Name That Division! Contest Announced

Noreascon Three has created a new division to be responsible for several activities which will be primarily based in the large exhibit halls in the Hynes Convention Center. Since we haven't been able to think of a good name for it ourselves, we are having a "Name That Division" contest. Details are at the end of this article. Traditional areas within this division include Registration, Information, the daily newsletter, exhibits, and the Hucksters' Room.

Mixing Area

The centerpiece of the division will be something entirely new—a central mixing area. Most members have a much better time when a convention has a central gathering point such as an hotel atrium. Unfortunately, we will be spread over several hotels and the Hynes doesn't have an atrium. We are going to create one (but only figuratively; the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority takes a dim view of roof removal). The mixing area will provide a place where fans can get to know each other and some of their favorite pros, and discuss sf. We plan to include places to sit and talk, special interest group tables, bidders' tables, the central Information desk, the daily newsletter office, lots of exhibits, bulletin boards, autograph tables, meet-the-pros kaffeeklatsches, a library where you can sit and read sf while you gather your energies for coping with more of the con, and places for small entertainments ("passing fancies"). The Convention Center will have food and drink concessions in this area. (The concessionaires will probably prohibit us from doing any food or soda service of our own, though

Convention Structure Issue

This progress report looks at the division structure of Noreascon Three. There are six divisions: Program, Extravaganzas, Services, Facilities, WSFS and Art Show, and Nameless (see "Name That Division!" article about a contest to give this division a name). Each division describes what they are doing now, what their plans are, and their volunteer needs. Some are already in full swing. Others are just starting to plan. All will have more to say in future progress reports.

WSFS and Art Show Division Wears Two Hats

The WSFS and Art Show Division deals with two major areas: (1) the activities mandated by the World Science Fiction Society (WSFS) Constitution—Hugo voting, site selection, and Business Meeting; and (2) the Noreascon Three Art Show. (In case you were wondering, the main connection between these areas is that the division head has experience in both.)

Highlights of the Convention Newsletter, The Mad 3 Party

The Mad 3 Party is a fanzine that the Noreascon Three committee uses for communication with all of its area heads and staff, many of whom live outside the Boston area. Each issue contains excerpted minutes of committee meetings, details of convention planning, ideas under consideration, articles, and letters of comment. Recent issues featured the following topics:

#19 (June 1987) Body Count Issue. Where people spend their time at conventions, with statistics from ConFederation's and Boskone's programs.

Progress Reports

We issue progress reports every six months. There are two different PR formats. The more traditional progress reports will be in a glossy, 8½" by 11", magazine format. The newsletters will have fewer pages (8-16), lighter paper stock, and will be folded for mailing. We anticipate that the magazine PRs will be of lasting interest and retained, while the newsletters will be of temporary use.

All pre-registered members will receive a complete set of the magazine-style PRs, but none of the older newsletters.

We would appreciate it if you wrote us to correct any errors.

Membership Information

Memberships

Noreascon Three has two types of memberships: Attending and Supporting. Both include voting privileges on the Hugo Awards and on site selection for the 1992 Worldcon. Members registered before the convention will receive copies of all our major publications. This includes all magazine-style progress reports, all newsletter progress reports published after the time you join, the Program Book, and any post-con publications. An Attending Membership also gives you the right to attend the convention and the World Science Fiction Society business meeting.

Conversions

A Supporting Membership may be converted to an Attending Membership at any time by paying the difference between the Supporting price ($20) and the Attending Membership rate at the time you convert. If you plan on attending Noreascon Three and currently have only a Supporting Membership, you should consider converting at this time, since the rates will only increase.

Membership Rates

All of our rates are in U.S. dollars. You can send U.S. funds to us, or the equivalent amount in the local currency to our agents (see page 2 for addresses). Canadian members can send us the equivalent amount in Canadian funds (we have opened a Canadian bank account and can deposit checks directly). We also accept MasterCard or Visa. Through July 15, 1988, our rates are:

Attending	$60
Children's Admission	$40

Supporting Memberships:

$20 at all times.

Conversion from Supporting to Attending	$40

Our rates have been set only through July 15, 1988. We don't yet have the detailed rental fee schedule for the Hynes Auditorium, which we'll need for our final budgeting. The rates after July 15th will be sent to the newszines and published in Progress Report 4, due out in July 1988. We intend to do preliminary budgeting before that time and will do our best to keep our rates low.

Children's Admission

Children who will be less than 12 years old at Noreascon Three have three options:

- 1: Attend as a kid-in-tow.
- 2: Buy a full Attending Membership.
- 3: Buy a Children's Admission.

Children who stay with their parents/guardians throughout the convention are considered kids-in-tow and pay no attendance fee. Such children may use babysitting, by paying a fee which will be enough to cover our costs. However, they may not attend any convention activities alone and may not participate in Children's Programming.

1939 WORLDCON SPECIAL

Members of the first Worldcon, and those excluded from it, will receive free memberships in Noreascon Three. Please write us if you plan to attend.

Children can, of course, buy full Attending Memberships. This gives them the same rights as any other member. They can vote for the Hugos and future Worldcons and will receive all publications. They can attend any event (including Children's Programming) on their own. In addition, they can use babysitting with no additional charge.

The third option is to buy a Children's Admission, which may be purchased only in conjunction with someone else's Attending Membership. Currently, Children's Admissions cost $20 less than full Attending Memberships. Children's Admissions entitle children (under 12 at the convention) to take part in any at-con activity on their own and to use babysitting for free. The difference from Attending Memberships is that the children do not receive any publications (including the Program Book), nor do they have the right to vote on the Hugos, or site selection. (Note that since they will not be able to vote on the 1992 site selection, they will not be eligible for any special voter rate.)

A Children's Admission may be converted to an Attending Membership at any time, by paying the difference between the price originally paid for it and the current Attending rate.

Transfers

We can not give membership refunds; however, a membership may be transferred. We would appreciate a letter signed by the original member giving the name and address of the membership's new owner. To avoid errors, please include your membership number in the letter.

Missing Fans

If you move, please send us your change of address. It's a long time until the convention and we don't want to lose you.

Facilities Division Manages Space Utilization

With Noreascon Three less than two years away, our plans for convention facilities are beginning to firm up.

Function Space

With over 75% of our function space, the John B. Hynes Convention Center will be the hub of Noreascon Three.

Based on our needs and the availability of the Sheraton's function space, we have reserved two and a half of the renovated Hynes' three floors of space. This includes three exhibit halls of over 35,000 sq. ft. each, a 5,000-seat auditorium, a 24,000-sq. ft. Ballroom, over 30 additional function rooms, an over 10,000-sq. ft. registration area, plus lots of wide hallways and prefunction spaces.

The Hynes renovations are continuing on schedule. By the time this Progress Report is mailed out, they should have held a convention or two on the first floor and by May of 1988 all three floors are scheduled to be in use. The Hynes is going for a whole new look, similar in many areas to that of a first-class hotel.

In the Sheraton-Boston Hotel, we have reserved all function space including the Grand Ballroom and over 16 other areas, many of which are subdividable, totalling over 40,000 sq. ft. The Sheraton-Boston shares a common wall with the Hynes Convention Center and you can walk directly from the Conference Level of the Sheraton to the Second Level of the Hynes.

The third facility where we have reserved function space, just across Dalton Street from the Sheraton, is the smaller Back Bay Hilton hotel. We have reserved all function space at the Back Bay, including the Belvidere Ballroom and 12 other areas totalling over 14,000 sq. ft.

With over 90% of our function space under one roof in the Hynes and Sheraton, and the rest just across the street, all of our convention facilities will be concentrated in one area. You can be assured that you won't have to take a shuttle bus to get from one program item to another.

Program Allocation

Until we have seen how the new Hynes Convention Center actually works with a large convention on multiple floors, you should consider all of our

Services Division Handles Convention Infrastructure

The Services Division comprises two kinds of convention services: internal services and member services.

As the overseer of internal services, the division is in charge of many of the behind-the-scenes activities that help the convention run smoothly:

Logistics:

Moving things into, around, and out of the convention

Insurance:

Evaluating the con's insurance needs and seeing that we are properly covered

Office:

Central committee message service and communications area

People Mover:

Coordinates and allocates gophers to the other areas

Gopher Hole and Den:

"Getaway" areas for the gophers and committee to meet and relax in

Internal Newsletters:

Supplying information for those working on the con

Computer Nets:

Improving computer communication among the committee and between the committee and fandom.

Many member services are also part of the Services Division (though a number of others are part of Nameless Division). Publications is part of the division. This includes progress reports, the Program Book, advertising, any special convention publications, and The Mad

Program Division Starts Planning

The Program Division is beginning the planning for what we anticipate will be a varied and interesting program. In addition to all of the traditional topics in areas such as Science Fiction, Fandom, Science, etc., we will be developing a program that focuses on our Guests of Honor, and a theme of the 50th Anniversary of the Worldcon.

Any suggestions or comments about the program are, of course, welcome.

Extravaganzas Division Runs Major Events

The Extravaganzas Division was created to find a home for Noreascon Three's landmark events. Our team will concentrate on a few, large areas, which will excite and enlighten. We will concentrate on the primary events of the convention: Opening and Closing Ceremonies, Hugo Ceremonies, Masquerade, and Films. We will cooperate with the Program Division in planning and carrying out any Guest of Honor events in the Convention Center. For films, we plan to concentrate on hard-to-get items which few people have seen elsewhere. We will be holding the Hugo Ceremonies on Saturday night and the Masquerade on Sunday night. Look for more details in future progress reports.

We are already considering other new ideas, and welcome more. Ideas for any events which you want to see at a Worldcon can be addressed to us or discussed in The Mad 3 Party.

3 Party. Other member services managed by the Services Division are:

Babysitting and Dragonslair:

Children's activities

Handicapped Services:

Special help for handicapped attendees in registering for and enjoying the convention

Off-site Events:

Coordination with local museums for con-related activities.

the opportunity to vote on the Science Fiction Achievement Awards (Hugo Awards) for the best SF and related work of 1988. Currently there are twelve Hugo categories: Novel, Novella, Novlette, Short Story, Non-Fiction Book, Dramatic Presentation, Professional Editor, Professional Artist, Semiprozine, Fanzine, Fan Writer, and Fan Artist; the Hugo Ballot will also include the John W. Campbell Award for the best new writer of 1987-88. The Hugo nomination ballot will be distributed to all members at the end of 1988, probably with Progress Report 5; you will be able to make up to five nominations in each category. The final ballot, listing the five nominees in each category that receive the most nominations, will be mailed in Spring 1989 and due back in July. As always, the winners will be announced at the Hugo Awards Ceremony during the Worldcon.

While the voting is a year away, it's not too soon to start keeping track of Good Stuff that you might want to nominate. Please let us know if you have any questions about eligibility—especially as to which year a given work is eligible in. Note, however, that the WSFS Constitution, which includes the Hugo rules, will be distributed with the nomination ballots.

WSFS Business Meeting

A Business Meeting is held at every Worldcon to consider changes in the WSFS Constitution (which includes the Hugo and site-selection rules) and related business. Any member may attend and/or submit business.

Art Show

The Noreascon Three Art Show will be the largest SF and fantasy art show in the world during 1989, with 2500 or more pieces of art on display. Most of them will be available for sale (by written-bid auction) to the convention attendees, although the prices of the best work will be high (some minimum bids of over $10,000 have been seen at recent conventions).

The show will operate similarly to the Noreascon Two and Boskone art shows,

1992 Site Selection

All members of Noreascon Three will be entitled to vote on the location of the 1992 World Science Fiction Convention. Ballots will be distributed in the spring of 1989 (along with the final Hugo ballots); members may cast their site-selection ballots either by mail or at Noreascon Three. Payment of the voting fee automatically makes the voter a supporting member of the 1992 Worldcon; the fee will be $20, unless a different amount is agreed to unanimously by all the bidders and the Noreascon Three Committee.

Committees bidding to hold the 1992 Worldcon must file their bids with the Noreascon Three Committee, no later than the close of the 1988 Worldcon. As described in Article III of the WSFS Constitution, these bids must include (1) the proposed location and committee, (2) evidence of an agreement with the proposed site's facilities, and (3) the rules under which the Worldcon committee will operate. Eligible to bid for 1992 are all locations in the Eastern region of North America (except within 60 miles of Boston) or outside North America. While no bids have been formally submitted at this time, we are aware of bidding campaigns for Orlando, Florida, and Washington, D.C.

charging space fees rather than commissions on sales, and with most items selling by written bid rather than at a voice auction. It will be about the same size as the Noreascon Two art show, with 250 to 300 panels (4' high and 6' wide) and 20 to 30 tables. The initial mailing to artists will be sent around the beginning of 1989. If you want to enter the show, write to us late in 1988.

The Great Artwork Hunt

We'd like to thank those artists who have sent in artwork for our publications. We still have a need for appropriate artwork. We especially appreciate artwork which uses our Alice in Wonderland/Mad Tea Party/Boston Tea Party themes. Thank you for your help. Artwork will be returned if requested. Noreascon III Questionnaire

In planning Noreascon III, we want to know what your interests are. This will help us plan a better convention. While we will use the results of this poll to help us plan the convention, we are not promising to have each item that we've listed. And conversely, we may throw in some that haven't been listed. (We love surprises!) We would appreciate your completing this questionnaire and mailing it back to us by May 1, 1988. Results will be published in a future progress report.

Please rate the items listed on a scale of 1 to 5, circling your answers, using the criteria shown at the start of each section. Important: if you are not familiar with an item, please leave it blank (we will also factor in "blank" responses, even though they are not listed in the columns). You should use response #3 when you are familiar with an item, but you are undecided now as to whether you will use it. At the end of some sections there are additional questions, and following each section there is space for your comments, with room for general comments at the very end.

Orlando! Where Magic Meets TECHNOLOGY

... and where (with your help) Science, Fantasy, and Fun will come together in 1992 at the Fiftieth World Science Fiction Convention. There's no better place for fans to remember the past, enjoy the present, and celebrate the future.

1992 is the 500th anniversary of the start of humanity's first Age of Exploration, when daring, ambitious men sought new worlds across the sea. Florida was one of the first that they found.

Today, Florida is at the center of the second Age of Exploration - home base of America's space program, a leader in scientific research, and the place where people come to be enchanted and informed.

Orlando is bidding for the 1992 Worldcon, because we want to share all this with our friends. Nowhere else can you witness a space shuttle launch, tour the future at EPCOT, or restore your youth in the Magic Kingdom. Furthermore, Orlando offers exceptional facilities for holding a Worldcon. When expansion is complete in 1988, the Orange County Convention & Civic Center will provide 388,000 square feet of meeting and exhibit space, enough to hold two Worldcons simultaneously. With few exceptions, all of these facilities are located on a single floor - no need to worry about stairs, escalators, or elevators.

For the convenience of dealers and artists, the Center has 55 loading docks, superb security, and state-of-the-art lighting in all exhibit areas. What's more, unlike so many convention centers, this one isn't just a big, empty box. We think that con-goers will find its landscaping, architecture, and interior design as impressive as its size.

Directly across the street from the Convention Center is MagiCon's flagship hotel, the Peabody Orlando at Plaza International. The Peabody features 833 sleeping rooms, 60 suites, 58,000 square feet of meeting and function space, five restaurants, (ranging from the art-deco Bee-Line Diner to the elegant Dux), a double-Olympic sized swimming pool, a professionally-run day-care center, and a corps of trained mallard ducks.

Within one mile of the Convention Center are 12 more hotels, with a total of 4,000 sleeping rooms. As well as a block of 750 rooms at the Peabody, we are blocking 700 rooms at the Orlando Marriott, 600 rooms at the Quality Inn, and 150 suites at the Park Suite Hotel. In addition to these, we are negotiating further room blocks at other nearby hotels. Since Labor Day weekend is off-season in Orlando, we anticipate that our room rates will compare favorably with those at recent Worldcons.

Of course, a great Worldcon needs more than great facilities. Also essential is a capable, dedicated con committee. We're confident that we have that, too. Our committee members have held top positions in past Worldcons, and founded and chaired major local and regional conventions. We have acquired a wealth of useful experience, and continue to do so. (For example, committee members worked at Conspiracy and at CactusCon, serving in various capacities.) While MagiCon, like all other modern Worldcons, will recruit its staff from all over the country, our solid local base gives us the vital foundation for a first-rate con.

Growing Like MAGIC

That's what we're doing. We are fast approaching 700 presupporting memberships. T-Shirt sales have sky-rocketed, and we've had to go to a second printing of the first issue of our bidzine. The bid parties we threw at Worldcon and NASFiC were our most successful to date, due in large part to the unbridled enthusiasm of all who attended. Our thanks to those who showed their support.

The MagiCon bid is not the only thing that is growing - the entire Orlando area is too. By 1990, Orlando will be host to two motion picture production studios, Walt Disney World Village's new Pleasure Island nighttime entertainment facility, and Typhoon Lagoon, a 50 acre, 50 Million dollar water thrill park. These are in addition to the theme parks that have already made Orlando famous.

Indeed, Orlando IS Magic . . . A city without limits, offering all of Florida's best.

Come, Share The Magic!

Support MagiCon / Orlando in '92. Presupporting memberships are $5.00 (which will be credited towards your Worldcon membership after we win). For this trifling sum, you will receive a MagiCon button, a subscription to our bidzine, and a lot of great parties. Presupporters can also buy our sensational 3-color MagiCon T-shirt at the discount price of only $6.50 ($8.00 to others; please specify size: S, M, L, XL; 100% cotton available in L & XL for $1.50 extra. Please include $1.50 for shipping & handling if ordered by mail)

Nameless Division

we will provide some tables and chairs for eating areas.) We'd like your suggestions for other things that we can do in this space. We're also holding a "Name That Mixing Area" contest, since we haven't thought of a good name for it yet either.

Information

We intend to run the Information Area a bit more dynamically than it's been done in the past. We will have a corps of roving reporters who will be scouting out things that Information and the newsletter should know. While there will still be a central Information desk, we will also have roving informers who will go out and find questions to answer. We realize that most of the convention members will be from out of town and we will make a strong effort to have lists of local restaurants, bookstores, museums, stores, and whatnot, as well as maps and public transit schedules. Information will also be the place for convention members to go with problems, since it will be the central point for members to contact the convention committee.

Exhibits

We want to have lots of interesting exhibits of sf-oriented material. This includes fan memorabilia, bidders' displays, special interest group material, and club material. Exhibits which do not require special security will be in the mixing area. (A limited amount of special exhibit space will be available for other material.) If you have something that you think other fans would like to see, please contact us. If you would like to show the rest of fandom what your club or special interest group has done, please contact us.

We also need storage space in the New England region. We have a unique opportunity to acquire some stage sets and flats for the mixing area, but we have no place to store them. If you have space that you could let us use, please volunteer.

Hucksters' Room

The Hucksters' Room will be in a separate, nearby exhibit hall in the Hynes Convention Center. We intend to set aside a special section of this (maybe in a separate room) for small-scale used books sales. This will have tables which can be rented for only part of the convention. (This is meant more for book collectors who want to sell some of their duplicates than it is for professional book dealers.) Please write to us if you would be interested in tables on this special basis.

We are also considering having a discounted rate for dealers who provide their own setups (which we would need to approve in advance) and who do not need us to provide actual physical tables for them. Please write to us if you would be interested in renting space on this basis.

There will be some restrictions on the material sold in the Hucksters' Room. While these have not been finalized, we certainly will not permit the sale of any items which cannot legally be purchased, used, or carried in Massachusetts. This includes weapons.

We are not yet ready to set rates or to start accepting reservations for any hucksters' tables or spaces. We have been maintaining a list of all inquiries and we will continue to do so. We will send out a mailing including rate information to this list in late spring or early summer 1988. To make sure that you receive this mailing, please write to us and ask us to put your name and address on this list.

Volunteers

Doing all of this is going to require a lot of work from a lot of people. We think that working on this sort of thing is a lot of fun, but then we are all crazy. If you think that you may be crazy, too, or if making any of this happen tickles your fancy, then please write to us and tell us that you are willing to help

Contests

Two contests were mentioned earlier. The first is a "Name That Division" contest. The second is a "Name That Mixing Area" contest. We'd like to find names that are creative, perhaps science-fictional, and that clearly describe the functions of the Division and the Mixing Area. Please send entries to "The Nameless Ones" at the Noreascon Three address. The co-division heads are the judges; they are the only ones not eligible. The prize is the same for each contest; we will endow a chair in the winner's name in the mixing area. (Who knows? Having your name on it may give you some sort of squatter's rights to it.) All entries become the property of Massachusetts Convention Fandom, Inc.

Washington D.C. welcomes your support for our bid to host the 50th World Science Fiction Convention. DISCON III has the essentials to put on a great Worldcon: facilities, experienced leadership, and location.

First, our facilities are superb. Preliminary agreements with the Sheraton Washington, Omni Shoreham, and the Washington Hilton give us 3000 sleeping rooms, 370 suites, over 100 meeting rooms, 95,000 square feet of exhibit space, and a massive ballroom that can offer 4200 people and unobstructed view of the stage. DISCON III will give you plenty of room to enjoy all the con events.

In addition to top-notch facilities, DISCON III offers experienced convention leadership. We entertained the science fiction community at Worldcons in 1963 and 1974, and have run Disclaves annually for decades. Our committee is a large stable, organized group of local fans and pros who have worked on conventions of all sizes - locals, regionals Worldcons - at all levels of responsibility and in all departments. These people have the experience to offer you the best Worldcon ever.

Finally, our location can't be beat. Washington D.C. is one of the world's great cities, full of broad streets, spacious parks, and a huge array of monuments, museums, and historical sites - all easily accessible by public transportation. A ten minute subway ride from your hotel will take you to the Lincoln Memorial or the Washington Monument, to the Vietnam War Memorial or the U. S. Capitol, to the Library of Congress or to the National Air and Space Museum. Another must-see is the National Zoo, home of the giant pandas: it's just across the street from the Sheraton Washington Hotel!

All of Washington is connected to your hotel by a fast, reliable subway system, as well as an extensive bus system. D.C. is also served by Amtrak, Greyhound and three airports: Baltimore-Washington International, Dulles International and National.

We know you'll agree that Washington offers you the best location, the best facilities, and the best leadership for an enjoyable 50th Worldcon. For additional information write to us at:

We thank you for your support!

Facilities Division

function allocations to be tentative. We do have a straw-man plan, described below, that calls for the main film program to be in the Sheraton-Boston and all of the other large program items and areas, including registration, to be in the Hynes.

On the Plaza Level of the Hynes (see figure) we plan to put the Hucksters' Room in Hall B and to have registration in the designated area. On the Second Level, we plan to use the Auditorium for the big events, including the Hugo Award ceremonies, Guest of Honor events, Masquerade, opening and closing ceremonies, and any block-buster film presentations. Hall D, which is double height, is the planned location for the Art Show and major exhibits. Hall C, which is the most centrally located of all our areas, is planned to be a combination mixing area and con suite, the heart of the convention (see "Name That Division!" write-up). The Third Level includes the Auditorium balcony and has the Hynes Ballroom, which is planned for the largest program items outside of the Auditorium, and any large catered events. In the Sheraton-Boston, the Grand Ballroom is the planned location of the main film program.

Hotel Rooms and Reservations

In addition to our 1,000 rooms at the Sheraton-Boston, we have secured large room blocks at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel and Towers, the Back Bay Hilton, the Lafayette Swissôtel, and a number of others. With commitments for over 3,000 rooms in the vicinity of the Hynes, we are confident there will be no shortage.

We expect to be negotiating special convention room rates, for which only members will be eligible. We plan to have a reservation form and full information on all of the participating hotels in Progress Report 5, to be published in January 1989. Because of the number of hotels involved, we will process reservations centrally and allocate them to hotels. We hope to make it possible for affinity groups that so request to be blocked in the same hotel. In any case, we guarantee that a prompt acknowledgment will be sent to you as soon as we get your reservation form.

Please do not try to reserve directly with any of the hotels at this time.

Parties

A key question on our room reservation form will be whether you anticipate running a party in your room open to Noreascon Three members. There will be a strict separation of open party areas and quiet areas. A variety of suites and party rooms will also be available for those interested in running an open party that either is too large for their room or would not be allowed in their room (because they want a quiet-area room).

Other Facilities Areas

There are several other areas that the Facilities Division is responsible for. These include Technical Services (sound, lighting, construction, and electrical) and Facility Operations (coordination of contractors, professional and fan security, elevator management, etc.). We have also taken it as our special responsibility to be sure that enough ice is available.
