Greeting from the Renovation Chair

Welcome to Renovation, the 69th World Science Fiction Convention! If we have done this right, you will have too many great things happening to see and experience all you want to. All of us have been planning the best things we can to make it the best Worldcon we can.

Try something new. Hear a new-to-you author speak. Talk to somebody new while waiting for an event to begin. It is the Worldcon and the whole world is new again for these five days, and that's as it should be for those of us who look to the future.

Patty Wells,
Renovation Chair

Convention Overview

To help the Renovation run smoothly:

- Wear your Renovation badge at all times in the convention areas of the RSCC, the Atlantis, and the Peppermill.
- During program items, do not block the aisles or the doors. If you arrive late to an item, enter quietly.
- Read and obey signs. In most cases a “Reserved” sign means a chair or table may not be for you (but if you keep looking, you’ll probably find one).
- Save your questions and comments in a program item for near the end of the item when most moderators will invite Q&A.
- When a program item ends, do not rush the head table to ask for autographs or engage the panelists in private conversation. In order for items to start on time, the previous item must end on time.
- Be polite about recording items, and pay attention to “No Photography” signs. Non-disruptive photography is generally fine unless someone objects.
- Because our WiFi has limited bandwidth, avoid live webcasting, and ask for permission before recording anything.
- A few items are explicitly marked “Recording/photography not permitted.” Extra staff will be patrolling those items and if you are seen to be recording/photographing at these items, you will be escorted out of the room and your recording device might be confiscated.

Convention Information

Food in the Convention Center

The RSCC has very strict rules against bringing in outside food. They have granted a small exemption for treats on club and fan tables but that is the only exception.

Plenty of carts/food booths will be open while the con is open, in addition to vending machines available throughout the building. There are nearby restaurants in the Atlantis and up and down South Virginia Street. So please, if you have to have pizza from a pizza place outside the convention center, eat it there or in your hotel room but not in the convention center. Thanks for your cooperation.

Clean up after yourself—there are trash cans near every food sales area. Even if your mother is here, she shouldn’t have to clean up after you either!

You cannot bring alcohol into the RSCC but if you buy a drink at the Drawing of the Dark bar in Hall 2, you can bring it to another room in the RSCC.

Yes, You Do Need Your (Non-)Stinkin' Badges!

It costs an incredible amount of money to run a Worldcon, so we take the issue of badges very seriously. You'll see badge-checkers at the entrance to many functions at the con. You will need your badge to get into functions at the convention. Don't leave it in your room, don't hide it under your costume, wear it! Your badge is not just an identifier, it's a way to say "I Support Worldcon." Without your membership fee, and the volunteering of hundreds of fans and pros, Worldcon wouldn't be here.

So, please, keep your badge visible whenever you're in the RSCC, in the Atlantis, or in the Peppermill. Thank you.

Lost Badges

Check at Registration to see if your badge has been turned in. If it hasn't, Renovation will charge you a nominal fee to replace it.

Lost and Found

During the day (between 9am and 6pm), bring lost items to or ask about missing items at the Convention Office in room A20 in the RSCC.

At night (between 6pm and 9am), bring lost items to or ask about missing items at Convention Operations in room Treasures D at the Atlantis (near the Con Suite).

Mailing Services

UPS will have a booth in the Registration Lobby on Saturday and Sunday, hours to be announced at the con.

Shuttle Between the RSCC and the Peppermill

Times & Frequency

The shuttle service will run continuously each day from 8am to 3am except for Sunday, when the service will only run to 10pm. The number of shuttles will vary depending upon the expected demand, with a single shuttle expected to complete one circuit in 15–20 minutes, depending upon traffic and passenger numbers.

Pickup Locations

The service will run on a continuous loop between two of four shuttle stops depending upon the time of day.

- At the RSCC/Atlantis end, the shuttle will stop outside of the RSCC Registration Lobby/Main Entrance on the driveway. After 9pm, this shuttle stop will move to the Atlantis, to a door at the back of the casino and under the Skybridge. (There are escalators immediately inside to the 2nd floor. From the 2nd floor, you can take elevators to all of the sleeping room floors of the Atlantis.)
- At the Peppermill end, the shuttle will stop at the Tuscany Ballroom side entrance accessed through the east vestibule of the Tuscany foyer. After 11pm, the shuttle stop will move to the valet parking point accessed through the main hotel lobby.

Smoking

The RSCC is a completely smoke-free facility. Smoking is not allowed in hotel function rooms or anywhere in the Tuscany complex of the Peppermill.

Smoking is allowed in the casino areas and in certain hotel restaurants, but some of the casino areas do provide non-smoking areas. The hotels have both smoking and non-smoking floors and/or wings.

Weapons Policy

No real or realistic weapons may be carried anywhere within the convention except during the Masquerade or specifically approved events.

Renovation defines a weapon as any object designed to cause damage, or any replica of such an object, or any object that the Committee determines to pose a risk to the safety of others or to personal or hotel property. The Committee reserves the right to alter or amend this definition and the right to require the immediate removal of any weapon from a public area. Failure to immediately put a weapon away in your hotel room or vehicle on request is grounds for immediate revocation of membership without refund and expulsion from the convention.

The use of a weapon during the Masquerade or a programming event must be approved by the Masquerade Directors or the Programming Division Heads, respectively. Other than these previously approved instances, no weapon of any kind may be drawn or wielded in any area of any hotel or convention space. Dealers who sell weapons must securely wrap each item at the point of sale and provide each customer with a printed copy of this policy.

At Renovation, we know that most people who would like to carry weapons are sensible and careful individuals. However, we must keep in mind liability, legal issues, and our relationship with the hotels and the convention center. Member safety is our first consideration and it is with this in mind that this policy has been established.

Note: In addition to complying with Renovation policy, all members must, without exception, abide by all relevant legal requirements and by the requirements of the convention center and host hotels. Please note in particular that casino resorts have strong requirements in place to protect their security and that these will be enforced (for instance, full-face coverings are not allowed anywhere on a casino floor).

WiFi

The favorite two syllables of fans these days!

Availability:

- Hall 2 of the RSCC
- Atlantis—for Atlantis guests
- Peppermill—for Peppermill guests

The convention should have enough bandwidth in Hall 2 for email, social media, photo uploads, and so on. Please avoid streaming music or video; remember, you're sharing the WiFi with every other Renovation user in Hall 2.

Program

While the Renovation Program does not have tracks, a number of themes recur, including:

- Frontiers of science
- Steampunk in its many guises
- Real and alternate history
- Art, including costuming, gaming, and many more kinds of art items than you've ever seen at a Worldcon
- Nevada and how locals have seen it, including items on nuclear testing, films made in Nevada, the Sierra Nevada Mountains, and what else to do when you're not at the con
- Future of publishing
- Worldbuilding in a series of "Designing Believable..." panels
- Understanding the languages on Earth and creating new ones, including Dothraki

Program items go way beyond talking heads and will offer you five days of discussions to engage you and, we hope, leave you with things to think about long after the con is over.

Most panels are 50 minutes long, starting promptly on the hour and ending 10 minutes before the next hour. Most readings are 20 minutes long, starting promptly on the hour or half-hour.

Academic Program

Renovation's Academic Program is an interdisciplinary mini-conference within the convention, offering members an opportunity to sample new and current research on science fiction and other topics. In keeping with the Renovation theme of "New Frontiers," the Academic Program adopted the general theme of "Speculative Frontiers: Reading, Seeing, Being, Going," calling for papers reflecting on real and imagined frontiers whether physical, social, or technological.

Speculative Frontiers runs Thursday through Saturday. It spotlights scholarly work on topics as diverse as the representation of human values in media zombies and the psychological issues involved in travel in deep space.

Art Night

Art Night will run on Thursday night beginning at 6pm. It's a festival of the visual arts in science fiction and fantasy. Workshops, demos, games, talks and panels, films, and other visual arts will fill the convention center. Artists will be on hand in the Art Show and at Art Night events to meet fans and fellow artists. The activities kick off with the Chesley Awards Ceremony and goes on into the night!

Art Night demos will take place at designated locations in Hall 2 as well as in the Registration Lobby in the Kaffeeklatsch area. Pick up an Art Night map at the con for more information.

Autographing

Guidelines to help autographing at Renovation run smoothly:

- You are limited to asking an author to sign no more than three books per pass through the line. In certain cases, the Autographing staff might have to lower the number of books per pass.
- Once you've had three books signed, you may be able to go to the end of the line if the author has the time to handle repeat requests from the same person.
- Authors have a maximum of 50 minutes for their signings and must leave promptly at the end of their session to make way for the next set of authors.
- If you have a complex dedication, use the Post-It notes provided to write the dedication and present to the author with your book.
- Please be courteous if there is a line—give other fans a chance to get their books autographed.
- In order to avoid having people wait in line when the line reaches too many people for the author to sign for everyone, the staff may need to close the line before the session is over.

Awards

Worldcon is home to a variety of awards ceremonies:

- Sidewise Awards for Best Alternate History Fiction: Wednesday, 9pm, RSCC A4
- Chesley Awards for Excellence in Art: Thursday, 6pm, Atlantis Grand Ballroom 4
- Libertarian Futurist Society Prometheus Awards: Friday, 1pm, RSCC D5
- Golden Duck Awards for Children's and YA Science Fiction: Friday, 2pm, RSCC E1
- Seiun Awards for Japanese Science Fiction, Friday, 5pm, RSCC A4
- Hugo Awards for Excellence in Science Fiction, Saturday, 8pm, Peppermill Tuscany Ballroom
- First Fandom Awards, Sunday, 11am, RSCC C1

Crafting at Renovation

Because fans have been getting more interested in crafting, we've reserved several spots for crafters during the con:

- RSCC: There are two "Reserved for Crafters" tables: one in the Discussion Group area in the Registration Lobby and the other at the back of room A12. (Some costuming and art demos might be taking place at the front of the room.)
- Peppermill: A "Reserved for Crafters" table is in the Discussion Group area in Naples 5, available between 4pm and 8am.

Quilt Workspace

In addition to general crafters areas, there will be a Quilt Workspace adjacent to the Fan Lounge in Hall 2 of the RSCC where you will be able to create your own quilted postcard, which you can mail if you follow a few simple rules. Also, stop by if you'd like to contribute to a quilt created by fans, or just sign a quilt for a good cause. A sewing machine and some materials will be provided.

Docent Tours

At a science fiction convention, the Art Show is a kind of combined museum and sales gallery. Some items are for display only and are not for sale. You can come to buy, or to look, or both! Tours of the Art Show are sometimes called "docent" tours, a word used by museums for a guide or tour leader who's good at pointing out things worth looking at. We have an eclectic group of various tour leaders, fans and pros, men and women, graphic artists, writers, critics. (Docents like to take each other's tours, too!) There are lots of interesting perspectives in our community, and talking about art is itself an art.

Fan Lounge

The Fan Lounge is a hang-out place for any fan looking for respite from the rest of the con, the kind of place where you can sit back and read one of many fine fanzines from the last seven decades, meet other folks who are interested in fanzines, fan art, fan writing, and fan repair, or maybe come up with a doodle or a drawing or a little article for one of the zines that will be produced over the weekend. The Fan Lounge will shift to an Atlantis party suite on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights beginning at 9pm—check the newsletter for the location.

Filk

In keeping with the "New Frontiers" theme of Renovation, the filk program will celebrate the diversity of filk and fandom. There will be excellent performances, of course, and people singing together. There will also be workshops and panels so you can learn from working musicians and sound engineers how to write lyrics and music, perform, record, and maybe even make a living doing what you love.

Evening song circles will be in the Naples Complex in the Peppermill, but there will be music throughout the day in the convention center and filk jams in the convention center on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Gaming

The Gaming area will have a great selection of board games on loan from the GameStorm game library. It is located in Hall 2 of the RSCC during the day. Whether you're looking for something fun to fill a half-hour or want to dive into a four-hour intensive strategy session, we have something for you! Our knowledgeable staff is available to help you pick out a game, and can teach the rules to many of the games if you want to learn something new.

If there is a particular game you want to play at night gaming (in Peppermill Naples 1 & 2 from 10pm Wednesday and Thursday, 6pm Friday and Saturday), please let us know during the day. We'll be taking part of the library over each night, and can be sure to include specific games that have been requested.

On Friday evening, there will be a Dominion Tournament. Dominion is a great, easy to learn, deck-building card game. If there is sufficient interest, separate competitions will be held for beginners and advanced players. Come by gaming any time before 5pm on Friday to sign up. (We will be happy to teach the game to anyone who would like to participate in the beginners' bracket.) The beginning winner will get a copy of the base game; the advanced winner will receive a copy of the new Cornucopia expansion. Tournament play will begin at 7:00pm.

Kaffeeklatsches and Literary Beers

Kaffeeklatsches and Literary Beers are small group discussions with authors, artists, and other interesting personalities (referred to as "hosts").

- Kaffeeklatsches will take place in the Registration Hall near the Information Desk
- Literary Beers will be held in the Drawing of the Dark Bar in Hall 2

Individual host sessions are strictly limited to the host and nine attendees. Many hosts will be quite popular, so you must sign up in advance. Sign-up sheets will be available at the Information Desk in the Registration Hall in half-day increments. (So, for example, you can sign up for a Thursday afternoon kaffeeklatsch on Thursday morning, or for a Friday morning kaffeeklatsch on Thursday afternoon.)

Each person in line may sign up for only one kaffeeklatsch per session, and only one person per kaffeeklatsch (although you may sign up for someone else rather than yourself). Provide the badge name and number. Three reserve places will be available in case an attendee cancels a booking or does not turn up.

Attendees who have not turned up by the start of the session will have their place assigned to a reserve. In order to be fair to those on reserve lists, private substitutions are not allowed—the person on the list must be the person who attends and you cannot trade your place. You may join a session as it starts if there are free slots available and no reserves, but for more popular hosts, this scenario is very unlikely.

Note that these sessions are 50 minutes long. Please help the next session start on time and do not delay the hosts at the end of the item.

Kaffeeklatsch and Literary Beer sessions are listed in the program. Any alterations will be announced in the newsletter.

Note: Please bring your own beverage with you. Only the host will be provided with a beverage.

Music Night

We'll be starting the convention on Wednesday with the crash of cymbals, the beat of a drum, the blare of a horn, the strum of strings, the chords of a keyboard, and the crescendo of voices. All this and more means Music Night in Reno!

Music has been part of fandom since the beginning. As it is one of the major themes of Renovation, you will hear music wafting throughout the convention center, in the Exhibit Hall, the hallways, and the program rooms. The music starts with Opening Ceremonies, which will have some musical surprises, followed by Dr. Demento. Then, be prepared for an evening of non-stop excitement while you can explore as many types of music as will fit in the Reno-Sparks Convention Center. After dinner, hear the exciting stylings of our Musical Special Guests, Tricky Pixie, and enjoy the showing of Godson, a live musical play based on work by Roger Zelazny. Elsewhere in the convention center, late afternoon filk concerts will be followed by program items centered on music in science fiction, fantasy, and fandom. Come join the Music Night Filk Jam to wrap up your evening.

Publishers Presentations

Major publishers in our field give you a taste of the writers and fiction they will be releasing in the upcoming months.

Puppet Show

Other Hand Productions, a professional puppeteering crew consisting of Mary Robinette Kowal, Jodi Eichelberger, and Lance Woolen, will present shows on Friday, at 4pm and 7pm in C1. Due to the way that the puppeteers use the hall, audience members cannot stand or sit in the aisles. Doors to the hall will open 30 minutes before each show. If the audience completely fills the seats for the 4pm show, people interested in attending the second show will be given tickets for the 7pm show until the tickets run out. Note that the show is not recommended for children under the age of 10.

Special Interest and Discussion Groups

Special Interest Groups are items organized by groups and individuals other than the Program committee. Some of the larger SIGs are in Program rooms, and others will be held in the Discussion Group area of the Registration Lobby in the RSCC. SIGs that were scheduled early enough are included in the general convention schedule.

Want to find other people who love dachshunds or want to write Strunk/White slash fiction? Set up a discussion group by reserving a table in the RSCC Registration Lobby for an hour during the day, or in Naples 5 in the Peppermill between 4pm and 8am. Sign-up for these spaces will be at Information.

Stroll with the Stars

Stroll with the Stars is a gentle walk each morning from Thursday–Sunday beginning at 9am. A number of Authors, Artists, Editors and even some GOHs will be participating during each walk (see the daily schedule for details). The Stroll will meet at the Walgreens parking lot (3495 S. Virginia), which is in between the Atlantis and the Peppermill (closer to the Atlantis). No sign-up is required—just arrive by 9am. The Stroll will end at the RSCC before 10am.

TeachingSF

TeachingSF is a workshop aimed at teachers, parents, and librarians who want to use science fiction to help engage young people in science, fiction, history, and other areas. Workshop speakers will include Guest of Honor Tim Powers, Peadar O'Guilin, Mary Robinette Kowal, Daniel M. Kimmel, Gary K. Wolfe, L. E. Modesitt, Jr. and G. David Nordley. The workshop is a collaborative effort, organized and presented by Reading for the Future, Inc., from a proposal by AboutSF at the University of Kansas. The workshop will be held in the RSCC in room A18, running from 9am to 6pm on Wednesday. Renovation members with full attending memberships can attend the TeachingSF workshop at no cost if space is available.

Teen Lounge

The Teen Lounge will be available all weekend for teenage fans to congregate, chill out, catch up, relax, laugh, and chat, and where some teen programming will occur. The lounge will be in the RSCC during the day, moving to the Atlantis hotel in the evening. Stop by to make new friends, hang out with old ones, play a game, or have a good conversation!

World Science Fiction Society (WSFS) Business Meetings

Have you ever wondered why the Hugo Awards have the categories they do? Have you thought there should be different categories, or that some of those that are there should be changed? Have you wondered how Worldcon sites are selected, or about any of the other rules of the World Science Fiction Society? Have you ever thought that “somebody ought to do something about changing the rules”? Well, if you’re reading this, you’re probably a member of Renovation, and that means that you are “somebody.” That’s right, you get to help make the rules. There’s no Board of Directors, no House of Representatives, no Congress of Deputies. Every member of Worldcon can participate in the rule-making process, like a big “town meeting.”

The World Science Fiction Society (WSFS) consists of every member of the current Worldcon. WSFS rules, published in the Souvenir Book, consist of a Constitution containing the rules for the Hugo Awards and for the selection of future Worldcons, as well as Standing Rules for the conduct of the Business Meeting. The Business Meeting is held on the second, third, and fourth mornings of the Worldcon (rarely, a meeting on the fifth day is required). Every member of WSFS can attend the meeting, propose changes, debate those changes, and vote on them. For Renovation, the business meetings will be held Thursday through Sunday from 10am to 1pm.

Changes to the WSFS Constitution, including any changes to the rules for the Hugo Awards, must be approved by votes at two consecutive Worldcons. In addition, there may be new proposals introduced this year. This meeting may defeat and amend new proposals. Meetings are conducted under relatively formal structure, codified in Robert’s Rules of Order, Newly Revised and the WSFS Standing Rules. The deadline for submitting new proposals to the Business Meeting is two hours after the start of the convention’s Opening Ceremonies. To submit new business, bring 200 copies to the Convention Office and ask that they be given to the Business Meeting Secretary. Also, check the newsletter for any updates about the Business Meeting throughout the convention.

Writers Workshops

Writers Workshops take place in the Naples area of the Pepermill. Note that all sessions are now filled.

Kids' Stuff

Our Childcare and Kids' Program/Activities (AKA Dragongirls, Cowboys and Pirates) are close to each other, down the hall from the Registration Lobby in D9, D10, and E1-3. The Kids' Stuff area is also close to the Cartoon Room in D8.

Childcare

KiddieCorp will be offering a professional childcare service to all children aged 12 or under as of the start of the convention. This service will be located in the Reno-Sparks Convention Center. The service costs $12/hour for bookings made at the convention. Children with full ($75) child memberships receive their first 8 hours of childcare free of charge, subject to availability.

Please note that your children must be registered with the convention (whether with Child memberships or as Kids-in-Tow) before they can be booked into the KiddieCorp service.

The childcare service will be available from 9:30am-6pm daily. We have included an evening service on Friday and Saturday to enable parents to attend the Masquerade and/or Hugo Award ceremony.

Under Nevada regulations, children can only receive a maximum of 10 hours childcare on any single day.

Childcare capacity is limited and we urge parents to book all childcare hours in advance where possible, so we can ensure adequate staffing and service. Places will be allocated on a first come, first served basis. Full details of the service arrangements and how to book are available on a specific Renovation page which KiddieCorp have provided for us on their website (<https://www.kiddiecorp.com/renovationkids.htm>). Parents can make bookings online. All booking and payment arrangements are made directly between parents and Kiddiecorp.

Kids' Program (AKA Dragongirls, Cowboys and Pirates)

Dragongirls, Cowboys and Pirates is for 6-12 year olds. It is a sign-in facility, for children who are Renovation members, for a maximum of four hours at a time. Parents will be asked to volunteer some time to help in the program. Children with special needs will need their parents to stay with them. Older children will be allowed, with parental consent, to come and go as they please. All children need a contact details label on the back of their badge. Access to the children's program rooms (E1,E2,E3) is controlled. Loitering is not allowed. The organizers have the discretion to tell anyone to leave.

Adults are welcome at talks, but must not impede upon the enjoyment of children and should understand that the target audience is children. Adults should sit at the back. Teenagers are welcome at all children's items, as they see fit.

Activities cease at 5:50pm. Children must be collected by 6pm sharp. There is a "three strikes and you're out" policy in place for any misbehavior or unruliness.

Dragongirls, Cowboys and Pirates is designed to be both interactive and fun, but needs your cooperation. More details and information will be available at Kids' Program, in the E rooms of the RSCC. Note the early Sunday closing time, 2:45pm, so your kids can join you for Closing Ceremonies.

Are You as Smart as a Rat?
 One small idea could potentially prompt one large step for mankind. For example, wars end but buried land mines become the surprise gifts that keep on giving. Angola alone has six million hidden, unexploded ordnance. It costs $3 to plant a land mine and $300-$1,000 to get rid of it. Rats have been trained to sniff out land mines but additional low-tech detection solutions are needed. Put on your current and futuristic thinking caps please.

"The Bird's Eye View"—the Art Collection of Kenneth A Moore as a Vision of Science Fiction
 For decades, Ken "The Bird" Moore was a fixture in SF fandom, working on Worldcon bids and convention parties, and running KublaKhan in Nashville for 25 years. But he was equally known for his passionate love of classic SF artwork, and for his nearly legendary art collection, amassed over 40 years and never viewed in its entirety. The "Bird's Eye View" Special Art Exhibit presents over 80 of the finest pieces from the Moore Collection, many on display for the first time. Naomi Fisher, the Collection's curator, will discuss this retrospective exhibit and its many highlights, with anecdotes about Ken, and lessons learned from her executorship of the estate. She will also announce an Exhibition-related contest, open only to members of Renovation, which will run till Saturday night.

Form and Content: Using Music in Science Fiction and Fantasy

How is music used in SF&F? Can musical techniques be applied to fiction? Music might be key to the plot or to a character's role in the story's world. Could a story be structured as a sonata or a capriccio? Can you achieve effects comparable with opera and musical theater—the interaction of words and music in the story instead of in the theater?

SF and Musical Performance

It is a commonplace that we are living in a science fiction future. Written, video and movie SF is ubiquitous. What about the genre in music? Opera has dipped its toe into the waters over the past several decades, but performances of SF opera remain rare. It is even harder to think of examples in musical theater. What are the possibilities in less formally theatrical forms of music, both popular and classical?

When Faith and Science Meet
 Many SF tales, from Arthur C. Clarke’s “The Star” to Walter Miller’s A Canticle for Leibowitz to Mary Doria Russell’s The Sparrow, deal with the intersection of unexpected discoveries on the faith of the characters. Cultural discourse often presents religious faith and science as polar opposites, and certainly there’s a long history of conflict between them. But many people of many faiths have happily and successfully reconciled their beliefs with a scientific worldview, and SF/F is no stranger to spirituality, either. Both Joanna Russ and David Hartwell have described SF/F as essentially religious. This panel will present a civil conversation—between people who respect both faith and science—about how the two inform each other, both in SF/F and in the rest of the world.

The Wonderful Flight to the Mushroom Planet by Eleanor Cameron
 Discuss The Wonderful Flight to the Mushroom Planet. The New York Times said "scientific facts are emphasized in this well-built story." Applauded by Ellen Datlow and Walter Moseley and found on dozens of children's-book lists, it has strangeness and charm. Cameron, who knew her craft, used to point out that Dylan Thomas' father read him Shakespeare at the age of four.

Dr. Demento Plays the History of Humorous Science Fiction Music
 Banned from Argo (by Leslie Fish) is often considered the song that launched filk—Dr. Demento takes takes you on a tour of recorded SF-related filk. Performing for over 40 years and inducted into the National Radio Hall of Fame, Dr. Demento is known for both his top hat and his vast collection of madcap music. The Doctor has successfully treated millions for Musical Comedy Deficiency Disease* and will be holding office hours at Renovation both during the Opening Ceremonies and during the con. Should you feel a touch of MCDD*, do stop by because the Doctor is IN (Reno)! (*Not a real disease.)

The Moral Aesthetics of Steampunk
 Steampunk is frequently realized as an idealized, shiny version of the Victorian era, with quite a few of the nasty bits missing or obscured. The real Victorian age was a mix of great wealth and progress with poverty, work-houses, and more. What does it say about us when the latter are left out?

The Amish Approach to Changing Technology: The Error of Presumed Neutrality of Technology
 The Amish do use technology, but they reject the idea that technologies are value-free tools, and they acknowledge that they can change social order, so all technology must be evaluated before being allowed into the community. Would we be wise to adopt this cautious approach?

Science Fiction, Gender, and Social Change
 The workings of any society are a confluence of many different forces and movements. As society changes, its literature and arts (including SF) reflects, anticipates, and perhaps influences the direction and scope of change. How has SF influenced and reflected the changes in gender and gender roles over the past quarter century? As we look back to the work of writers such as Ursula LeGuin and Joanna Russ in the sixties and seventies, what can we say about their impact and that of their heirs today?

Miles Above: A Short Film about the Columbia

On February 1, 2003, the space shuttle Columbia crashed from the sky. Thousands of people watched as debris scattered from California to western Louisiana. Hundreds caught the event on videotape. Rarely has a tragic moment of such importance been documented from so many different points of view, in real time and largely by amateurs. Miles Above stitches these pieces together, using first-hand video to present Columbia's final moments, from its reentry into the atmosphere to its destruction minutes before landing. The film takes us from witnesses' back yards to the NASA control room and aboard the shuttle itself, where video shot by the astronauts survived the crash. The film asks the simple questions: why do we explore, and what do we hope to find, all the while preserving the earthbound sense of wonder of those of us who must ponder from the ground. At a time when the idea of manned space exploration is in question, Miles Above warns us what could be lost if we stop searching our frontiers.

Summit Arcane: LARP Inspired by Jim Butcher's Dresden Files
 New Orleans, 1928. The storm is building. As the mortal inhabitants of the Big Easy struggle with Prohibition, the supernatural denizens of the region have their own troubles. The rise of new powers and the shifting fortunes of the established players have led to upheaval in the magical community. Many of the local factions have become enmeshed in a bloody web of shifting alliances and temporary cease-fires. Now, Queen Mab has issued an ultimatum: work out a truce, or face her wrath. Tonight, on the eve of Mardi Gras, a score of the supernatural community's most trusted (read: expendable) diplomats are set to sign a treaty. Can you bring peace to the Paris of the South? Or will the blood of New Orleans turn the Gulf waters red? This game will feature 20 pre-generated characters. No LARP experience or knowledge of the source material is required, though each tends to enhance player enjoyment. All necessary information and equipment will be provided and costuming is strongly encouraged. Preregistration is recommended, as characters will be cast in order of sign-up. Wait-listed players that are familiar with the source material and able to costume their character may receive priority.

The Solar System and SF: Setting SF on the Planets We Know
 In early SF, the planets of the solar system were simply exotic locales for adventure. The next generation of SF writers—Heinlein, Clarke, and others—tried for more realism, but their solar systems were very different from the one we know today. What are good examples, and how do the new limitations on what writers can do and still be realistic make for good SF.

Anticipatory Anthropology: Study of Future Humans
 Margaret Mead said "Anthropology has to date made very meager contributions to man's developing concern with the future" ("Contribution" 3). Two decades later, the American Anthropological Association began awarding an annual prize for "Anticipatory Anthropology" in order to ameliorate this shortcoming, what Robert Textor (who sponsored the award and for whom it is named) called the discipline's "tempocentrism" - i.e., its concern only "with the past, the ethnographic present, and the actual present".

Laser Launch Systems
 What comes after the Shuttle? Chemical rockets may have reached their limits, but there are other ways to get to space. In laser launch, small single-stage rockets, powered from the ground by an array of high-power lasers, can go directly from the ground to low Earth orbit—and proving the technology takes millions, not billions, of dollars. Beamed energy propulsion is heating up (as it were) with serious NASA interest for the first time in many years. Come hear how it works, and how it might be built.

Fire and Hemlock by Diana Wynne Jones
 Discuss Fire and Hemlock by Diana Wynne Jones. Based loosely on the tales Tam Lin and Thomas the Rhymer, with Elliot's Four Quarters, Frazer's The Golden Bough and a wide range of children's books thrown in, Fire and Hemlock was Jones's most successful attempt to "write a book in which modern life and heroic mythical events approached one another so closely that they were nearly impossible to separate." Polly meets Tom when she is a child, but as a teenager is surprised to discover that she seems to have forgotten his significance.

Applied Quantum Mechanics: The Ultimate Mind Trip
 Quantum mechanics has always been a mind trip. Particles altering their behavior based on what other particles will do. Particles that are in multiple places at once or that can suddenly tunnel through a barrier and appear elsewhere. But the trip can get even stranger as we apply this knowledge. Quantum mechanics is no longer just about the subatomic universe.

Regency Ball
 The English Regency is, technically, 1811–1820 but our dances range from 1790 into the 1820's and some are modern creations and reconstructions. These are the dances of Jane Austen's time and, perhaps because of their elegance and scientific symmetry, have a long history of popularity at science fiction conventions. Regency costume is admired but not required. Indeed, part of the fun of Regency dancing at Science Fiction conventions is seeing Fitzwilliam Darcy dancing with Commander Ivanova and Han Solo dancing with Elizabeth Bennett!

The Craft of Writing Short Science Fiction and Fantasy
 A SF or fantasy short story can be a sparkling jewel, making a long-lasting impact on the reader. The story may be serious or comic, a pleasure to read or a tale that won't let you stop reading until it is done with you. How does the writer craft effective short fiction? What techniques help the writer achieve success? We go beyond the "good idea" and discuss the craft of writing.

The Importance of Continuity
 In long running series—whether TV, written series, or comic series—how important is continuity? Does getting all the details right matter, or does it hinder creativity and paint the author into a corner? Are there some bits that you can't worry about? Does it matter if it's your own series vs. writing in a shared universe?

Appreciating Nature in Fiction and Non-fiction
 Science fiction can often treat nature, even an intriguing alien environment, in a very sterile manner. By contrast, both fantasy and nature writing often celebrate nature and make the reader want to run outside and explore. How can writers use the language of nature writing to help bring alien countrysides to life? What are some of the good and bad examples of writing about the great outdoors in science fiction, fantasy and nature narratives?

From the Earth to the Moon by Jules Verne
 Discuss From the Earth to the Moon. We did go to the moon, a century later; we did leave from Cape Canaveral, with a crew of three; the Apollo XI command module was the Columbia, and the command-service module was the size and shape of Verne's projectile. But never mind; science fiction is not in the prediction business. What a storyteller Verne was!

Steampunk versus Alternate History

Science Fiction never blinks at incorporating events and icons of history...but when it comes to Steampunk, an argument is bubbling in boilers about what makes something "Steampunk" and what makes a work "Alternative History." What sets the two apart? Why can't Steampunk be considered part of the Alternative History genre? Why are authors hesitant to combine history with their fantasy? Where is the line (if any) between "Steampunk" and "Alternative History"? Authors discuss challenges, spirited debates, and fun in dancing between genres.

Concert: Throwing Toasters

Throwing Toasters has played The Tokyo Dome in Japan, had several chart topping songs on The Dr. Demento Show and opened for "Weird Al" Yankovic. They also have many members in the band but for some reason the only one who got back to us was the guitar player; Grant swears the rest of the band just never checks their email! As a result, he'll bring his brand of (mostly) clean musical comedy to Renovation—singing songs heard on the Dr. Demento Show about everything from Global Warming to the legal side of Nursery Rhymes. Heckle him at your own risk!

Exploring Social Justice via Science Fiction
 How then does science fiction address social justice? How can writers convey ideas through characters and world-building without being preachy? Can authorial distance provide a single political interpretation? The reader's role in constructing the politics of the work will not be neglected in the discussion.

Nevada-based SF Films

As the home of Area 51, Nevada has become something of a staple in science fiction films. But the Silver state's claims to movie fame reach beyond that fabled region in Southern Nevada. The presence of tourist attractions like the Las Vegas strip and Hoover Dam, as well as the state's stunning and unusual desert landscapes, have earned it a place in movie history. Join Reno-based film critics Robin Holabird and Forrest Hartman for an exploration of SF films set in Nevada.

How Nanotechnology Makes Asteroid Resources Obsolete

Traditionally resource extraction is viewed as something highly energy intensive, but this is only because it's usually carried out with the application and extraction of enormous amounts of heat. Molecular separation is far less energy intensive and also can extract materials at far lower concentrations, as is shown by the capabilities of biological systems. In fact, resource extraction is just one case of a general technological problem, that of the separation of specific substances from a background of other substances: consider pollution control or purification. Molecular separation technologies will thus blur the distinction between a "pollutant" and a "resource."

What Happened to Stargate Universe?

Stargate Universe distanced itself in many ways from previous versions of the franchise. Why? Was this influenced by its creators' exposure to SF and SF fandom, and the resulting desire to do something more meaningful? Was it that it was the first post-Battlestar Galactica Stargate series, and that show's tone impacted SGU? Did this contribute to its cancellation?
