be limited to members of the current convention who have also paid at least $2.00 towards the dues of the convention to be voted upon. The details of implementation shall be decided upon by each convention committee.

3.07 When the World Science Fiction Convention is held outside North America, the portion of the voting regulations which requires physical attendance at the voting session for the selection of the convention site in North America to be chosen at that convention shall be suspended. Instead, the convention site for two years hence shall be chosen by an Australian mail ballot administered by that convention committee. Any person who owns any type membership in that convention and that two years hence shall be eligible to vote. The regular voting rules shall be immediately reinstated at the succeeding World Science Fiction Convention held in North America.

4.01 Any change to the ~~foregoing~~ rules may take effect no sooner than the end of the convention during which such change is accepted.

4.02 All previous by-laws, constitutions, and resolutions having the effect of by-laws and constitution of the World Science Fiction Society are revoked.

4.03 The rules of the World Science Fiction Society as decided in the business meetings shall be printed by the World Science Fiction Convention committee, and distributed with the Hugo nomination ballots, and hopefully printed in the program book.

Business Meeting Rules

The business meeting of the 29th World Science Fiction Convention will be held Sunday 5 September 1971 at 1000(10 am). The site of the 1973 World Science Fiction Convention will be selected at a special meeting held Saturday 4 September 1971 at 1000(10 am). The meetings will be conducted according to Robert's Rules of Order, Revised, as interpreted by the Parliamentarian except where contravened by the following Special Rules:

1. All motions, Resolutions, or other items to be presented for a vote of the convention membership at the Sunday business meeting must be submitted in written form, together with a written second, and received by the Chairman of the Noreason Committee at least eighteen (18) hours prior to that meeting

2. All groups planning to make Convention Bids at the con-site selection meeting Saturday must declare their intention to bid to the Chairman of the Noreason committee, in writing, no later than 1000 (10 am) Wednesday 1 September 1971. [see BIDDING below for details]

3. If the Parliamentarian thinks the circumstances warrant it, he may accept - subject to the approval of the Chairman - motions submitted to him after the deadline, but before the opening of the business meeting, provided such motions are submitted to him in writing, with written seconds. These motions, if approved by the committee, will be presented to the convention after all other business has concluded.

4. Amendments may be submitted from the floor under the following restrictions:

4.1 Amendments must be related to the general aim of the original proposal; "amendments" that are actually new proposals will be automatically ruled out of order.

4.2 Amendments-to-amendments will be allowed only with the consent of the original amender under the 'originator's consent' clause in Robert's Rules of Order, Revised and will not otherwise be admitted to vote. In short, any amendment offered to a legitimately-submitted proposal will be voted on as offered or as amended with the consent of the amendment's originator only.

5. In all cases, the decision of the Parliamentarian will be final.

The following proposal was made by Charles Crayne and Bruce Pelz at ST. LOUISCON and tabled until this year.

Since the current advance registration voting system successfully operates to eliminate from voting on a convention site, those persons who have no real interest in the site of that convention; and since there are some persons who have a sincere interest in attending the convention being voted upon who are not able to attend the voting session for financial or other reasons, it is moved:

1. that persons who would be eligible to vote if they were able to attend in person be able to join and vote by mail.
2. that the exact details of carrying this out be left to the committee in charge, but that they should be guided by the mechanisms of the various professional societies which regularly hold voting by mail.

The following motion was made by Erwin Strauss and tabled at HEICON: That the current paragraph 3.02 in the Rules of the World Science Fiction Society be replaced by the following:

3.02 To assure an equitable distribution of convention sites, the North American continent is divided into three geographical divisions by drawing the following line (all segments are to be drawn so as to be straight lines on Mercator maps unless otherwise indicated; all names and terms are used as specified in The International Atlas (Rand McNally, 1969).

From 18° 00' N, 86° 00' W; to 20° 00' N, 86° 00' W; to the southernmost intersection of the Alabama-Florida border with 88° 33' W; along the line dividing the states of Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, and the province of Quebec from the states of Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio, the province of Ontario, and the Keewatin District of the Northwest Territories; to the point where the province of Quebec and the Keewatin and Franklin Districts of the Northwest Territories come together; to the North Pole; to 82° 30' N, 60° 00' W; to 77° 30' N, 75° 00' W; to 75° 00' N, 75° 00' W; to 50° 00' N, 40° 00' W; to 11° 30' N, 40° 00' W; to 11° 30' N, 61° 00' W; to 14° 00' N, 68° 00' W; to 14° N, 76° 00' W; to 18° 00' N, 86° 00' W; to the intersection of the Mexico-British Honduras border with 87° 48' W; along the line dividing Mexico from British Honduras and Guatemala; to that line's westernmost intersection with 14° 30' N; to the intersection of 14° 30' N with the International Date Line; along the International Date Line; to the North Pole; to the point where the Mackenzie, Keewatin, and Franklin Districts of the Northwest Territories come together; along the line dividing the Keewatin District of the Northwest Territories, the province of Manitoba, and the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Chihuahua, and Sonora from the Mackenzie District of the Northwest Territories, the province of Saskatchewan, and the states of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, and Baja California Norte; to the northernmost intersection of the Baja California Norte-Sonora border with 114° 30' W; to 22° 00' N, 108° 10' W; to 14° 30' N, 108° 10' W.

That area defined above including New York City shall be known as the Eastern Division; that area defined above including the city of Chicago shall be known as the Central Division; and that area defined above including the city of Los Angeles shall be known as the Western Division.

COMMENTS: this would rigorously define the North American divisions. The only immediate practical effects would be to transfer West Virginia from the Central to the Eastern division and to define the locations of the Yukon and Northwest territories. This was originally numbered 3.03 but has been renumbered to take into account other renumbering of paragraphs arising from changes passed at Heicon.

Bidding

The site for the 1973 (31st) World Science Fiction Convention will be selected in 1971 at NOREASCON; bids will be accepted from any city in the Central Division of North America as defined in section 3.02 of the Rules of the World Science Fiction Society as given above. At least one member of the bidding group must be a recognized fan. Written notification of intent to bid must be submitted to the NOREASCON Chairman at least 72 hours before the con site selection meeting (i.e. by 1000 Wednesday 1 September 1971), Saturday morning 4 September 1971 and preferably as soon as possible. In accord with section 3.06 of the Rules, voters must join the 1973 convention in order to participate in the site selection. Each group, by submitting a bid, agrees to provide manpower to aid in the registration of such voters.

To date the NOREASCON committee has received notification of intent to bid from the cities of DALLAS and TORONTO. The city of MINNEAPOLIS has withdrawn its bid in favor of TORONTO.

No person may participate in the con-site selection meeting, either as a spectator or voter or bidder, unless such persons are registered members of NOREASCON. After this requirement is met, certain other requirements as appearing hereafter will be imposed for eligibility for participation.

Voting for the convention site shall be by secret ballot, and the winning site must receive a majority of ballots cast. Only those persons who have purchased advance membership in the 1973 World Science Fiction Convention shall be entitled to attend the con-site selection meeting; only those persons in attendance of that meeting shall be entitled to vote.

Bids are limited to fifteen (15) minutes speaking time, to be divided between the original bidding speech and such seconding speeches as the bidding group shall choose.

Security

With the increase in value of the Art Show and the Hucksters' Room it has become necessary to provide professional security guards to prevent theft. Therefore, the convention is hiring guards for this purpose.

Most of the problems and thefts are caused by non-fans. To handle this aspect plastic badges will be used in addition to the usual cardboard name tags. These badges must be worn to get into all functions with the exception of people in costume at the Masquerade and ticket holders at the banquet. This is necessary, unfortunately, to prevent those who have not paid the registration fee from imposing upon those who have had the courtesy and honesty to do so.

PHOTON

PHOTON is devoted to the serious study of science fiction, horror and fantasy motion pictures. It is dedicated to the exploration of imaginative cinema, and has been endorsed by such notables as Forrest J. Ackerman, Robert Bloch and Ray Harryhausen.

For the past eight years, PHOTON has been offering its readers articles and features of great interest to the serious film fan. Its staff reads like a "Who's Who" in Fandom: Dave Ludwig, Ronald V. Borst, Richard Corben, Bill Nelson, Jim Wnoroski, Don Willis, Joe Dante, Jr. and many others.

Issue #21 is currently available and is packed with material that you won't want to miss. Like a critical dissection of the films Karloff and Lugosi made together, an in-depth review of INVADERS FROM MARS, the additions and corrections to our Vampire Film Checklist, and the most detailed new films section you're ever likely to read.

PHOTON is all offset, photo-reduced and illustrated with stills and artwork. Each issue contains a detachable 8x10 glossy still from a film, alone worth the price of the magazine: one dollar per issue.

There are still a limited number of back issues available at $2 each. Number 20 contains a survey of Zombies in the Cinema and an interview with Jim Danforth. Number 19 features the Vampire Film Checklist. A six issue subscription is $6.50. Order today from:

SUNPOT!

by VAUGHN BODĒ

Vaughn Bodē, creator of SUNPOT for Galaxy magazine, has collected the saga of SUNPOT in one volume called, appropriately enough, SUNPOT. A folded schematic of SUNPOT planet has been included.

These collected works represent, possibly, the sole example of an artist's world presented from conception through destruction.

Revel in the joy of a mind unleashed! Reserve your copy of this big volume (7¼" x 9½") now—only $2.00 (plus 50¢ for postage and handling).

In addition, a copy of the schematic of SUNPOT planet (19½" x 24") is available for $1.00.

Europe is once again bidding for a world-con. The year is 1976, the place is Stockholm. For further information: 34th World SF Convention: Bidding Committee, PO Box 3273, S-103 65 Stockholm 3, Sweden. (Pre-supporting memberships are now available. US$1.00 apiece.)

"NOT 'WANDERLUST' - WONDER LOST!"

Words by John Brunner; air, traditional (The Lincolnshire Poacher, better known in America as The Little Tailor Boy)

When I was just a little tad I spent my weekly time
 On Wonder and Amazing and I never missed a time.
 I rescued threatened galaxies and battled cosmic crime -
 Temptation to the B-E-M she knew she couldn't trust -
 Yes, it was my delight when I had to fight the Horror from the Slime!

Astounding came along and so my sense of wonder grew,
 With robots and telepathy and atom-power too,
 And Captain Future had his gang who always saw him through -
 They went to Mars and they toured the stars and I was in the crew!

There were monsters on the covers which made Planet too a must,
 A pretty girl in scant attire exposing half her bust,
 Temptation to the B-E-M she knew she couldn't trust -
 If you read its mind you were sure to find abominable lust!

The heroines were modest then, the heroes tall and clean,
 Their rayguns mowed the monsters down because their skins were green,
 And they said when the villainess proposed a ritual obscene,
 "I'm sorry my dear but I greatly fear I am wed to my time-machine!"

The Golden Age is dead for good, there isn't any hope.
 "The Terror of the Creeping Scum" is due to wasday soap,
 The Earthmen are incompetent and simply cannot cope -
 The invasion will come and these bums are so dumb they'll merely sit and mope!

The authors all have gone and caught the decadent disease,
 They all use dirty words galore and hate the Space Police,
 And when it comes to aliens from evil galaxies
 The heroine Jane wants a daisy-chain and takes them on by threes!
 Yes, the heroine Jane wants a daisy-chain and takes them on by threes!

WE'VE DONE SOME VERY FINE UNIQUE BOOKS

LIKE,

A GUIDE TO MIDDLE EARTH, Robert Foster's monumental dictionary and concordance to Tolkien, in cloth at $5.95, and paper at $3.75. "Essential" said the Tolkien Society of America.

LIKE,

IS THE DEVIL A GENTLEMAN, the Seabury Quinn memorial collection. His own choice of his best 100,000 words from Weird Tales, plus bibliography, introduction, and 5 color plates. "A brilliant, nostalgic look at a master," said The Orange County (Calif.) Press Association. Cloth, $5.95.

LIKE,

THE CONAN SWORDBOOK, edited by L. Sprague deCamp and George Scithers. Everything you always wanted to know about Conan and other swords and sorcery heroes by major writers. The San Francisco Chronicle said it was "incredibly good fun and fascinating, too." Cloth, $5.95.

LIKE,

DRAGONS AND NIGHTMARES, Robert Bloch's romp about alcoholic dragons and men who collect myths, which August Derleth called "fast and funny." Cloth, $4.00.

All limited, numbered editions in cloth. Quantities always short.

Ask at the Mirage Press table in the Huckster's room or see Jack Chalker for more on not only our current Mirage line, but our future lineup as well. He'll give you a catalog and a chance to buy a Tim Kirk color Tolkien print for a buck that you can't buy by mail. And he'll tell you about our winter 1971 books, like ASIMOV ANALYZED, Neil Goble's full-length examination of the good Doctor A.

THE CONAN GRIMOIRE, a new collection of swords and sorcery articles and art, including lusty songs and music.

H. G. WELLS: CRITIC OF PROGRESS, Jack Williamson's penetrating new interpretation of Wells.

Coming? What about AN ATLAS OF FANTASY? THE HARLAN ELLISON HORNBOOK? THE INDEX TO THE SF PUBLISHERS? A GUIDE TO SF REFERENCE WORKS? A new, revised IN MEMORIAM: CLARK ASHTON SMITH? Even a new work on Lovecraft by Lin Carter.

A Journal of Science Fiction and Fantasy

Since 1958 the Modern Language Association has sponsored a Seminar on Science Fiction at its annual December meeting. Since 1959 Extrapolation, its newsletter (now in journal form) has been published regularly, now circulating in 17 countries to individuals and libraries. The Science Fiction Research Association is now approaching its first birthday, which it will celebrate with a Conference in Toronto in October. In December 1970 Jack Williamson issued his first list of courses being taught, primarily at the college and university level, either in sf itself or in some area that makes use of sf. I am now teaching a seminar in modern fantasy and sf for the third time at the College of Wooster, and have, for the past five years, made use of sf materials in regular fiction courses. All this ignores the books by Amis, Franklin, Hillegas, and I. F. Clarke published during the 60's as well as the anthologies edited by academic people.

What it means is that sf has gained a degree of academic recognition that it has never had before. Many persons have wondered whether that interest will continue; I believe it will. Further evidence may be found in the announcement that Arno Press and the New York Times are publishing a series of 41 titles under the label Utopian Literature, the advisory editor being Prof. Arthur O. Lewis, Jr. of Penn State University. Such ventures are not undertaken with fly-by-night projects.

I cannot recall when I first heard various growls and mutterings about academic 'intrusion' into the field as well as various assertions that classroom treatment would surely kill sf, or at least make it less exclusive. I sympathize with such views for various reasons, but I do not agree with them. Undoubtedly a part of such criticism arises from the general criticism directed at our educational system; another part comes from the dislike all of us feel at having something we like formalized. Such formalization seems to have the potential of taking the fun out of what we like. Both criticisms could be answered - perhaps need to be. Briefly, then, before moving on to other matters: First, many of the people in academic circles interested in sf have been long-time readers and collectors. Second, to think that classroom study takes the 'fun' out of any literature is a parochial view that perhaps does not realize how much fun the analysis of themes and the analysis of literary conventions as well as narrative and structural techniques can be, or how much additional pleasure such study can give to one's reading. That leads, of course, to the hot potato of the criticism of sf.

Elsewhere I have said that I envision SFRA, the MLA Seminar, and Extrapolation itself as a kind of clearing house for sf and its related fields uniting all people interested in the genre, academicians, editors, writers, collectors, or enthusiasts. Not only within the U.S.A., but the world.

I am particularly concerned about the many publications that have been issued in small editions which are no longer available, not only the sf titles themselves but the publications of various specialist groups and fanzines issued by individuals. For example, Dick Geis has announced that he is not going to publish Science Fiction Review any more. If he sticks with that decision, then how is anyone who does not now have copies ever going to obtain them? Borrowing from other fans? For how long - until the paper wears out? Will Locus be lost to any potential reader-student of sf when and if Charlie Brown decides to discontinue publication. One other example: some libraries which have been given or purchased files of the magazines, say those of the '20s or '30s, will not let anyone handle them, declaring they are too fragile. Wouldn't it be something if University of Michigan Microfilms, as one possibility, reproduced the entire run of sf magazines published in the '30s? (Please collectors, don't faint; I don't think that would destroy your market). I do know that inquiries have been made about the reproduction of comic books as a part of the new emphasis upon popular culture.

Take another example. Individuals have submitted materials to Extrapolation, explaining that the particular article has been published elsewhere, but that it does not matter, for our mailing lists do not overlap - much. Such problems, and many others, could be solved if SFRA were a clearing house to which one could write, asking the location of particular materials, be they sf titles themselves, zines, letters and papers of some writer, or even business records.

I realize that such matters are not everyone's bag; some could not care less. But suppose you wanted to do a biography of Olaf Stapledon. Where would you go to find his letters, his papers? What has happened to the papers of John Wyndham? Does his widow have them? Think of how much has been perhaps irretrievably lost. (I admit to a bit of a hang-up; at present I am finishing a biography of the Victorian novelist, Charles Reade, whose The Cloister and the Hearth is the only one of his twenty-some novels still well known. The family opened a footlocker of papers for me. In some of them I read of relatives burning letters. It still gives me a cold chill, just as the final curtain scene of The Aspern Papers does.)

What is important here is that hopefully SFRA and the MLA Seminar can serve as a continuing meeting ground for everyone interested in any phase of sf. What is most important is that its members, largely but certainly not exclusively from the academic world, need the cooperation of all of you. If some group can provide a clearing house, then the field will no longer be as splintered into special, often short-time, interests as it has been in the past.

In return, I think SFRA and the academic world can help bring about the critical recognition which all of us, in one way or another, want sf to receive. (I've probably said things that will bring me my lumps, so I might as well move on to the criticism of sf. So be it. Get the hammer ready, Charlie!)

One of the most telling of Jim Blish's remarks in More Issues at Hand came when he spoke of the re-assimilation of sf into the mainstream of literature "--which is where it started out, with such figures as Wells and Conan Doyle--" [p.14]. He, among others, has pointed out that the sharp distinction between sf (and fantasy) and the mainstream has never been so much emphasized in Europe as in the U.S. The 'pulp' and specialist magazines have frequently been blamed or praised, as the case may be, for this apparent separation. Sometimes, I think this emphasis upon the pulp 'origins' of sf is not so much a defense of the genre as it is some attempt to keep the field exclusive. But it fails to recognize two things: 1, that a vast quantity of fiction has been published in cheap paper editions, often serially, back into the 19th century; and 2, that publication of sf titles in magazine form did not begin with the 1920s and 1930s. Take, for example, Garrett P. Serviss's Edison's Conquest of Mars, or the serialization of H.G. Well's novels in Cosmopolitan around the turn of the century.

But there is a more important question: what are the characteristics of science fiction that demand that it be criticized - judged - in terms different from those in which we judge other fiction? Here we could move into the great hassel of definition - and personal preferences - and such words as probability and plausibility. Two questions: At the time it was published in the mid-1800s was Rider Haggard's She science fiction? Is the basic idea of Larry Niven's Ringworld either plausible or probable?

Whatever your answers, let me make a suggestion. When Samuel Taylor Coleridge enunciated the principle of the suspension of disbelief, he was concerned with a problem that story-tellers have always faced: the need to have their readers accept the world which they portray in their fictions. That is, the audience has always had to accept as possible/probable and plausible the characters, the plot, the setting, and even the manner in which the story was told. These elements differed in each period, at least to some degree, because the interests and the emphases of each period differed somewhat. One result was the development of certain literary conventions - call them a literary shorthand, if you will, because they were the ways in which writer and reader communicated material quickly so that they could move on to the central interests of the story. Science Fiction, like all types of fiction, has its conventions; for example, we accept such concepts/devices as hyperspace, faster-than-light speed, and parallel universes without having the writer explain them.

To gain this acceptance, one tradition within fiction insisted upon a high degree of verisimilitude - to everyday life. It dealt more and more with everyday man in his everyday life, and it has culminated in modern literary realism and naturalism. (This is what some refer to as the mainstream of fiction.) But an equally strong tradition throughout the history of story-telling has not been concerned with everyday life. Odysseus, Beowulf, King Arthur, Gulliver, to name only a few standard examples, have lived amid a minimal amount of realistic detail in entirely imaginary worlds. Those worlds have provided the backdrop for social criticism, for heroic action, and for myth; in short, they have attempted to achieve some symbolic statement about the nature, and perhaps destiny, of man. This is the non-realistic tradition; it is fantasy.

Yes, I realize how controversial that word is. But remember, that when ghosts were written about, for example, they were regarded as possible/probable and plausible. When lost races with exotic princesses were found in every valley of Africa, Asia, and the Americas, it was still possible/probable and plausible that somewhere a remnant of an ancient civilization still survived. "What if..." Each period has its own beliefs, concerns, and interests, and each period has determined the nature of its own fantasy.

If this point is kept in mind, and if we recognize that as "scientific romance" or science fiction, at least three or four generations of writers have written sf, then a great many of the problems that have encumbered the criticism of science fiction are removed. It becomes possible to see in the "space opera" of the 1930s a symbolic statement of the triumph of man and his machines throughout the universe: the vision of what Bob Silverberg called in his introduction to Mirror of Infinity, "galactic man". It permits the inclusion within science fiction of the utopian-dystopian tradition (which is where academic interest began), and it even allows one to accept any number of new waves as the changing ways in which different groups of authors deal with the same materials.

In short, it is not a parochial view. More important, it allows one to prefer whatever type of story he wishes to without making it seem necessary that he denounce all other types of stories as //?)('ε%!!!

If this view is taken, then one can begin to examine science fiction of the past 70 to 100 years to see what it reveals about man's reaction to science and technology and the "Unexpected Universe" they have revealed to him. It becomes important to the history of ideas.

One can ask the question: what are the characteristics of science fiction; what symbolic statement(s) does it make?

Then the literary criticism of science fiction can begin.

I invite you to the SFRA sessions at Noreascon. One in the morning will be devoted to bibliography. But an afternoon session will be made up of four papers. I'll be there, and if you wish to talk/discuss/argue, why don't we --- over a beer?

Hotel Agreements - The Fine Print

The following form an agreement between the 29th World Science Fiction Convention - Noreascon (called 'committee' or 'convention') and the Hotel Sheraton-Boston (called 'hotel'). The agreement is broken down as follows:

Banquet	1 page	6 items	Sleeping Rooms	2 pages	12 items
Function rooms	2 pages	9 items	Swimming Pool	1 page	3 items
Hotel Restaurants	1 page	6 items
Operations	3 pages	15 items	Total	10 pages	51 items

[the pagination is that of the original agreement and is not followed in this reproduction]

Supplementary agreements may be made between the committee and the hotel as called for in some of the items following.

Modifications may be made to any or all of the items in this agreement by the mutual consent of the committee and the hotel.

(signed) 17 May 1970 by Anthony Lewis, Chairman Noreascon-29th World Science Fiction Convention and Bill Bowman, Sales Manager, Hotel Sheraton-Boston

BANQUET

The sales of banquet tickets will be possible up to 4 pm Friday, 3 September 1971. (added by hotel: Provided a good estimate is given in advance, 1st guarantee by 10 am Friday plus hourly check till 4 pm.)

Waiters will collect tickets from each person at the banquet. The committee will pay the hotel the number guaranteed or the number actually served - whichever is the larger.

A wine list (tent card) will be placed on each table.

Each table, other than the head table, will seat ten (10) people. There will be one (1) waiter for each of these tables. (added by hotel: unless heavy ticket sales after noon on Friday leaves us short of waiters - union waiter hall closes after noon on Friday).

The hotel will place numbers on the tables as indicated in advance by the committee.

The maitre d'hotel (or other responsible official) will be available, at mutually agreeable times, for discussion re: cuisine, seating and other matters appertaining to the banquet.

FUNCTION ROOMS

In consideration of the number of sleeping rooms used and the meal functions there will be no charge for the function rooms.

All convention facilities are assigned to the use of the committee on a 24 hour/day basis commencing Friday 3 September 1971 with provisions made for the pre-convention needs of setting up the art and book rooms on 2 September 1971. Within six (6) months from the actual convention the committee will furnish the hotel with the exact needs as to function rooms and will return to the hotel any function rooms not needed for the specific times they will not be needed.

A room will be made available to the committee by the hotel Thursday evening 2 September 1971 for registration purposes.

Union members shall not be required to operate the film projectors and/or the sound system in the function rooms. (added by hotel: unless new contract agreement forces us to change present policy - not anticipated).

There will be no charge to the convention for the use of the screens already installed in the function rooms, specifically the 12 foot x 15 foot screen in the main ballroom.

The hotel will provide one (1) free microphone at any meeting and two (2) free microphones at any social function. Any additional microphones will cost $6/day/microphone.

The committee can play tape-recorded music through the hotel sound system in the function rooms at no cost other than that of hooking up to the hotel sound system. This cost shall be detailed in a supplementary agreement.

The committee can make use of non-union performers in the hotel function rooms if desired.

All convention facilities will be assigned to the committee on a 24 hour/day basis Friday 3 September, Saturday 4 September, Sunday 5 September and such time as shall be necessary on Monday 6 September to complete the program and break down exhibits.

HOTEL RESTAURANTS

The Pavillion (Coffee Shop) staff will be augmented from 9 am to 1 pm Friday to Monday.

Prices in the hotel restaurants and bars will not be increased during the time of the convention.

The hotel restaurants [and bars] will be open on Labor Day. (added by hotel: Bars cannot operate until 1 pm on Labor Day, Massachusetts state law - your group will be departing that afternoon). [Please note this is also the case on Sunday although the time may be noon rather than 1 pm; the Restaurants will be opened on Labor Day - see restaurant schedule elsewhere in the Program Book]

The equivalent of 'tie and jacket' (such as cravat, turtleneck and jacket, etc.) will be acceptable at the Falstaff and Riviera Rooms.

Notification of the exact hours of the hotel restaurants and bars during the days of the convention will be sent to the committee at least 90 days in advance of the convention.

AVON BOOKS

Leading Publisher Of Science Fiction's
Leading Authors

Avon Books 959 Eighth Avenue
New York New York
10019

Dated and signed copies of the menus of the hotel restaurants and bars shall be attached to and be made a part of this letter of agreement, guaranteeing the prices at the hotel restaurants and bars. These shall be attached to the letter of agreement no later than 1 August 1971.

OPERATIONS

Room service will be available during all days of the convention until midnight.

Parking will be free for members of the convention who are registered at the hotel. A fee of $1 will be charged for each 'in-out' parking of the car other than the original entrance and final exit.

The ice machines on each sleeping room floor of the hotel will be kept in operating order during the convention. The soft-drink machines on each sleeping room floor will be kept supplied during the convention.

All automatic elevators will be kept in operation at all times during the convention.

Check out time will be extended until 3 pm on Monday 6 September 1971 for those members of the convention notifying the hotel of their desire for this extension either in advance at time of registration, at time of check in, or at any time up to and including Sunday 5 September 1971.

The hotel should augment its staff to the degree necessary to expedite check in and check out procedure.

Pay bars will be set up by the hotel on a one (1) day notice by the committee. The usual rebate of bartender and cashier fees will be in effect. This rebate shall be spelled out in a supplement to this agreement to be signed by both parties not later than 90 days before the convention. (added by hotel: NOT POSSIBLE unless arranged for on Friday by 3 pm. Union office closes over weekend.)
[Note: the fee is $35 for each pay bar set up. Due to the fact that most pay bars do not make the minimum and the fact that most conventions refuse to believe this, the hotel has informed us that it no longer bothers to give rebates but just charges the flat $35 fee.]

The hotel will arrange for the committee to meet with the managers of all shifts and departments of the hotel prior to the convention so that these personnel can make whatever special arrangements are necessary.

The hotel will supply secure safety deposit boxes to the convention, its components, or members thereof at the usual rates.

The hotel will notify the committee of any complaints or disturbances so that the committee can investigate and act before the hotel takes any further action on the matter.

The hotel will provide a secure area for materials received prior to the opening of the convention.

A set up staff will be available 24 hours/day.

The hotel will provide stanchions and velvet ropes for use in controlling the flow of people at registration and other activities of the convention as specified by the committee in supplementary agreements.

The committee and the hotel agree that the hotel will arrange for the employ of off-duty Boston policemen as security guards in the number and for such times as the committee shall specify. The committee will bear the cost of the security thus arranged, i.e. the cost of the policemen. The committee will have the sole authority to set the hours and location of such policemen.

The function rooms will be locked when not in use by the convention. It is understood that hotel staff have keys to these rooms and that positive security will be arranged by the committee.

SLEEPING ROOMS

The hotel will supply a sufficient supply of registration cards to the committee printed with the name and dates of the convention at such times that the committee can distribute these cards with its literature, progress reports, etc.

The hotel will block 700 rooms for the convention for Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. To the extent possible these rooms shall form a physical block within the hotel. The blocking of rooms for the convention shall be in force until two (2) weeks prior to the convention. After that time reservations will be made on a space-available basis.

The hotel will not overbook the sleeping rooms during the convention.

The hotel will provide complimentary rooms to the committee in the ratio of one (1) complimentary room for every one hundred (100) rooms rented to convention members.

The hotel will accept all (below listed) major credit cards in payment for rooms. Added by hotel: Sheraton - Diner's Club - American Torch Club - American Express - Carte Blanche - BankAmericard - Barclaycard - Chargez - Shell Oil - Shell Canada, Ltd. See attached. [attached is a copy of a flyer stating Sheraton's policy on guest registration and credit identification].

The hotel will guarantee a minimum of 120 sleeping rooms Thursday night for early arrivals.

The Sheraton family policy shall be in effect during the convention.

All room reservations accompanied by a deposit, as fixed by the hotel, shall be binding if the reserver arrives at the time stated. If no time is stated, 6 pm shall be assumed. If no room is available and the reserver has a confirmed reservation the reserver shall be given a credit of $20 within the Sheraton chain. (added by hotel: provided his reservation is valid, i.e. proper date and before cut off time as listed on reservation.)

Netherworldcon of all time...

the NecronomiCon!

The fabled Sheraton-R'lyeh has promised the Con Committee full cooperation—incredibly vertiginous elevator service and definitely no house detectives. Food, drink, and loathsome ichor at all hours in the Arkham Room—light snacks (for and of Con members) in the Innsmouth Lounge—hot and cold shoggoths in living color in each room. Special rates to Miskatonic U. alumni, alumnae, and alumnechhhh.* And the pool! You ask about the pool...? Well, better not ask about the pool. Far, far better not to ask....

Remember, Cthulhu whants yhu—so support the NecronomiCon bid. Or else.

To acquaint you with the beauties of sunken R'lyeh, the Committee urges on you the purchase (at 95¢ each) of any and all of Beagle Books' Arkham Edition of H. P. Lovecraft: THE TOMB, THE LURKING FEAR, THE SHUTTERED ROOM, THE LURKER AT THE THRESHOLD, AT THE MOUNTAINS OF MADNESS, THE CASE OF CHARLES DEXTER WARD, TALES OF THE CTHULHU MYTHOS (2 volumes), and THE HORROR IN THE MUSEUM.

And now a cheer for the NecronomiCon Committee.

Iä, team! Iä!

* We've seen them, you haven't. "Alumnechhhh" is right.

BEAGLE BOOKS, INC.
An Intext Publisher
101 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10003

The hotel has 125 rollaway beds available for $4/day/bed and can obtain additional such beds if advance warning is given.

The hotel will provide flat rates for each class of room (single, twin, double, etc.) during the convention. These rates will be detailed in a supplementary agreement. added by hotel: agree to negotiate. Will negotiate rate structure to apply for your convention by 15 September 1970.

As many Lanai rooms shall be made available to the convention as possible. In any case, at least six (6) Lanai rooms shall be made available to the convention to be rented to important members of the convention.

Flat rates shall also be provided for rooms with rollaway beds: these rates will be detailed in a supplementary agreement.

SWIMMING POOL

The swimming pool will remain open each night of the convention until at least 10 pm. The pool will be allowed to remain open after 10 pm as long as people desire to swim and no complaints are received by the hotel. The hotel will bear the costs of the lifeguard(s). (added by hotel: cost of lifeguard till 10 pm only).

The pay bar and 'quick lunch' facility at the pool shall remain open during the convention for at least their normal times. These times shall be sent to the committee by the hotel at least 90 days in advance of the convention.

Pool activities involving beach balls and other such paraphernalia shall not be restricted by the hotel unless upon complaint and/or safety requirements. In any case, the convention committee shall be consulted prior to the implementation of any such restrictions. (added by hotel: for safety reasons - no equipment allowed).

ADDITIONAL AGREEMENTS

21 September 1970 The following will confirm our discussion and becomes an appendix to the contract already agreed to and signed in connection with your 1971 convention.

ROOM RATES: (convention rates) Singles - 75 studio rooms at $19.00 per day. 125 regular singles at $21.00 per day. 50 deluxe singles at $24.00 per day. Doubles or twins - 100 minimum at $25.00 per day. 200 regular at $27.00 per day. 100 deluxe at $30.00 per day. One-bedroom suites - 30 at $55.00 per day. Extra beds at $4.00 each per day. and . . . all of the above rates will be subject to the 5.7 % Massachusetts room tax.

FAMILY PLAN TO PREVAIL: The family plan is interpreted as all children occupying the same room with the parents -- no charge. If two bedrooms are required to accommodate parents and children, the single rate applies on both rooms.

SPECIAL RATE CARDS: We will furnish 7,000 rate cards to be imprinted with the name of your organization and meeting dates. The caption will read as follows, "World Science Fiction Society, September 3, 4, 5, 1971". These cards will be printed and shipped to arrive at your address prior to October 15, 1970.

The following changes in our regular return reservation form are to be made:
a. show special rates b. Show membership number c. Delete wording "rates subject to change"

LANAI BEDROOMS: All Lanai bedrooms committed will be assigned direct by Mr. Anthony Lewis. A maximum of ten lanai rooms actually fronting the pool will be reserved and an additional ten rooms on the pool deck but not fronting the pool will be reserved. All of the lanai rooms will be at the deluxe rates.

FUNCTION SPACE: Our understanding in this area remains as discussed to date. We understand you will furnish us with a full tentative outline of your requirements by January 1, 1971, with the understanding that there may be some minor changes following that date.

SPACE RELEASE: World Science Fiction has agreed to release our Constitution Room and Foyer on Sunday, September 5, 1971 from 3:00 pm to 9:00 pm as discussed with you. [This space release was later modified - see below]

RUNWAY FOR MASQUERADE BALL: The Hotel is to provide a maximum of 80 feet of runway to be placed as designated by you at a fixed cost of $150.00.

LIABILITY COVERAGE: We understand that World Science Fiction will purchase short term liability coverage for the period of the convention. Our insurance broker has been notified of your intention and will contact Mr. Anthony Lewis direct.

7 October 1970 Your special convention rates would prevail both for pre and post convention arrivals.

/s/ William E. Bowman, Sales Manager

5 March 1971 The World Science Fiction Convention agrees to release to the hotel the following space for the specified times:

SUNDAY 5 September 1971 - The Independence Room and Mirror Room for 5 pm to 9:30 pm.
MONDAY 6 September 1971 - The Constitution Room and Foyer from 5 pm.

The space release specified in the letter of 21 September 1970 from William E. Bowman is rescinded (this is a release of the Constitution Room and Foyer on Sunday from 3 pm to 9 pm; we understand that this is the wedding reception that will now be held on Monday).

All efforts will be taken to prevent the wedding receptions from interfering with the World Science Fiction Convention.

(signed) Anthony Lewis, Chairman Noreascon and Ivan Brent, Director of Catering, Sheraton - Boston.

SCIENCE FICTION — IT'S A SIGN OF NEW TIMES

The closer man gets to the worlds outside his world, the more his interest turns to the extra-terrestrial, and New American Library has a science-fiction list to inspire the most imaginative reader. Watch for the Signet colophon—it guarantees you the best there is in science fiction.

Four good fanzines. Subscribe today.

SCOTTISHE

Ethel Lindsay's SCOTTISHE, a general-interest fanzine published for more than 16 years, costs $3.00 for ten issues.

HAVERINGS

Ethel's HAVERINGS is a fanzine of "comments on fanzines received." A must if you are interested in fan publishing. $1.00 for six issues.

ALGOL:INTERNATIONAL

Andrew Porter's ALGOL:INTERNATIONAL is an infrequent fanzine published for more than 7 years which attempts coverage of international fandom and SF. The current issue includes GPCossatto, Ted White, Vaughn Bode, Greg Benford and Jim Steranko. $3.00 for five issues.

SCYTHROP

John Bangsund's SCYTHROP, successor to AUSTRALIAN SF REVIEW, has informed commentary on SF and society by John, Stanislaw Lem, A. Bertram Chandler, Ursula K. LeGuin, James Blish, and others. 75¢ per issue.

These fanzines are published by the Lindsay-Porter-Bangsund Co-Prosperty Sphere. Subscriptions to any of them may go to any of the following. Make checks payable to the person you are writing.

Doctor Mirabilis

A NOVEL
by JAMES BLISH

Prize-winning novelist James Blish follows the life of the great English scholar Friar Roger Bacon, through both history and myth in this exquisite re-creation of the Middle Ages.

"The outer calm and inward passion of classical tragedy —intensely moving."
—The Observer

"He shows what it was like to study Aristotle in freezing, plague-stricken Oxford, to watch the intrigues of barons and clerics at the court of Henry III; he gives to Roger Bacon's disputation in Paris with Albertus Magnus the suspense that in most historical novels is reserved for battles."
—The Sunday Telegraph (London)

"He moves as familiarly through the scenes and sounds —and stinks!—of the thirteenth century as would a contemporary."
—The Times (London)

PAT TERRY AWARD FOR HUMOUR IN SF

The Pat Terry Award for Humour in Science Fiction is an award given annually by the Sydney Science Fiction Foundation in memory of the late Pat Terry. Pat, who died in January of 1970, was reputedly the oldest fan in the world and never failed in his years as one of Australia's most active fans to arouse controversy on any issue in which he became involved.

But, if he was known best by many Australian fans for controversy, he was known and loved by Sydney fans and the many professional authors he corresponded with abroad for his whimsical Irish sense of humour. Pat was a real gentleman, in the full sense of the word, probably stemming from his time in the British Army in India in the first years of this century.

Consequently, when the club he did so much to establish decided to set up an award in Pat's honour, the obvious choice was an award for humour. It was envisaged that this should be given for prose science fiction of any length, or for movie science fiction, or even for fan writings --- whatever is the best piece of sf finally oriented humour of the year.

The first award was made at the 10th Australian Science Fiction Convention in January 1971 to John T. Sladek for The Mechaam [The Reproductive System], judged best for use of humour in sf in 1969. At the Noreason, the award for 1970 will be presented.

--- Gary Mason

AUCTIONS will be held in the Grand Ballroom each afternoon of the convention; check the program for exact time. We will have a number of paintings by Frank Kell Freas, Jack Gaughan, and Morris Scott Dollens among others. In the Hal Clement line we will be auctioning the corrected galley proofs to Needle, the setting copy for Star Light, a pamphlet prepared for Pittcon 1960 - Some Notes on Xi Bootis. A number of old manuscripts from Fantastic Universe have been donated. Items of major interest are: the original Mike Gilbert painting used for the cover of this Program Book, a copy of the Chicon III Proceedings, Larry Niven's original working drawings for Ringworld (the cover drawing is based upon one of them), and the original of the Steve Fabian cover for the third progress report. We will try to have a list of what's available at the con but since many items will be brought in at the last moment it will, of necessity, be incomplete.

HE IS COMING!

TIGER RIVER 75¢

WHITE INDIANS AND GREEN MEN!

TIGER RIVER is one of the great, timeless classics of fantastic adventure fiction, a novel that fairly reeks with swashbuckling action. A fabulous gold horde and the lure of heroic adventure are the magnets that lead a small band of Americans and a Peruvian outlaw to the strange and unknown jungles of South America, and to the dark and mysterious Tigre Yacu, "the River of Missing Men."

Here are white Indians, uncanny green men, and ruthless savages who haunt every foot of this strange and unknown land. Deep in a hidden treasure valley of the Andes, the adventurers come upon a Circe whose strange attractions have lured many a missing man of the Tiger River into her evil clutches. How draughts of her forbidden wine transformed them into mindless beasts, and how her spell was finally broken, are a part of this fantastic and unforgettable book.

First published in 1923, TIGER RIVER stands today as possibly the finest novel of its type ever written. The writing is crisp and fastmoving; and one swashbuckling event flows into another with the smooth ability of this fine writer.

RED SHADOWS

by ROBERT E. HOWARD

The first of Robert E. Howard's great heroes, Solomon Kane saw print for the first time in the August 1928 issue of Weird Tales magazine. At that time, Howard was twenty-two years old, and had been contributing to the magazine for three years.

It is hard to believe that the man to create Conan the Cimmerian was the author that painted the humorous, blundering superman of the mountain country, Breckinridge Elkins. Equally incredulous and different is this character of Solomon Kane to whom Robert E. Howard gave a full life of sword and sorcery adventure in the Sixteenth Century. Solomon is a tall man, wiry but not heavy in the extreme; a born swordsman with great strength and tenacity. A Puritan, he has a penchant for righting of wrongs done to others. His superhuman efforts and energies and successes are related directly to his fanaticism. Howard paints him as a sombre, black clad swordsman, searching for something that he may never find. For all his successes, he is alone — an almost pathetic figure.

RED SHADOWS is a compilation of all of the known Solomon Kane writings — and there are twelve stories and three poems included in this volume.

The illustrations and dust wrap are the work of Jeff Jones.

NELSON SCIENCE FICTION ANTHOLOGIES

edited by Robert Silverberg

WORLDS OF MAYBE

What if history had not taken the course we know? The fascinating theme of alternate worlds is explored intelligently and perceptively by Poul Anderson, Isaac Asimov, Miriam Allen deFord, Philip José Farmer, Murray Leinster, Larry Niven and Robert Silverberg.

MIND TO MIND

Telepathy, ESP, psionics, wordless talk and other forms of mind-to-mind communication are examined in a diverting and ingenious manner by Brian W. Aldiss, Poul Anderson, Isaac Asimov, Algis Budrys, C. M. Kornbluth, R. A. Lafferty, James H. Schmitz, Robert Silverberg and James White.

THE SCIENCE FICTION BESTIARY

Collected here for the reader's delight and amazement are gnurrs, hurkles, hokos, bach bugs and a blue giraffe, to name just a few of the fauna that have been uncovered by the dedicated research of science-fiction writers Poul Anderson, R. Bretnor, Philip K. Dick, Gordon Dickson, L. Sprague deCamp, James H. Schmitz, Robert Silverberg, Clifford Simek, Theodore Sturgeon, and Stanley G. Weinbaum.

GORE CREATURES

Kaachin '70

SEND IN NO MONEY and receive the latest issue of GORE CREATURES!

Eight years on the fandom market. Produced by the same fen. Still many of YOU out there are reluctant to buy an issue of GC. GORE CREATURES is the serious fannish fantasy film fanzine, and to prove it, we make the following offer to all the fans here at BOSTON.

READ NOW, PAY LATER. Yes, merely request our current issue (GARY SVEHLA, 5906 KAVON AVENUE, BALTIMORE, MARYLAND 21206), and only if you are satisfied, mail us 50 cents. If you are not satisfied, then all we ask is that you return the issue to us. Yes, you do pay the return postage, but haven't we been more than fair already? We're willing to bet you'll gladly mail us the money.

GORE CREATURES 20, just available, features SCOTT MACQUEEN'S comprehensive history of INVISIBILITY ON THE SCREEN. GC is 30 pages of reduced photo-offset and sells for 50 cents an issue. Those of you who know us can now mail in their money. The rest can take us up on our offer.

At this time I believe film fans should support WASHINGTON for 1974. The film program at the 1971 DISCLAVE was a dream come true.....Gary Svehla

Although many of you science fiction fans cut your teeth on the famous EC comics of the early 1950s, very few have had the opportunity to see the actual original artwork that was produced by that now-famous stable of artists. That fabulous artwork now resides in a Vault in New York City, and the only man who can open that Vault is Bill Gaines.

By special arrangements with Bill, I was allowed to take some of that art to an offset photographer in New York and shoot large clear negatives from the original artwork, and to publish this art in the form of a limited edition portfolio, called EC portfolio one. Originally I set out to print an edition of 1000 copies, but, after throwing out smudged and mis-printed pages and binding, the edition totaled just over 800 copies, of which approximately 500 remain, four weeks after publication.

EC portfolio one is tabloid size (12x16) printed on the finest bristol stock to give it the "feel" of original artwork and to make it suitable for coloring if desired.

EC portfolio one contains complete stories as drawn by Graham Ingels, Wally Wood, Johnny Craig, Al Williamson & Roy Krenkel, and individual pieces by Al Feldstein and Jack Davis.

EC portfolio one costs $10, and it will not be reprinted!

If you have been keeping up with collecting in general lately, you know that the era of limited, signed editions has arrived. Bottles, plates, coins, and prints, produced in strictly limited editions and individually signed and/or numbered are providing a middle ground between collecting a mass-produced item or an original.

In the field of science fiction illustration, one artist, Frank Frazetta, is in a class by himself. And of all his pen-and-ink work, his Buck Rogers cover for Weird Science Fantasy #29 is, in the opinion of many (including Frazetta) his masterpiece. A small, reduced section of that drawing is shown above. The complete drawing can be seen, poorly reproduced, on Weird Science Fantasy 29. Frank Frazetta has agreed to produce a limited edition of 50 watercolored prints of this cover artwork. Here are the exact details:

From the original artwork, black and white (12"x15") prints have been made on Strathmore triple weight artists' board. These prints were arrived at after shooting 21 negatives and trying three papers and three different printers, to insure getting the highest quality print obtainable. These prints are now in the hands of Frank Frazetta, and he is working on the first ten. Here is what he is doing: First, he completely watercolors the entire piece, using Dr Martin's transparent dyes...this means the backgrounds, all the figures, etc. This is to be a finished, shaded watercoloring, as only Frazetta can do...it is safe to assume that he will spend several hours on each print. Then he will sign, number, and date each print, and then, as a final touch of individuality, he will add a small ink sketch on the lower margin by his signature. This edition of hand-watercolored, signed prints is limited to 50, at a price of $150 each. Of those 50, 27 are already reserved, and the whole purpose of this advertisement is to locate those other 23 collectors who would like one. To receive one, either send me $150 in full payment or send me $25 deposit and one print will be reserved in your name. You must complete payment for your reserved print within one month after the 50th print has been reserved and the edition is sold out, or lose your deposit. Once 50 have been produced, no more will be done. This means that the only way for some future collector to obtain one is to buy one of the original 50.

Send all reservations, comments, and correspondence to:

We've a lot in common!

We attend conventions. At Noreascon you are invited to relax--maybe gab with fans and pros--and play games in our "Neffers Room". It's near the programmed events. Come in to recharge the batteries or meet friends. It's for everyone who wants to grok.

Howard DeVore invites you to enter the annual SF-Fantasy Short Story Contest for fiction up to 5000 words, if you meet the "new" category of writer. Maybe you'll win! Entry form gives all the rules. All stories must be in by November 1 with entry form for each story; see Howard or write him at 4705 Weddel St., Dearborne Heights, Michigan 48135.

Neffers are involved not only in trying to write professionally and for fanzines, but in publishing, including in the Neffer Amateur Press Alliance. OE is Frank Denton, 14654 8th Ave. S.W., Seattle, WA 98166. (Frank edits Tightbeam, our letterzine, too.)

Other activities include correspondence, collecting, the Tape, Games and Overseas Bureaus. Also we publish news from everyone we can in both our magazines from members and others too--and we would appreciate hearing from you about your publication, project, or other news.

We do not campaign strongly for new members, but if you're interested, we would be glad to welcome you into the club. We take our chances with the mails, and so are different from local clubs where fans meet nose-to-nose. Our two clubzines are free with membership--$2.50 will pay dues to the end of next year.

You should find information about this club in the Neffer Room--or you can write:

Janie Lamb, Route 1,
Box 364, Heiskell, TN

The Magic of Hannes Bok

IN FULL COLOR

This important Hannes Bok Memorial Portfolio, composed of ten of the fantasy-master's finest, has been compiled with the kind cooperation of five collectors of Bok oils in Seattle, Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York. No expense has been spared in fidelity of reproduction. These prints were made by full four-color process by the finest lithographers in our city. None of these ten beautiful oil paintings has ever been reproduced in complete full-color before.

Imagine seeing and owning such frame-demanding wonders as

THE ENCHANTED CITY

A dream-world ship splashed against a horizon of sublime Bokesque towers.

WOMAN WAILING FOR HER DEMON LOVER

*"A savage place! As holy and enchanted; As e'er beneath a waning moon was haunted . . .
by woman wailing for her demon lover!"*

SIEGRIED SLAYS THE DRAGON FAFNIR

A heroic spectacle in rich deep blues and greens, fired by flames from the dragon's breath.

CAT-GOD'S CAPTIVE

Subtle reds and rusts, a nude intruder in forbidden Egyptian tombs is seized by the sinister cat-god.

ASE ON THE HILLOCK

Peer Gynt's peasant mother defies Fate and the storm. "Bok's finest . . ." E. Petaja and five others, equally evocative and gorgeous.

The prints contained in this important portfolio are large, 11 x 14 (8 x 10 actual picture size) and they are printed on the finest heavy art stock available. There is a printed brochure, written especially for this portfolio, with a heretofore unpublished picture of Bok on the cover.

Price of portfolio complete: $12.50 (Most fine art prints of anywhere near this expensive quality would sell for from $6 to $12 each.) Mailed postpaid in careful, loving packaging.
